Feb March 2015 Supplementary Limpopo:

Annual Report South Africa. Department of Basic Education, 2016 Local Responses to Mine Closure in South Africa
Sethulego Matebesi, Lochner Marais, Verna Nel, 2024-02-12 This book investigates mine closure and local responses in South Africa linking dependencies and social disruption Mine closure presents a major challenge to the mining industry and government policymakers globally but particularly in the Global South South Africa is experiencing notable numbers of mine closures and this book explores the notion of social disruption a concept often applied to describe the effects of mine growth on communities but often neglecting the impact of mine closures The book begins with three theoretical chapters that discuss theory closure cost frameworks and policy development in South Africa It uses evolutionary governance theory to show how mining creates dependencies and how mining growth often blinds communities and governments to the likelihood of closure Too easily mining goes ahead with no concern for the possibility or indeed inevitability of eventual closure and how mining communities will cope These impacts are showcased through eight place based case studies from across South Africa one focusing on mine workers to demonstrate that mine closure causes significant social disruption This book will be of interest to students and scholars researching the social impacts of mining and the extractive industries social geography and sustainable development as well as policymakers and practitioners working with mine closure and social impact assessments

Index-catalogue of Medical and Veterinary Zoology, 1957 The Promise of Planning Philip Harrison, Alison Todes, 2024-07-10 The Promise of Planning explores the experience of planning internationally since the global financial crisis focusing on South Africa The book is a response to a decade plus in which state led planning has re emerged as a putative means for achieving developmental goals as indicated in global initiatives such as the New Urban Agenda and where planning in South Africa has consolidated in terms of its legal and policy basis However the return of planning is happening in an inauspicious context with economic fragilities technological shifts political populism institutional complexities and more threatening to upturn the new promise of planning The book provides a careful analytical account of planning in South Africa and how and why its promises have been difficult to achieve Building on the authors previous book Planning and Transformation the book sheds light on planning as an increasingly complex and diverse governmental practice within a perpetually changing world It can be used as a resource for planners who must make good on the new promise of planning while navigating the risks and threats of the contemporary world as well as students and faculty interested in international planning debates and the South African case Resurgence and Revalorization of Indigenous Knowledge Systems in the Contemporary Society Masenya, Tlou Maggie, Bhuda, Monicca Thulisile, 2025-05-08 Indigenous knowledge is the comprehensive body of knowledge that locals accumulate from life experience unofficial research and close observation of their surroundings within a particular culture It connects the entirety of nature and the components that sustain life to the survival of every human being Additionally it gives specific community conditions in respect to the environment and offers workable answers to people's problems. As a result, by preserving indigenous knowledge systems, indigenous knowledge may provide value to the community by offering innovative solutions to social, environmental, and economic issues. Resurgence and Revalorization of Indigenous Knowledge Systems in the Contemporary Society explores the role of indigenous knowledge in the contemporary society. Furthermore, it discusses the importance of preserving and sharing indigenous knowledge for community development. Covering topics such as epistemic diversity, traditional load, and indigenous curricula, this book is an excellent resource for sociologists, policymakers, government officials, environmentalists, educators, records managers, professionals, researchers, scholars, academicians, and more. Index-catalogue of Medical and Veterinary Zoology.

Supplement 1 - United States. Bureau of Animal Industry. Zoological Division, 1956 Resilient Cities in the Global South
Lakshmi Priya Rajendran, Nez Hapi-Dellé Odeleye, Aysegül Can, 2025-07-22. Post-pandemic cities face new challenges in adapting to global changes while also addressing the needs, practices, and capabilities of diverse populations. Resilience as a key factor enables cities to adapt and transform in response to these challenges. Development driven by resilience is crucial for urban society's ability to adapt and evolve on multiple levels. However, in developed countries, increasingly standardised planning and development practices often hinder citizen engagement and participation, which are essential for building resilient cities. This book adopts an interdisciplinary approach to examine how diverse social and spatial behaviours within informal urban environments, particularly in developing countries, can provide fresh insights for robust urban planning and development. The book is structured in three parts: 1. North-South Relations, this part explores the global discourse on informality, highlighting its presence in both the Global North and South; 2. Grassroots, this part focusses on grassroots initiatives and community-driven resilience within urban informality; and 3. Institutional Strategies and Professional Alliances, the final part delves into the role of institutions and professional collaborations in shaping urban informality. By presenting a range of perspectives and experiences, this book contributes to a unique Southern framework that positions informality as a dialogue for enabling resilience. It will appeal to a multidisciplinary audience, including professionals from fields such as sociology, history, environmental psychology, cultural studies, human geography, urban design and planning, architecture, and anthropology. Inequality and Climate Change Delgado-Ramos, Gian Carlo, 2015-12-01. Climate change is one of the most pressing challenges of the twenty-first century. Anthropogenic activities, such as fossil fuel consumption and other activities focused on enhancing economic growth, have been identified as the main drivers of changes in the environment that defy planetary boundaries. The transgression of planetary boundaries has profound implications for practically all biophysical and human systems, and their impact could also be related to the exacerbation of existing problems, such as land tenure insecurity, poverty, and inequality, marginalization of poorer populations, climate-induced migration, and resource wars or conflicts. From a global South perspective, research on the multifaceted nature of climate change is thus necessary and appropriate, including the analysis of socioeconomic, political, and cultural aspects. This book is an outcome of the Comparative Research Workshop on Inequality and Climate Change Perspectives from the South of the South South Collaborative Programme of CLACSO CODESRIA IDEAS It gathers a diversity of case studies from the South with ample biophysical differences and particular social and cultural realities As such it is a fresh contribution offering a vantage point from which to examine some of the current perspectives on inequality and climate change Index Veterinarius ,2006 The World Guide ,2001
