Translation and Web Localization Miguel A. Jimenez-Crespo, 2013-11-07 Web localization is a cognitive textual communicative and technological process by which interactive web texts are modified to be used by audiences in different sociolinguistic contexts Translation and Web Localization provides an in depth and comprehensive overview into this emerging field of study The book covers the key areas and main theoretical and practical approaches of the subject rather than a step by step practical guide Topics covered include the often controversial definition of localization how the process develops what constitutes a text in this process digital genre theory and its implications and how to conduct research or training in this field The book concludes with a look into the dynamic nature of web localization and the forces such as crowdsourcing that are reshaping web localization and translation as we know it In light of the deep changes brought by the Internet Translation and Web Localization is an indispensable book for researchers postgraduate and advanced undergraduate students of translation studies as well as practitioners and researchers in related fields such as computational linguistics applied linguistics Internet linguistics digital genre theory and web development Canadian Books in Print, 2003 Effectively Using Data for Educator Preparation Program Improvement Christine Carrino Gorowara, Erica M. Brownstein, Timothy Wall, 2023-05-01 This volume provides a synthesis of protocols and strategies to support assessment leaders in effectively using data for educator preparation program improvement Data informed decision making has become increasingly important in quality assurance for both internal and external audiences yet there are scant resources to guide those charged with managing the development and application of data for monitoring and improving the quality of their programs Until this work there has been little explication of how assessment directors working in educator preparation should conceptualize organize and implement best practices in data collection analysis interpretation and sharing As state and national expectations for evidence of quality are growing it is essential to chronicle the collective wisdom of assessment leaders in education preparation in one manuscript For both novice and experienced assessment directors this volume offers insightful perspectives and excellent strategies to facilitate the journey from complying with external expectations to strategically using data and evidence to achieve goals leveraging assessment to achieve socially just outcomes involving multiple voices and interpreters and opening windows to further inquiry The editors have gathered experts in all phases of the assessment process and organized their work in an easy to follow manner This work provides both conceptual underpinnings of educator preparation quality assurance as well as practical lessons learned that will support the transformation of an assessment professional into an assessment leader ENSORSEMENTS Finally a book that shows what we can learn from accreditation collectively The strength of the volume lies in the concrete examples of evaluation and improvement that are woven throughout the chapters Effectively Using Data for Educator Preparation Improvement is a welcome addition to the small but growing body of useful literature related to quality assurance work in the field Mark LaCelle Peterson Ed D President and CEO Association for Advancing Quality in Educator Preparation The volume Effectively

Using Data for Educator Preparation Program Improvement provides many examples of how providers collect data and evidence to establish or enhance quality assurance. The publication will be of value to any provider seeking to enhance quality and improve their programs. The publication is particularly timely given many state efforts to increase enrollments and diversity which have resulted in lowered standards. Having measures and evidence of quality provide a necessary counter balance to these efforts. Christopher Koch, Ed D, President, Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation. Effectively Using Data for Educator Preparation Program Improvement assists educators in data informed research and practice to improve programs, diversify the profession and ensure that our teacher candidates are profession ready. Written predominantly for the assessment director or leaders as the editors posit, this volume goes beyond that goal to add a valuable resource for all of us who care about the field of educator preparation. I highly recommend this book to the field as we work together to elevate the teaching profession. Lynn M. Gangone, Ed D, President, CEO, American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

El Kharafish Heiko Riemer, 2011-01-01 The Oxford Guide to the Atlantic Languages of West Africa Friederike Lüpke, 2025-06-17 This volume presents the first book length overview of the Atlantic languages, a small family of languages spoken mainly on the Atlantic coast of West Africa. Languages in this area have been used in diverse multilingual societies with intense language contact for the whole of their known history and their genealogical relatedness and the impact of language contact on their lexicon and grammar have been widely debated. The book is divided into four parts. The first provides an introduction to language ecologies in the area and includes two accounts of the genealogical classification of Atlantic languages. Chapters in the second part offer grammatical overviews of individual languages including the most important non Atlantic contact languages, Casamance Creole and Mandinka, while the third part explores Atlantic languages from a typological perspective with chapters that explore formal and semantic aspects of their nominal classification systems, nominalization strategies, their rich system of verbal extensions and the stem initial consonant mutation that is attested in a subset of languages. The final part of the book investigates Atlantic languages in their social environments including the creation of creole identities, secret languages, Ajami writing practices, language acquisition, the spread and use of Fula as a lingua franca, digital language practices and language ideologies. The volume is an essential tool for linguists interested in the languages of West Africa, language history and classification, patterns of language use in Atlantic societies and typology and language contact more broadly.
