that demonstrates how to achieve it Grounded in recent advances in learning science McCallister asserts three necessary conditions for learning the need for learners to have access to diverse rich environmental experiences the need for them to enjoy fundamental freedom and autonomy to direct their own learning and access to full and free forms of association In her model these conditions provide what is necessary for learners to coordinate their minds with others to develop their identities personalities and talents These conditions are animated in concrete procedures that can be adapted to a wide variety of populations in formal informal and remote educational settings The procedures take the form of rules that learners comply with in the exercise of their freedom When they are followed the rules provide a grammar for the social norms that govern the moral worlds of learners and compel them to flourish Tested over two decades in her work as a teacher scholar and school reformer in more than 20 NYC public schools the McCallister Method has delivered an innovative and disruptive approach to schooling that has proven successful in finally transforming low performing industrial schools into 21st century learning organizations Online support material includes assessments records surveys and more to be used in school design and classroom settings

Searching the Heavens and the Earth Agustin UDIAS, 2013-04-17 Jesuits established a large number of astronomical geophysical and meteorological observatories during the 17th and 18th centuries and again during the 19th and 20th centuries throughout the world The history of these observatories has never been published in a complete form Many early

European astronomical observatories were established in Jesuit colleges During the 17th and 18th centuries Jesuits were the first western scientists to enter into contact with China and India It was through them that western astronomy was first introduced in these countries They made early astronomical observations in India and China and they directed for 150 years the Imperial Observatory of Beijing In the 19th and 20th centuries a new set of observatories were established Besides astronomy these now included meteorology and geophysics Jesuits established some of the earliest observatories in Africa South America and the Far East Jesuit observatories constitute an often forgotten chapter of the history of these sciences
