Performance at the Urban Periphery Cathy Turner, Sharada Srinivasan, Jerri Daboo, Anindya Sinha, 2022-06-30 This edited volume considers performance in its engagement with expanding Indian cities with a particular focus on festivals and performances in Karnataka Tamil Nadu and Kerala The editors ask how performance practices are affected by urbanisation the effects of such changes on their cultural economy and the environmental impacts of performance itself This project also considers how performance responds to its context and the potential for performance to be critical of the city s development and of its own compromises Bringing together perspectives from the humanities natural and social sciences the book takes a multi faceted analytical view of live performance connecting contemporary with heritage forms and human with more than human actors The three sections themed around heritage everyday life and future ecologies will be of great interest to students and scholars in performance heritage studies ecology and art history

Continuity and Change in Grammar Anne Breitbarth, 2010 One of the principal challenges of historical linguistics is to explain the causes of language change Any such explanation however must also address the actuation problem why is it that changes occurring in a given language at a certain time cannot be reliably predicted to recur in other languages under apparently similar conditions The sixteen contributions to the present volume each aim to elucidate various aspects of this problem including What processes can be identified as the drivers of change How central are syntax external phonological lexical or contact based factors in triggering syntactic change And how can all of these factors be reconciled with the actuation problem Exploring data from a wide range of languages from both a formal and a functional perspective this book promises to be of interest to advanced students and researchers in historical linguistics syntax and their intersection

Africa's Endangered Languages Jason Kandybowicz, Harold Torrence, 2017-07-10 Relatively little is known about Africa's endangered languages Unlike indigenous languages in Australia North Asia and the Americas which are predominantly threatened by colonizers African languages are threatened most immediately by other local languages As a result the threat of language extinction is perceived as lower in Africa than in other parts of the globe and a disproportionate amount of research is devoted to the study of endangered African languages when compared to any other linguistically threatened region in the world There are approximately 308 highly endangered languages spoken in Africa roughly 12% of all African languages and at least 201 extinct African languages This volume hopes to illuminate and challenge this trend Chapters offer both documentary and theoretical perspectives emphasizing the symbiotic relationship between the two approaches and its implications for the preservation of endangered languages both in the African context and more broadly Documentary oriented chapters deal with key issues in African language documentation including language preservation and revitalization community activism and data collection and dissemination methodologies among others Theoretically oriented chapters provide detailed descriptions and analyses of phonetic phonological morphological syntactic and semantic phenomena and connect these to current theoretical issues and debates Africa's Endangered Languages provides thorough coverage of a continent's neglected languages that will spur linguists and Africanists alike to work to protect them
