

The book cover features a composite image. The top half shows a vibrant blue geothermal pool with white steam rising from it, set against a backdrop of snow-covered evergreen trees and a bright sun with lens flare. The bottom half shows a person's hands holding a large, clear plastic bag filled with various pieces of plastic waste, such as bottle caps and small fragments, inside the open trunk of a car. In the bottom left corner, a stylized DNA double helix is depicted with blue spheres for the backbone and multi-colored bars for the base pairs.
