Photography after Photography Abigail

Solomon-Godeau, 2017-03-23 Presenting two decades of work by Abigail Solomon Godeau Photography after Photography is an inquiry into the circuits of power that shape photographic practice criticism and historiography As the boundaries that separate photography from other forms of artistic production are increasingly fluid Solomon Godeau a pioneering feminist and politically engaged critic argues that the relationships between photography culture gender and power demand renewed attention In her analyses of the photographic production of Cindy Sherman Robert Mapplethorpe Susan Meiselas Francesca Woodman and others Solomon Godeau refigures the disciplinary object of photography by considering these practices through an examination of the determinations of genre and gender as these shape the relations between photographers their images and their viewers Among her subjects are the 2006 Abu Ghraib prison photographs and the Cold War era exhibition The Family of Man insofar as these illustrate photography's embeddedness in social relations viewing relations and ideological formations

Minor Photography Mieke Bleyen, 2012 The first book to apply the concept of the minor to the theory of photography The notion of the minor developed by Gilles Deleuze and Félix Guattari in Kafka Towards a minor literature 1975 is introduced and connected applied here for the very first time to the field of photography theory Deleuze and Guattari defined minor literature in terms of deterritorialization politicization and collectivization By transferring the minor to the medium of photography this book enlarges the idea of the minor and opens it up to all kinds of mutations in the process The essays gathered in this book discuss the ways in which photography can make the dominant codes of representation stammer and how it can produce new effects and address people yet to come The authors consider the minor as a valuable tool to help photography research move beyond or in between binary and hierarchized ways of thinking of high and low art for example or centre and periphery As such it aims to contribute to a rethinking of photography as multiplicity and variation Consequently the term is connected with both marginal and canonical photographic practices covering photographers as different as Miroslav Tichy Paul McCarthy Tacita Dean Dan Graham and Paul Noug After developing a theory of the minor this book explores how the operations of the minor can be found in major art practices It closes by tackling the question of photography as variation in case studies of belated forms of surrealist photography This publication is GPRC labeled Guaranteed Peer Reviewed Content Unshaved Breanne Fahs,2022-06-14 Gross Dirty Monstrous Manly Authentic Beautiful Natural Powerful Body hair especially on women provokes disrupts and at times offends It is tangled up with culture itself in art families workplaces relationships sex the beauty industry governments and capitalism From Chinese activists challenging the Communist Party to students in Arizona rejecting their family and workplace ideas about grooming to high art feminist photographers boldly featuring hairy women Fahs deftly explores the volatile and ever changing landscape of women s body hair politics She showcases an underground movement of artists zine makers rebels and activists who have used women s visible body hair as a declaration of freedom from patriarchal norms Fahs presents body hair not just as a personal grooming choice but as a connection to broader cultural stories about women s reproductive rights feminist battlegrounds about autonomy neoliberal intrusions into beauty regimens and even global tensions around women s place in society Ultimately Unshaved shows the collision between the mundane and the extraordinary the everyday and the revolutionary Female Aesthetic Genital Surgery, An Issue of Clinics in Plastic Surgery, E-Book Christine Hamori,2022-09-28 In this issue guest editors bring their considerable expertise to this important topic Provides in depth reviews on the latest updates in the field providing actionable insights for clinical practice Presents the latest information on this timely focused topic under the leadership of experienced editors in the field Authors synthesize and distill the latest research and practice guidelines to create these timely topic based reviews Naked Politics Brett Lunceford,2012-06-14 Naked Politics Nudity Political Action and the Rhetoric of the Body by Brett Lunceford examines the rhetorical power of the unclothed body as it relates to protest and political action This study explores what the disrobed body communicates and how others are invited to make sense of this display The actions examined range from grassroots protests to those of professionalized social movement organizations Specifically Lunceford examines PETA and the use of chained women and the Running of the Nudes activists or women engaging in public breastfeeding as protest action in both online and physical space the World Naked Bike Ride s worldwide protest against oil dependency and attempt to raise awareness of the vulnerability of cyclists and a contest held on College Humor that invited women to write their preferred presidential candidate on their exposed breasts and send the picture to them to post on the site Although these actions may seem to have little in common beyond their use of body exposure they all share the notions that something can happen when you take your clothes off and that the act of disrobing can have social and political consequences Moreover these groups illustrate the often paradoxical views of the exposed body by both the participants and the observers and how such bodies operate in the public sphere Even when the voice is silent the body still speaks Naked Politics considers what is being said Some Like It Hot ,

Like a Natural Woman Kirsten Pullen, 2014-08-08 Bathing beauty Esther Williams bombshell Jane Russell exotic Carmen Miranda chanteuse Lena Horne and talk show fixture Zsa Zsa Gabor are rarely hailed as great actors or as naturalistic performers Those terms of praise are given to male stars like Marlon Brando and James Dean whose gritty dramas are seen as a departure from the glossy spectacles in which these stars appeared Like a Natural Woman challenges those assumptions revealing the skill and training that went into the work of these five actresses who employed naturalistic performance techniques both onscreen and off Bringing a fresh perspective to film history through the lens of performance studies Kirsten Pullen explores the ways in which these actresses who always appeared to be playing themselves responded to the naturalist notion that actors should create authentic characters by drawing from their own lives At the same time she examines how Hollywood presented these female stars as sex objects focusing on their spectacular bodies at the expense of believable characterization or narratives Pullen not only helps us appreciate what talented actresses these five women actually were but also reveals how they sought to express themselves and maintain agency even while meeting the demands of their directors studios families and fans to perform certain feminine roles Drawing from a rich collection of classic films publicity materials and studio archives Like a Natural Woman lets us take a new look at both Hollywood acting techniques and the performance of femininity itself

Forty-One False Starts Janet Malcolm, 2013-05-07 A National Book Critics Circle Finalist for Criticism A deeply Malcolmian volume on painters photographers writers and critics Janet Malcolm's In the Freud Archives and The Journalist and the Murderer as well as her books about Sylvia Plath and Gertrude Stein are canonical in the realm of nonfiction as is the title essay of this collection with its forty one false starts or serial attempts to capture the essence of the painter David Salle which becomes a dazzling portrait of an artist Malcolm is among the most intellectually provocative of authors writes David Lehman in The Boston Globe able to turn epiphanies of perception into explosions of insight Here in Forty one False Starts Malcolm brings together essays published over the course of several decades largely in The New Yorker and The New York Review of Books that reflect her preoccupation with artists and their work Her subjects are painters photographers writers and critics She explores Bloomsbury's obsessive desire to create things visual and literary the passionate collaborations behind Edward Weston's nudes and the character of the German art photographer Thomas Struth who is haunted by the Nazi past yet whose photographs have a lightness of spirit In The Woman Who Hated Women Malcolm delves beneath the onyx surface of Edith Wharton's fiction while in Advanced Placement she relishes the black comedy of the Gossip Girl novels of Cecily von Ziegesar In Salinger's Cigarettes Malcolm writes that the pettiness vulgarity banality and vanity that few of us are free of and thus can tolerate in others are like ragweed for Salinger's helplessly uncontaminated heroes and heroines Over and over as Ian Frazier writes in his introduction she has demonstrated that nonfiction a book of reporting an article in a magazine something we see every day can rise to the highest level of literature One of Publishers Weekly's Best Nonfiction Books of 2013 Lateness and Longing George Baker, 2023-05-23 How a generation of women artists is transforming photography with analogue techniques Beginning in the 1990s a series of major artists imagined the expansion of photography intensifying its ideas and effects

while abandoning many of its former medium constraints Simultaneous with this development in contemporary art however photography was moving toward total digitalization Lateness and Longing presents the first account of a generation of artists focused on the work of Zoe Leonard Tacita Dean Sharon Lockhart and Moyra Davey who have collectively transformed the practice of photography using analogue technologies in a dissident way and radicalizing signifiers of older models of feminist art All these artists have resisted the transition to the digital in their work Instead in what amounts to a series of feminist polemics they return to earlier incomplete or unrealized moments in photography's history gravitating toward the analogue basis of photographic mediums Their work announces that photography has become not obsolete but late opened up by the potentially critical forces of anachronism Through a strategy of return of refusing to let go the work of these artists proposes an afterlife and survival of the photographic in contemporary art a formal lateness wherein photography finds its way forward through resistance to the contemporary itself
