Fema National Incident Support Manual U. s. Department of Homeland Security,Federal Emergency Management Agency,2013-02-27 The National Response Coordination Center NRCC is a multiagency center that provides overall Federal support coordination for major disasters and emergencies including catastrophic incidents and emergency management program implementation Staffed by the National Response Coordination Staff NRCS the Department of Homeland Security DHS Federal Emergency Management Agency FEMA maintains the NRCC as a functional component of the National Operations Center NOC in support of incident support operations at the regional level Upon activation the NRCS provides national level emergency management by coordinating and integrating resources policy guidance situational awareness and planning in order to support the affected region s The FEMA National Incident Support Manual describes how FEMA national staff support FEMA incident operations and briefly discusses steady state activities pertinent to incident operations This manual defines the activities of Federal assistance across the nation and within FEMA s statutory authority supporting citizens and first responders in responding to recovering from and mitigating all hazards It includes definitions and descriptions of roles and responsibilities functions and organizational structures for those conducting FEMA incident support duties thus forming the basis from which FEMA personnel plan and execute their assigned missions This manual also serves as the basis for developing related guidance procedures handbooks incident guides training materials etc This manual will also discuss how NRCS procedures are relevant to all personnel FEMA other Federal agencies nongovernmental organizations and the private sector who are either assigned to or coordinating with the NRCS The NRCS is aligned by the functions it performs to meet the FEMA mission This has the following advantages NRCC structure is aligned to its primary Missions Planning support situational awareness resources support and National Response Center and Staff support are addressed as separate functions No redundancy of function exists between incident the regional level and the national level The alignment makes resource support efficient The alignment promotes unity of effort The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) C. V. Anderson,2002 The Federal Emergency Management Agency FEMA assists states and localities overwhelmed by or at risk from disasters FEMA also co ordiates emergency management activities and planning for the continuity of government should national security be threatened Since 1979 FEMA has administered a range of authorities that enable the agency to serve as the primary source of federal technical and financial assistance for emergency management Among the types of aid provided through FEMA programs are grants and material to help disaster victims meet pressing needs such as food and shelter education and training programs to improve the response capabilities of non federal officials and mobile communications equipment FEMA exercises little regulatory authority but directives that underlie the agency s mission authorise the agency to establish standards for reconstruction of buildings after a disaster declaration is issued for the construction of federal buildings in earthquake prone areas and for the operation of first responder equipment FEMA has responded to and has helped communities prepare for terrorist attacks in the United States The Office of Homeland Security OHS established by President Bush subsequent to the attacks in 2001 has a similar but more encompassing mission related to disasters caused by terrorist actions Congressional debate on the contours and framework for federal administration of homeland security might include consideration of FEMA s mission the extent to which that mission overlaps with the assignments given the new OHS and a new structure or set of authorities for that agency
