Biomolecular and Bioanalytical Techniques Vasudevan Ramesh, 2019-06-10 An essential guide to biomolecular and bioanalytical techniques and their applications Biomolecular and Bioanalytical Techniques offers an introduction to and a basic understanding of a wide range of biophysical techniques The text takes an interdisciplinary approach with contributions from a panel of distinguished experts With a focus on research the text comprehensively covers a broad selection of topics drawn from contemporary research in the fields of chemistry and biology Each of the internationally reputed authors has contributed a single chapter on a specific technique The chapters cover the specific technique s background theory principles technique methodology protocol and applications The text explores the use of a variety of analytical tools to characterise biological samples The contributors explain how to identify and quantify biochemically important molecules including small molecules as well as biological macromolecules such as enzymes antibodies proteins peptides and nucleic acids This book is filled with essential knowledge and explores the skills needed to carry out the research and development roles in academic and industrial laboratories A technique focused book that bridges the gap between an introductory text and a book on advanced research methods Provides the necessary background and skills needed to advance the research methods Features a structured approach within each chapter Demonstrates an interdisciplinary approach that serves to develop independent thinking Written for students in chemistry biological medical pharmaceutical forensic and biophysical sciences Biomolecular and Bioanalytical Techniques is an in depth review of the most current biomolecular and bioanalytical techniques in the field Bioactive Compounds from Marine-Derived Aspergillus, Penicillium, Talaromyces and Trichoderma Species Rosario Nicoletti, Francesco Vinale, 2019-05-27 Dear Colleagues The importance of bioactive natural compounds in pharmacology and other biotechnological fields has stimulated the scientific community to explore new environmental contexts and their associated microbial diversity As the largest frontier in biological discovery the sea represents a significant source of organisms producing novel secondary metabolites with interesting bioactivities Of the available biological material fungi have received increasing consideration both due to their pervasive occurrence in varying habitats as well as their aptitude to develop symbiotic associations with higher organisms in numerous contexts In many cases fungal strains have been reported as the real producers of drugs originally extracted from marine plants and animals Due to the constantly increasing number of marine derived fungi yielding valuable bioactive products it is now appropriate to present these findings to a recipient audience in a more organized form This Special Issue of Marine Drugs entitled Bioactive Compounds from Marine Derived Aspergillus Penicillium Talaromyces and Trichoderma Species is specifically focused on a few genera of ascomycetous fungi which are widespread regarding marine contexts and are particularly inclined to establishing symbiotic relationships For this project we welcome submissions of full research papers short notes and review articles reporting the discovery and characterization of products showing antibiotic

A dynamic interplay between membranes and the cytoskeleton critical for cell development and signaling Clément Thomas, Christopher J Staiger, 2014-10-23 Various cellular processes underlying plant development and response to environmental cues rely on a dynamic interplay between membranes and the cytoskeleton e g vesicle and organelle trafficking endocytosis exocytosis and signal transduction In recent years significant progress in the understanding of such interplay has been achieved and several critical links between membranes and the cytoskeleton have been characterized As an example recent work has clarified how auxin promotes the reorganization of cortical actin filaments by the activation of Rho GTPase pathways and how such reorganization in turn locally modifies endocytosis and or exocytosis and directs asymmetric distribution of PIN family of auxin transporters Another recent achievement is the characterization of the Rho and microtubule driven mechanism by which the cell wall architecture is established In particular the elegant work by Oda and Fukuda Science 337 p 1333 2012 provides evidence that secondary wall patterning in xylem vessel primarily relies on two processes a local activation of the plant Rho GTPase ROP11 and a mutual MIDD1 mediated inhibitory interaction between active ROP domains and cortical microtubules Additional examples include recent genetic evidence that microtubule and actin filament interacting regulatory proteins such as MAP65 1 and capping protein function as transducers of membrane lipid signaling into changes in cytoskeleton dynamics and organization This Research Topic aims at collecting a comprehensive set of articles dealing with cellular processes involving membrane cytoskeleton interactions Its scope extends beyond the specific fields defined by the above examples and includes intracellular trafficking host pathogen interactions response to biotic and abiotic stresses and hormonal regulation of growth We hope that this Research Topic will also highlight critical questions that need to be addressed in the future We welcomed Original Research Articles Technical Methodological Advances e g analysis of cytoskeleton dynamics close to membranes Reviews and Mini Reviews that can expand our understanding of how and why membranes and the cytoskeleton interact
