Translation in a Postcolonial Context Maria Tymoczko, 2016-04-08 This ground breaking analysis of the cultural trajectory of England's first colony constitutes a major contribution to postcolonial studies offering a template relevant to most cultures emerging from colonialism At the same time these Irish case studies become the means of interrogating contemporary theories of translation Moving authoritatively between literary theory and linguistics philosophy and cultural studies anthropology and systems theory the author provides a model for a much needed integrated approach to translation theory and practice In the process the work of a number of important literary translators is scrutinized including such eminent and disparate figures as Standish O Grady Augusta Gregory and Thomas Kinsella The interdependence of the Irish translation movement and the work of the great 20th century writers of Ireland including Yeats and Joyce becomes clear expressed for example in the symbiotic relationship that marks their approach to Irish formalism Translation in a Postcolonial Context is essential reading for anyone interested in translation theory and practice postcolonial studies and Irish literature during the 19th and 20th centuries

The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Young Audiences Michał Borodo, Jorge Díaz-Cintas, 2025-01-31 The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Young Audiences offers a comprehensive overview of translation in the context of young audiences The handbook synthesises research on translation of children s and young adult literature audiovisual translation the translation of comics and picture books empirical research methods and translation performed by fan communities in the digital world Adopting a forward looking approach it is organised around these five key themes which taken together propose a new way of looking at interrelated phenomena which have never been brought together before to map this emerging area of study Featuring 35 contributions from leading and emerging scholars the volume showcases a range of perspectives which focus on translation and cultural practices around children and young adults not only as readers viewers and consumers but also as prosumers and collaborative creators of content Providing a multi layered perspective on the study of translation and young audiences this handbook will be a valuable resource for students and scholars in translation studies particularly those interested in audiovisual translation media translation multimodal texts and children s literature

Handbook of Translation Studies Yves Gambier, Luc van Doorslaer, 2010-10-28 As a meaningful manifestation of how institutionalized the discipline has become the new Handbook of Translation Studies is most welcome The HTS aims at disseminating knowledge about translation and interpreting to a relatively broad audience not only students who often adamantly prefer user friendliness researchers and lecturers in Translation Studies Translation but also scholars experts and professionals from other disciplines among which linguistics sociology history psychology Moreover the HTS is the first handbook with this scope in Translation Studies that has both a print edition and an online version The HTS is variously searchable by article by author by subject Another benefit is the interconnection with the selection and organization principles of the online Translation Studies Bibliography TSB Many items in the reference lists are hyperlinked to the TSB where the user can find an abstract of a publication All articles are written by specialists in the different subfields and are peer reviewed

Changing the Terms Sherry Simon, Paul St-Pierre, 2000-11-27 This volume explores the theoretical foundations of postcolonial translation in settings as diverse as Malaysia Ireland India and South America Changing the Terms examines stimulating links that are currently being forged between linguistics literature and cultural theory In doing so the authors probe complex sequences of intercultural contact fusion and breach The impact that history and politics have had on the role of translation in the evolution of literary and cultural relations is investigated in fascinating detail Published in English Monolingualism and Linguistic Exhibitionism in Fiction Anjali Pandey,2016-01-25 How are linguistic wars for global prominence literarily and linguistically inscribed in literature This book focuses on the increasing presence of cosmetic multilingualism in prize winning fiction making a case for an emerging transparent turn in which momentary multilingualism works in the service of long term monolingualism Less Translated Languages Albert Branchadell,Lovell Margaret West,2005 This is the first collection of articles devoted entirely to less translated languages a term that brings together well known widely used languages such as Arabic or Chinese and long neglected minority languages with power as the key word at play It starts with some views on English the dominant language in Translation as elsewhere considers the role of translation for minority languages both a source of inequality and a means to overcome it takes a look at translation from less translated major languages and cultures and ends up with a closer look at translation into Catalan a paradigmatic case of less translated language in a final section that includes a vindication of six prominent Catalan translators Combining sound theoretical insight and accurate analysis of relevant case studies the contributors to this collection make a convincing case for a more thorough examination of less translated languages within the field of Translation Studies Postcolonial Literature Pramod K. Nayar,2008 A Concise Companion to Postcolonial Literature Shirley Chew,David Richards,2013-12-13 Taking an innovative and multi disciplinary approach to literature from 1947 to the present day this concise companion is an indispensable guide for anyone seeking an authoritative understanding of the intellectual contexts of postcolonial literature and culture An indispensable guide for anyone seeking an authoritative understanding of the intellectual contexts of Postcolonialism bringing together 10 original essays from leading international scholars including C L Innes and Susan Bassnett Explains the ideas and practises that emerged from the dismantling of European empires Explores the ways in which these ideas and practices influenced the period s keynote concerns such as race culture and identity literary and cultural translations and the politics of resistance Chapters cover the fields of identity studies orality and literacy nationalisms feminism anthropology and cultural criticism the politics of rewriting new geographies publishing and marketing translation studies Features a useful Chronology of the period thorough general bibliography and guides to further reading The Routledge Companion to World Literature Theo D'haen,David Damrosch,Djelal Kadir,2011-09-14 In the age of globalization the category of World Literature is increasingly important to academic teaching and research The Routledge Companion to World Literature offers a comprehensive pathway into this burgeoning and popular field Separated into four key sections the volume covers the history of World Literature through significant writers and theorists from Goethe to Said Casanova and Moretti the disciplinary relationship of World Literature to areas such as philology translation globalization and diaspora studies theoretical issues in World Literature including

Paradoxes of Postcolonial Culture Sandra Ponzanesi,2004-11-18 Explores postcolonial discourse from the standpoint of feminism and writers in minority languages      Translation as Reparation Paul Bandia,2014-06-03 Translation as Reparation showcases postcolonial Africa by offering African European language literature as a case study for postcolonial translation theory and proposes a new perspective for postcolonial literary criticism informed by theories of translation The book focuses on translingualism and interculturality in African Europhone literature highlighting the role of oral culture and artistry in the writing of fiction The fictionalizing of African orature in postcolonial literature is viewed in terms of translation and an intercultural writing practice which challenge the canons of colonial linguistic propriety through the subversion of social and linguistic conventions The study opens up pathways for developing new insights into the ethics of translation as it raises issues related to the politics of language ideology identity accented writing and translation It confirms the place of translation theory in literary criticism and affirms the importance of translation in the circulation of texts particularly those from minority cultures in the global marketplace Grounded in a multidisciplinary approach the book will be of interest to students and scholars in a variety of fields including translation studies African literature and culture sociolinguistics and multilingualism postcolonial and intercultural studies      The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Migration Brigid Maher,Loredana Polezzi,Rita Wilson,2024-09-06 The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Migration explores the practices and attitudes surrounding migration and translation aiming to redefine these two terms in light of their intersections and connections The volume adopts an interdisciplinary and transnational perspective highlighting the broad scope of migration and translation as not only linguistic and geographical phenomena but also cultural social artistic and psychological processes The nexus between migration and translation the central concern of this Handbook challenges limited conceptualisations of identity and belonging thereby also exposing the limitations of monolingual monocultural models of nationhood Through a diverse range of approaches and methodologies individual chapters investigate specific historical circumstances and illustrate the need for an intersectional approach to questions of language access and language mediation With its range of approaches and case studies the volume highlights the inherently political nature of translation and its potential to shape social and cultural inclusion emphasising the crucial role of language and translation in informing professional practices institutional policies educational approaches and community attitudes towards migration By bringing together perspectives from both researchers and creative practitioners this book makes an innovative contribution to ongoing global discussions on linguistic hospitality and diversity ideal for those pursuing postgraduate and doctoral studies in translation studies linguistics international studies and cultural studies

Reconfiguring and Appropriating Arabic, Persian, and Indic Literary Traditions in Seventeenth- and Eighteenth-Century Britain Claire Gallien, 2025-03-20

Reconfiguring and Appropriating Arabic Persian and Indic Literary Traditions in Seventeenth and Eighteenth Century Britain investigates the reconfigurations of literary traditions coming from Islamicate regions of the world by British orientalists Claire Gallien explores the logics of orientalist selection reconfiguration and appropriation of Islamicate literary canons and focuses on the period going from the endowment of the first chairs in Arabic at Cambridge and Oxford in 1632 and 1636 respectively to the establishment of the Asiatic Society in Calcutta in 1784 presided by Sir William Jones until 1794 Contrary to the Saidian premise of an invention of the East by the West Gallien argues that orientalists did not invent a canon but they transferred and translated texts and authors which who were already recognised as canonical across Islamicate literary cultures Given the above the question that preoccupies this book is what happens to the canon when partially re created and re purposed for European readers Organised in three main parts this book analyses first the constitution of collections of Arabic Persian and Indic manuscripts and their cataloguing in England in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries The second part investigates the variety of linguistic and literary partitioning and assemblage proposed by orientalists and discusses how their classical literary formation underpinned theories and practices of imitation translation and writing The third part examines the editing and translating of Arabic Persian and Indic literatures in seventeenth and eighteenth century England as well as in British colonial India and in particular the function of specimens and anthologies in the constitution of a corpus of Eastern literatures in English

In Translation Paul St-Pierre, Prafulla C. Kar, 2007-01-01 With contributions by researchers from India Europe North America and the Caribbean In Translation Reflections refractions transformations touches on questions of method and on topics including copyright cultural hybridity globalization identity construction and minority languages which are important for the disciplinary development of translation studies but also of interest to other fields as well most notably comparative literature cultural studies and world literature The volume provides a forum for new voices to be heard alongside those of well established scholars and for current concerns to express themselves often focusing on practices in areas of the world other than Europe or North America which have until now tended to dominate the field Acknowledging difference and celebrating it the contributors conceive of translation as a process which reconstitutes and transforms which brings renewal and growth an interaction in a new context a new reading a new writing
