Capital ,1968-04      Comparative Regionalisms for Development in the 21st Century Timothy M. Shaw,2016-05-23 The global financial crisis at the turn of the decade has accelerated changes in the relative standing of major regions As both the US and Eurozone economies have confronted a series of setbacks and struggles to find their second breath so Asia Latin America and even Africa have picked up the slack and have been able to maintain high levels of growth The resilience of the Global South questions whether we are witnessing an evolution towards a regional rebalancing or even global restructuring This responding volume has four interrelated topics It explores the transformation taking place in with regard to the financing of development in the Global South and the apparition of new players in the field The emergence of New Regionalisms in the South and the usefulness of these experiences for comparative studies of regional relationship is explicated It turns its attention to new forms of transnational governance that are emerging and the role that a novelty of actors play in this new multilateralism Finally it looks into the implications of this trio of novel directions and players for analyses and policies      Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists ,1960-09 The Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists is the premier public resource on scientific and technological developments that impact global security Founded by Manhattan Project Scientists the Bulletin s iconic Doomsday Clock stimulates solutions for a safer world      R.B. ,1994      Oversight of the U.S.

Cambone,1998-10-30      Years of Renewal Henry Kissinger,2012-01-05 This third and final volume of memoirs completes a major work of contemporary history and a brilliantly told narrative full of startling insights candour and a sweeping sense of history It begins with the resignation of Nixon including Kissinger's final assessment of Nixon's tortured personality and the self-inflicted tragedy that ended his presidency making Kissinger for a time the most powerful man in American government This book abounds in crisis Vietnam Watergate the Cold War Here are brilliant scenes as only an insider could write them of the high level meetings that shaped American foreign policy the famous shuttle diplomacy by which Kissinger succeeded in bringing a reluctant and wary Rabin and anxious Sadat together to begin to return of the Sinai to Egypt and the SALT talks with the Soviet Union that began the process of nuclear limitation Here also are intimate and profound portraits of world leaders from Mao teasing Kissinger while displaying a poetic wisdom to Brezhnev at the Vladivostok summit confused ill prepared unwell desperately to conceal the Soviet Union's difficulties with a screen of blustering bravado

Isolation and Engagement William Waltman Newmann, 2022-07-21 Presidents and their advisors consistently seek to improve the management of their foreign policy decision processes This book analyzes the successes and failures of administrations from Kennedy to Nixon as they sought to strike a balance between the personal style of the president and the need for a strong interagency structure that could systematically evaluate policy options The narrative focuses on US decision making on China and Taiwan during the crucial era when the US was considering moving from a policy of isolating China to a policy of engagement culminating in Nixon's historic 1972 trip to China William Waltman Newmann has created an Evolution Balancing model tested with case studies focusing on China policy by Kennedy Johnson Nixon and Ford showing how the relationships between a president and his advisors change based on the weaknesses or pathologies of the president's management style The author's research is based on declassified archival material from the Eisenhower Kennedy Johnson Nixon and Ford presidential libraries

Decompression Theory Undersea Medical Society. Workshop, 1980 The initial letter that went out to Workshop participants outlined the background that led to the formulation of the workshop topic It stated The median depth of diving in the U S Navy is only about 34 fsw Because the great majority of fleet diving is only to shallow depths the U S Navy has not yet really confronted the true magnitude of the decompression problem There is every indication that if the U S Navy were to suddenly desire to start diving deeper there would be a tremendous increase in the incidence of decompression sickness The evidence to support this contention can be found in the fact that the U S Navy has never been able to conduct a bends free deep saturation dive the project to develop deep subsaturation decompression procedures for the MK 1 Deep Dive System was abandoned due to severe decompression sickness the diver training program has its highest incidence of decompression sickness on its deep air narcosis demonstration chamber dive and finally the U S Navy Safety Center statistics show an inordinately high incidence of decompression sickness on dives deeper than 100 fsw The first section of the report presents a brief history of the development of the U S Navy's version of the Haldane model along with a description of some of the diving environments in which the model has not worked The second section deals with the 12 neo Haldanian assumptions and presents the best current thinking with regard to their viability it also serves to meet the objectives of the Workshop The third section of the report contains the individual manuscripts presented by the Workshop attendees

Disruption Michael De Groot, 2024-03-15 In Disruption Michael De Groot argues that the global economic upheaval of the 1970s was decisive in ending the Cold War Both the West and the Soviet bloc struggled with the slowdown of economic growth chaos in the international monetary system inflation shocks in the commodities markets and the emergence of offshore financial markets The superpowers had previously disseminated resources to their allies to enhance their own national security but the disappearance of postwar conditions during the 1970s forced Washington and Moscow to choose between promoting their own economic interests and supporting their partners in Europe and Asia De Groot shows that new unexpected macroeconomic imbalances in global capitalism sustained the West during the following decade Rather than a creditor nation and net exporter as it had been during the postwar period the United States became a net importer of capital and goods during the 1980s that helped fund public spending stimulated economic activity and lubricated the private sector The United States could now live beyond its means and continue waging the Cold War and its allies benefited from access to the booming US market and the strengthened US military umbrella As Disruption demonstrates a new symbiotic economic architecture powered the West but the Eastern European regimes increasingly became a burden to the Soviet Union They were drowning in debt and the Kremlin no longer had the resources to rescue them
