DB2 9 for z/OS: Packages Revisited Paolo Bruni, Sean A. Dunn, Howard Hirsch, Norihiko Nakajima, Suresh Sane, IBM Redbooks, 2012-08-03 DB2 packages were introduced with DB2 V2.3 in 1993. During the 15 years that have elapsed a lot has changed. In particular there is a more widespread use of distributed computing Java™ language new tools and upgrades in the platform software and hardware. The best practices back then just might not be optimal today. In this IBM Redbooks publication we take a fresh look at bringing packages into the 21st century. We begin with an overview of packages and explain the advantages of using packages. Because database request module DBRM based plans have been deprecated in DB2 9 you need to convert to packages if you did not use packages already. We provide guidance on using a DB2 provided function to convert from DBRM based plans to packages. We re-examine the application development frameworks for packages program preparation package setup and execution. For distributed applications we include a discussion of a utility to identify and remove deprecated private protocol and converting to DRDA as well as an introduction to the new pureQuery function of Data Studio. We also discuss common problems and their resolutions. We then explore administration and operational activities dealing with packages including security access path management where we discuss the newly introduced package stability feature to allow for a seamless fallback and management and performance aspects. The appendixes include useful queries and mention tools for managing packages effectively. Enterprise Java Monitoring on z/OS with OMEGAMON: A Practical Guide to Managing JVM Performance on z/OS Christopher Walker, Nigel Williams, IBM Redbooks, 2017-02-23 This IBM Redpaper™ publication will help you install tailor and configure IBM OMEGAMON for JVM on IBM z/OS. NOTE This book contains information about technologies that have been superseded and it is retained for historical purposes only IBM CICS Transaction Server CICS TS has supported the deployment of Java applications since the 1990 s In CICS TS V1 3 1999 IBM introduced the Pooled JVM style of JVM infrastructure within CICS TS This infrastructure was designed to be similar in nature to that which a CICS application developer for a language such as COBOL would be used to It brought the benefits of the new Java language to CICS TS without a dramatic change to the way CICS users thought of core concepts such as re entrancy and isolation As enterprise usage of Java evolved it began to make more and more use of multi threaded environments where isolation was not a desired characteristic Additionally technologies such as OSGi Open Service Gateway Initiative evolved to overcome some of the original disadvantages of applying Java to an enterprise environment As such the limitations of the Pooled JVM approach began to outweigh the benefits In CICS TS V4 1 2009 IBM introduced the new JVM server infrastructure in CICS TS as a replacement to the Pooled JVM approach This JVM server infrastructure provides a much more standard Java environment that makes the writing and porting of Java applications for CICS TS much simpler In CICS TS V5.1 2012 support for the old Pooled JVM infrastructure was removed. While there is a relatively simple migration path from Pooled JVM to JVM server, applications should no longer be written to the Pooled JVM infrastructure. There are a number of more recent IBM Redbooks publications covering the replacement JVM server technology, including IBM CICS and the JVM server, Developing and Deploying Java Applications SG24-8038, A Software Architect's Guide to New Java Workloads in IBM CICS Transaction Server SG24-8225. Computerworld, 1995-01-30. For more than 40 years, Computerworld has been the leading source of technology news and information for IT influencers worldwide. Computerworld's award-winning Web site, Computerworld.com, twice monthly publication, focused conference series, and custom research form the hub of the world's largest global IT media network.
