Poetry and Pedagogy across the Lifespan Sandra Lee Kleppe,Angela Sorby,2018-10-08 This book explores poetry and pedagogy in practice across the lifespan Poetry is directly linked to improved literacy creativity personal development emotional intelligence complex analytical thinking and social interaction all skills that are crucial in contemporary educational systems However a narrow focus on STEM subjects at the expense of the humanities has led educators to deprioritize poetry and to overlook its interdisciplinary multi modal potential The editors and contributors argue that poetry is not a luxury but a way to stimulate linguistic experiences that are formally rich and cognitively challenging To learn through poetry is not just to access information differently but also to forge new and different connections that can serve as reflective tools for lifelong learning This interdisciplinary book will be of value to teachers and students of poetry as well as scholars interested in literacy across the disciplines      Tertiary Education Entrance Project ,1971      Disavowing Authority in the Shakespeare Classroom Huw Griffiths,2024-04-25 Based on real experiences of teaching Shakespeare in diverse classrooms and outreach programmes this Element questions the role of authority in Shakespeare teaching It connects an understanding of how Shakespearean texts function with critical thinking about teaching especially derived from the work of Jacques Rancière. Certain elements of the Shakespearean text notably how it was intended to teach its first readers the actors and its uses of dramatic irony are revealed as already containing possibilities for more decentred forms of knowledge production. Directions in Australian Secondary School English John A. Hay, 1971 Hardy, Thomas, Annual Norman Page, 1986-06-18 PD, Health and PE Fay Courtney, David Thomas, 2005 Knowledge-building Karl Maton, Susan Hood, Suellen Shay, 2015-10-08 Education and knowledge have never been more important to society yet research is segmented by approach methodology or topic. Legitimation Code Theory or LCT extends and integrates insights from Pierre Bourdieu and Basil Bernstein to offer a framework for research and practice that overcomes segmentalism. This book shows how LCT can be used to build knowledge about education and society. Comprising original papers by an international and multidisciplinary group of scholars, Knowledge building offers the first primer in this fast growing approach. Through case studies of major research projects, Part I provides practical insights into how LCT can be used to build knowledge by enabling dialogue between theory and data in qualitative research, bringing together quantitative and qualitative methodologies in mixed methods research, relating theory and practice in praxis, conducting interdisciplinary studies with systemic functional linguistics. Part II offers a series of studies of pressing issues facing knowledge building in education and beyond, encompassing diverse subject areas including physics, English, cultural studies, music and design, educational sites, schooling, vocational education and higher education, practices of research, curriculum, pedagogy and assessment, both education and informal learning contexts such as museums and masonic lodges. Carefully sequenced and interrelated, these chapters form a coherent collection that gives a unique insight into one of the most thought provoking and innovative ways of building knowledge about knowledge building in education and society to have emerged this century. This book is essential reading for all serious students and scholars of education, sociology and linguistics. Indian Educational Review, 2000 New Literacies and the English Curriculum Len Unsworth, 2011-11-03 In an age where the use of electronic media is expanding and the nature of traditional texts and text based learning is changing, new literacies are becoming increasingly important in the school classroom. This volume examines how new literacies can be used in the English curriculum and presents a series of research based studies applied to every level of school age education. The chapters examine early literacy, picture books, the internet, secondary school English and the problems of assessment in the new literacy age. This forward thinking volume will be of interest to teachers and academics researching education, literacy, applied linguistics and social semiotic theory. Our Dumb Animals, 1911 Challenging the Injustice of Poverty Rehman Sobhan, 2010-10-04 This book explores issues related to poverty in South Asia in a two pronged manner, by focusing on injustice created and perpetuated by the unjust nature of a social order as its source and by providing concrete suggestions about how policymakers may move to challenge these injustices. Drawing on research inputs from studies across various

South Asian countries the book redefines poverty as a process which excludes certain segments of the society from equitable participation in development opportunities as well as decision making It further identifies a variety of operational ideas which can be used by policymakers political activists and civil society advocacy groups committed to build a more just inclusive and poverty free society in South Asia
