Broadway, Claire M. Zedelius, Jonathan W. Schooler, Simon Grondin, 2015-07-02 Researchers working in many fields of psychology and neuroscience are interested in the temporal structure of experience as well as the experience of time at scales of a few milliseconds up to a few seconds as well as days months years and beyond This Research Topic supposes that broadly speaking the field of time psychology can be organized by distinguishing between perceptual and conceptual time scales Dealing with conceptual time mental time travel also called mental simulation self projection episodic semantic memory propection foresight allows humans and perhaps other animals to imagine and plan events and experiences in their personal futures based in large part on memories of their personal pasts as well as general knowledge Moreover contents of human language and thought are fundamentally organized by a temporal dimension enmeshed with it so thoroughly that it is usually expressible only through spatial metaphors But what might such notions have to do with experienced durations of events lasting milliseconds up to a few seconds during the so called present moment of perception action cycle time This Research Topic is organized around the general premise that by considering how mental time travel might scale down to time perception and vice versa no less progress and integrative synthesis within and across scientific domains might be facilitated Bipolar configurations of future and past orientations of the self may be repeated in parallel across conceptual and perceptual time scales subsumed by a general Janus like feedforward feedback system for goal pursuit As an example it is notable that the duality of propection and semantic episodic memory operating at conceptual time scales has an analogue in perception action cycle time namely the interplay of anticipatory attention and working memory Authors from all areas of psychology and neuroscience are encouraged to submit articles of any format accepted by the journal Original Research Methods Hypothesis Theory Reviews etc which might speak to questions about time and temporal phenomena at long and or short time scales

Integrative Ophthalmology Ningli Wang,2019-09-05 With the development of nature science and industrial technology more and more patients are benefitting from the rapid progress in ophthalmology as the use of new medicine and delicate surgical therapy has ensured them the chance to restore their sight However some problems have come up during its development of which the most serious one is the limitation of the ophthalmology Eyes are not isolated organs they are connected to our body and thus the general status of our body will affect the eyes function Therefore it is of great importance that the ophthalmologists see the big picture while dealing with the clinical problems Based on the above observations we put forward the concept of Integrative Ophthalmology and describe the ophthalmology related medical situations that are prone to be neglected in clinical practice in a bid to increase the awareness of doctors from all fields that a holistic view should be adopted in clinical practice and it is the patients that we are treating rather than the disease There are 9 parts in the book containing the concept of integrative ophthalmology intraocular and intracranial pressure gradient related diseases and the relationship between the different general status and eye disorders We do believe that the integrative ophthalmology is the key to the development of ophthalmology and hope readers can benefit from this book
