

These studies have demonstrated that the use of a structured, evidence-based approach to patient assessment and management can improve patient outcomes and reduce costs. The use of a structured approach to patient assessment and management is a key component of the patient-centered medical home (PCMH) model. The PCMH model is a patient-centered approach to care that emphasizes the role of the primary care physician in coordinating care and ensuring that patients receive the best possible care. The PCMH model is based on the principles of patient-centered care, which include: patient participation in decision-making, patient education, patient empowerment, and patient engagement.
