disease Alternative Sociologies of Religion James V. Spickard, 2017-03-14 Uncovers what the sociology of religion would look like had it emerged in a Confucian Muslim or Native American culture rather than in a Christian one Sociology has long used Western Christianity as a model for all religious life As a result the field has tended to highlight aspects of religion that Christians find important such as religious beliefs and formal organizations while paying less attention to other elements Rather than simply criticizing such limitations James V Spickard imagines what the sociology of religion would look like had it arisen in three non Western societies What aspects of religion would scholars see more clearly if they had been raised in Confucian China What could they learn about religion from Ibn Khaldun the famed 14th century Arab scholar What would they better understand had they been born Navajo whose traditional religion certainly does not revolve around beliefs and organizations Through these thought experiments Spickard shows how non Western ideas understand some aspects of religions even of Western religions better than does standard sociology The volume shows how non Western frameworks can shed new light on several different dimensions of religious life including the question of who maintains religious communities the relationships between religion and ethnicity as sources of social ties and the role of embodied experience in religious rituals These approaches reveal central aspects of contemporary religions that the dominant way of doing sociology fails to notice Each approach also provides investigators with new theoretical resources to guide them deeper into their subjects The volume makes a compelling case for adopting a global perspective in the social sciences Study Guide Plus Gwendolyn E. Nyden, Henslin, 2001-08 Essentials of Advertising Robert Cluley, 2017-02-03 As a subject advertising affects us all it surrounds us every day Yet there is a great deal of variety in the way advertising is interpreted and practitioners and academics from different backgrounds and disciplines study advertising in vastly different ways For example psychologists try to understand what happens to our brains when we see adverts while economists try to understand whether money spent on advertising is worth it Essentials of Advertising is designed to help students navigate their way through the field of advertising It will introduce readers to the key concepts of advertising as they have been developed not only by psychologists and economists but also by sociologists historians marketers and media researchers not to mention advertising practitioners themselves Meticulously researched Essentials of Advertising will allow readers to understand not just what different research traditions say about advertising but why they say it This will help students develop key analytic skills to critically evaluate and exploit existing research on advertising based on a greater understanding of where it comes from This allows them to develop greater perception and awareness professionally and acts as a springboard for students to jump into the wider area of advertising studies and to develop their careers according to their interests Online resources include lecture slides self test questions group activities figures and case studies for specific chapters plus web links to industry body research and relevant further reading Essentials of Sociology Gwendolyn E.
