My Educational Autobiography

I remember my parents recently telling me all these stories about how they never got the chance to go to school and have a good education. Both of them have somewhat similar stories that they have shared with me. Both of my parents came from very poor, but large families and had grown up in very small villages in Vietnam. They both had responsibilities of working to provide food and care for their siblings since they were both one of the oldest in the family. My mom explained how her parents had to go out to sea and fish daily to make only a few cents in U.S. currency, and how she literally had to care for her brothers as a mother would at the age of only nine. It was only until she and her family had moved to the United States when she was about the age of fifteen years. Then and there, she was finally given the opportunity to go to school, but only for a little while due to having financial issues within the family, which caused her to drop out and work full time. My dad actually never got the opportunity to get an education because his family simply just couldn't afford to send anyone in his family to school, and by the time he had moved to the U.S., it was already considered to be too late. He ended up having to work several jobs just to support himself because he had came here with nothing.

Due to their experience and lack of opportunity to good or decent education, growing up, my parents always made sure I had activities to do that would help me speak, read, or write in order to learn the English language. They provided me with everything I needed because they wanted to make sure I was given a better life and childhood than them. When it came to school

Writing an Educational Autobiography as a Way to Become a Reflective Teacher Isti Rokhiyah, 2015 This dissertation presents my educational autobiography the result of my reflection on experiences during my school life my teaching life and my life as a mother to reveal who I am personally and professionally in my journey to become a reflective teacher a teacher who takes her students wellbeing into her mind in the everyday life of classrooms and schools In order to write my stories I searched incidences that related to my experiences with learning and teaching and making sense of them Through the process of framing and reframing my experiences I gained a better understanding of my journey as an educator and became capable of articulating my experiences along this journey My broad goal in this thesis is to improve the quality of teacher education at Universitas Terbuka UT through broadening the notion of reflection in its curriculum As writing autobiography is one of the pathways to becoming a reflective teacher I would like to experience the process of writing autobiography before I introduce the idea to student teachers I would like to experience the dark the disoriented the dreadful feeling and the brightness of writing autobiography narratively Writing my autobiography not only helped me to excavate my old lives and make meaning out of them revealing my self but also to realise the importance of learning from my experience Professionally writing my autobiography helped to overcome my fear of writing The process of making meaning of incidents was strengthened by my understanding of concepts and theories that could be used to illuminate them I gained new knowledge because writing my autobiography encouraged me to search for related literatures that helped me understand my experiences From my experience of writing my autobiography and synthesizing theories and practices of reflection in teacher education I propose ideas to improve UT s teacher education by strengthening the notion of reflection in its curriculum
