Insurgent Media from the Front Chris Robé, Stephen Charbonneau, 2020-11-03 This anthology examines how activists have used media technology to effect social and political change from the 1940s to today In the 1940s it was 16 mm film In the 1980s it was handheld video cameras Today it is cell phones and social media Activists have always found ways to use the media du jour for quick and widespread distribution InsUrgent Media from the Front looks at activist media practices in the twenty first century and sheds light on what it means to enact change using different media of the past and present The term insUrgent media highlights the ways grassroots media activists challenge hegemonic norms like colonialism patriarchy imperialism classism and heteronormativity while also conveying the urgency of this work With chapters focused on indigenous resistance community media and the use of media as activism throughout US history this anthology emphasizes the wide reach media activism has had over time Turning the Page David R. Coon, 2018-07-11 First runner up for the 2019 John Leo and Dana Heller Award from the Popular Culture Association Surprisingly Hollywood is still clumsily grappling with its representation of sexual minorities and LGBTQ filmmakers struggle to find a place in the mainstream movie industry However organizations outside the mainstream are making a difference helping to produce and distribute authentic stories that are both by and for LGBTQ people Turning the Page introduces readers to three nonprofit organizations that in very different ways have each positively transformed the queer media landscape David R Coon takes readers inside In the Life

Media whose groundbreaking documentaries on the LGBTQ experience aired for over twenty years on public television stations nationwide Coon reveals the successes of POWER UP a nonprofit production company dedicated to mentoring filmmakers who can turn queer stories into fully realized features and short films Finally he turns to Three Dollar Bill Cinema an organization whose film festivals help queer media find an audience and whose filmmaking camps for LGBTQ youth are nurturing the next generation of queer cinema Combining a close analysis of specific films and video programs with extensive interviews of industry professionals Turning the Page demonstrates how queer storytelling in visual media has the potential to empower individuals strengthen communities and motivate social justice activism Pedagogy of Global Events

Timothy J. Patterson, William Gaudelli, 2023-03-15 Pedagogy of Global Events explores a relatively new phenomenon of cultural events concerts media experiences and film series designed to bring attention to global problems and spark action This case based analysis addresses a range of events to consider questions about what it means to educate the wider public about significant global challenges the meaning and limits of these efforts and how media refracts these experiences The analyses are informed by data collected from organizers of special events participants in attendance those viewing online or after the fact through media representations as well as through a careful analysis of web artifacts created by and in response to the events By offering rare empirical analyses of global events this book is valuable reading for organizers and attendees alike African Cinema and Human Rights

Mette Hjort, Eva Jørholt, 2019-03-01 Essays and case studies exploring how filmmaking can play a role in promoting social and economic justice Bringing theory and practice together African Cinema and Human Rights argues that moving images have a significant role to play in advancing the causes of justice and fairness The contributors to this volume identify three key ways in which film can achieve these goals Documenting human rights abuses and thereby supporting the claims of victims and goals of truth and reconciliation within larger communities Legitimizing and consequently solidifying an expanded scope for human rights Promoting the realization of social and economic right Including the voices of African scholars scholar filmmakers African directors Jean Marie Teno and Gaston Kabor and researchers whose work focuses on transnational cinema this volume explores overall perspectives and differences of perspective pertaining to Africa human rights and human rights filmmaking alongside specific case studies of individual films and areas of human rights violations With its interdisciplinary scope attention to practitioners self understandings broad perspectives and particular case studies African Cinema and Human Rights is a foundational text that offers questions reflections and evidence that help us to consider film s ideal role within the context of our ever continuing struggle towards a more just global society Visual Communication for Social Work Practice

Sonia M. Tascón, 2018-09-03 How are we to understand how the dominance of visual images and representations in late modernity affects Social Work practice research and education Social workers are increasingly using still and moving images to illustrate their work to create new knowledge and to further specific groups interests As a profession in which communication is central visual practices are becoming ever more significant as they seek to carry out their work with and for the marginalised and disenfranchised. It is time for the profession to gain more critical analytical and practical knowledge of visual culture and communication in order to use and create images in accordance with its central principle of social justice. That requires an understanding of them beyond representation. As important as this is, it is also where the profession's scholarly work in this area has remained and halted, and thus understanding of the work of images in our practices is limited. In order to more fully understand images and their effects both ideologically and experientially, social workers need to bring to bear other areas of study such as reception studies, visual phenomenology and the gaze. These other analytical frames enable a consideration not only of images per se but also of their effect on the viewer, the human spectators and the subjects at the heart of Social Work. By bringing understandings and experiences in Film Media and Communications Visual Communication for Social Work Practice provides the reader with a wide range of critically analytical frames for practitioners, activists, educators and researchers as they use and create images. This invites a deeper knowledge and familiarity with the power dimensions of the image, thus aligning with the social justice dimension of Social Work. Examples are provided from cinema, popular media but more importantly from Social Work practitioners themselves to demonstrate what has already been made possible as they create and use images to further the interpersonal, communal and justice dimensions of their work. This book will be of interest to scholars, students and social workers, particularly those with an interest in critical and creative methodologies.

Migration Film Festivals Lidia Peralta García, Lhoussain Simour, 2025-03-28. This book explores the intersections of migration and film festivals with particular attention to their social functions. Adopting an interdisciplinary and multi-bottom line perspective, the authors address the purposes and circumstances of migration film festivals, their delimitation as distinct from other genres of festivals, their cinematographic creation and their approaches to the curation and programming of films. Numerous questions arise in the process: Is social function prone to homogenization among migration film festivals? What are these festivals' main constraints in negotiating their social functions? What is their actual capacity to foster social transformation? How do we conceive of the fact that most migration festival goers are rarely the ones in need of changing their perceptions? How are migrants actually involved in these cultural events? What are the specific challenges that undermine migration film festivals in achieving a greater social impact and in turning into true axes of critical reflection towards more empathetic, inclusive and respectful ways of life.

Japanese Film Festivals in the Asia-Pacific Teck Fann Goh, 2024-10-26. This book represents the first in-depth research dedicated to examining the historical and contemporary developments of Japanese film festivals as sites of cultural diplomacy. It focuses on the proliferation, network and operation of Japanese Film Festivals (JFFs) in the Asia-Pacific from the late 1970s until 2020. Through case examples in Australia, Malaysia and Thailand, the book explores how the formation and recent developments of JFFs in the region reflect wider changes in the function of Japanese cultural diplomacy through films, particularly with the intensification of economic, cultural and
