Place-Branding Experiences Catherine W. Ng, Titilayo Adebola, Abbe E.L. Brown,2024-12-09 This thought provoking book navigates the impact of place brands in the consumer marketplace in light of the extended protection accorded to them under intellectual property laws Interdisciplinary in scope the book explores diverse national and international approaches to strategic branding through the lenses of law marketing history and sociology      Norm Antipreneurs and the Politics of Resistance to Global Normative Change Alan Bloomfield, Shirley V. Scott,2016-10-04 Over recent decades International Relations scholars have investigated norm dynamics processes at some length with the norm entrepreneur concept having become a common reference point in the literature. The focus on norm entrepreneurs has however resulted in a bias towards investigating the agents and processes of successful normative change. This book challenges this inherent bias by explicitly focusing on those who resist normative change: norm antipreneurs. The utility of the norm antipreneur concept is explored through a series of case studies encompassing a range of issue areas and contributed by a mix of well known and emergent scholars of norm dynamics. In examining the complexity of norm resistance particular attention is paid to the nature and intent of the actors involved in norm contestation: the sites and processes of resistance; the strategies and tactics antipreneurs deploy to defend the values and interests they perceive to be threatened by the entrepreneurs; and whether it is the entrepreneurs or the antipreneurs who enjoy greater inherent advantages. This text will therefore be of interest to scholars and students of International Relations, International Law, Political Science, Sociology and History.

Learning to Teach History in the Secondary School Terry Haydn, Alison Stephen, James Arthur, Martin Hunt, 2014-10-10. An excellent companion to Learning to Teach in Secondary School, full of good ideas and better advice. Mentors will certainly want to use it and so I'm sure will the rest of the history department. Make sure they buy one and keep your copy under lock and key. Michael Duffy, Times Educational Supplement. A very well written and readable book. Overall this is an excellent book and one which students and teachers outwith England would find a valuable addition to their library. Scottish Association of Teachers of History Resources Review. This book is without question the standard text for the history PGCE market. Dr Ian Davies, University of York. On the first edition: Learning to Teach History in the Secondary School provides an accessible introduction to teaching and learning history at secondary level. Underpinned by a theoretical perspective and backed up by the latest research, it encourages student teachers to develop a personal approach to teaching history. This fourth edition has been thoroughly updated for the new curriculum with a brand new chapter on subject knowledge and a new section on action research to better support those reflecting on and developing their own practice. It provides an array of references and materials that give a sound theoretical foundation for the teaching of history, including weblinks to further resources, while a range of tasks will enable students to put their learning into practice in the classroom. Practical advice is combined with reference and access to a wide range of recent and relevant research in the field of history education to support Masters Level research and aid reflective practice. Key issues covered include: The benefits of learning history; Planning; The use of language and strategies for teaching; Inclusion; Technology in history teaching; Assessment; Continuing professional development. Offering comprehensive and accessible support to becoming a history teacher, this book remains an invaluable resource for all training and newly qualified history teachers.
