VOLTA

Rotate these pot clockwise to increase AC terminal voltage and anticlockwise to decrease AC terminal voltage. If it is required to adjust generator voltage from remote location then a 1 K Ω 1 W potentiometer can be connected in series with the 10 K Ω of AVR. Using 1 K potentiometer voltage can be varied in the range of $\pm 5\%$.

CONCLUSIONS

STAB potentiometer is a factory set such that optimum response of voltage recovery is achieved during sudden load changes. In some cases in order to release burden on engine it is required to sluggish the recovery time of voltage, therefore to increase the response time STAB potentiometer is carefully rotated anti clock wise direction such that response time will increase resulting in larger dip of terminal voltage during sudden load. Kindly note that by excessively rotating STAB potentiometer to clock wise direction one may cause voltage fluctuations, again by gradually rotating the STAB pot to zero voltage direction the generator will produce voltage. It is advisable that only technically qualified person should adjust these pot.

Abstract

UFRQ: The UFRQ frequency roll-off (UFRQ) is a factory set at 47 Hz for 50 Hz generator. The 50 Hz generator roll-off is set at 50 Hz. Load adjustment module (LAM) will be activated at 47 Hz or 50 Hz. LAM causes the voltage to drop by 15%, which helps to reduce burden on engine and recover its rated rpm within short time. It is possible to set UFRQ potentiometer from 45 Hz to 59 Hz. Rotating UFRQ potentiometer clock wise direction will set UFRQ level in increasing frequency direction and rotating in anti-clockwise direction will set to decreasing frequency. UFRQ & LAM activation is indicated by UFR LED.

Generator field current exceeding its specified limit indirectly indicates alternator over load. AVR has in built accurate current sensing circuitry to protect alternator windings from over load. DC field current monitored by AVR circuitry will cut off field supply after 20-25 seconds when field current exceeds preset value. The over excitation trip level (factory set to 7 A.DC) will be required to set trip level and to turn on OE clock wise direction (7 A.DC) OE potentiometer. OE potentiometer is factory set to fully clock wise direction (7 A.DC). By rotating the potentiometer to anti clock wise direction will set DC current trip level from 7 A.DC downwards to 0 A.DC. Vice versa rotating OE potentiometer to clock wise direction will set trip level from 0 A.DC upwards to 7 A.DC. There are two methods to set trip level. First method is to connect a DC ammeter in between I.F.1 & field potentiometer and clock wise direction till OE LED turns ON. Once OE LED turns ON the timer will be activated and after 20-25 seconds field supply will be cut off. Second method is to connect a DC ammeter in between I.F.1 & field wire, now load the generator such that required DC current is observed on ammeter. Now rotate OE potentiometer in clockwise direction such that OE LED turns ON and this will set OE trip at required DC current.

CONTACT:

It is proposed to synchronise more than one generator, so that system capacity can be increased. It is necessary that power sharing between all generators is equal. Quadrature droop method is used to control reactive current of generators. A current transformer with secondary current of 1 A at full load of generator is connected third phase of generator which is not used for sensing of AVR. The direction of secondary current should be such that droop characteristics is achieved. Droop characteristics of $\pm 10\%$ can be achieved at 1 Ampere
