Policy-Making in the GCC Neil Quilliam, Mark C. Thompson, 2017-09-11 The GCC is a major player in the post 2011 reordering of the Middle East Despite the rise in prominence of individual Gulf states especially Kuwait Qatar Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates and the growth of the GCC as a collective entity surprisingly little attention has been paid to the actual mechanics of policy making in the region This book analyses the vital role that institutions are coming to play in shaping policy in the Gulf Arab states The research coincides with two key developments that have given institutions new importance in the policy process the emergence of a new generation of leaders in the Gulf and the era of low oil prices Both developments along with dramatic demographic change have compelled state and citizens to re evaluate the nature of the social contract that binds them together Contributors assess the changing relationship between state and citizen and evaluate the role that formal and informal institutions play in mediating such change and informing policy The book shows how academic social and economic institutions are responding to the increasingly complex process of decision making where citizens demand better services and further empowerment and states are obliged to seek wider counsel although wanting to retain ultimate authority With contributions from both academics and practitioners this book will be highly relevant for researchers and policymakers alike

2012 GCSE English results Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Education Committee, 2013-06-11 The 2012 GCSE English results prompted significant controversy which ultimately resulted in an application for judicial review This report sets out the background to these events and identifies lessons to be learned The problems with GCSE English can be traced back to the 2007/09 development phase of the qualification in particular the turbulence which resulted from the shift away from a mostly linear to a modular system combined with a high proportion of controlled assessment and generous marking tolerances Exam board experts raised concerns at the time but these were not acted upon by the regulator the then interim Ofqual Further difficulties arose because of pressures from the school accountability system The problems experienced with GCSE English in 2012 highlighted serious weaknesses in the moderation of speaking and listening with consequences for grade awarding The current status of Ofqual as an independent regulator accountable to Parliament is the right one However the Coalition Government is bringing in wholesale changes to GCSEs and A levels to a tight timetable and at the same time Ofqual must have systems in place The Committee is also concerned that there is a rush towards separate exam systems for England Wales and Northern Ireland without careful reflection on what might be lost or consensus that this is the right thing to do

Christina Ho,2020-06-02 The children of Asian migrants are often perceived to be perfect students ambitious studious and compliant They are remarkably successful routinely outperforming other students in exams dominating selective school intakes and disproportionately winning places at prestigious universities While their hard work and success have been praised their achievements have ignited fierce debates about whether their migrant parents are pushing too hard or whether they ought to be lauded for their commitment to education Critics see a dark side symbolised by the tiger mother who is obsessed with producing overachieving dragon children What is often missing in these debates is an understanding of what drives Asian migrant parents approaches to education This book explores how aspirations for their children s future reinforce their anxieties about being newcomers in an unequal society

Non-Linear Perspectives on Teacher Development Kathryn J. Strom,Tammy Mills,Linda Abrams,2023-03-21 Despite the multifaceted complexity of teaching dominant perspectives conceptualize teacher development in linear dualistic transactional human centric ways The authors in this book offer non linear alternatives by drawing on a continuum of complex perspectives including CHAT complexity theory actor network theory indigenous studies rhizomatics and posthuman neomaterialisms The chapters included here illuminate how different ways of thinking can help us better examine how teachers learn relationally with human material and discursive elements and offer ways to understand the entangled nature of the relationship between that learning and what emerges in classroom instructional practice They also present situated illustrations of what those entanglements or assemblages look like in the preservice induction and inservice phases from early childhood to secondary settings and across multiple continents Authors provide evidence that research on teacher development should focus on process as much if not more than product and show that complexity perspectives can support forward thinking assets based pedagogies Methodologically the chapters encourage conceptual creativity and expansion and support an argument for blurring theory method and normalising methodological hybridity Ultimately this book provides conceptual theoretical and methodological tools to understand current educational conditions in late capitalism and imagine otherwise It was originally published as a special issue of the journal Professional Development in Education How the Brain Learns David A. Sousa,2016-10-28 Apply the newest brain research to enhance all students learning Educational neuroscience consultant David A Sousa continues his tradition of translating new findings into effective classroom strategies and activities in this updated version of his bestselling text This fifth edition integrates recent developments in neuroscience education and psychology and includes New information on memory systems especially working memory capacity Updated research on how the explosion of technology is affecting the brain Current findings on brain organization and hemispheric specialization New evidence on how learning the arts enhances cognitive processing and creativity An expanded resources section More than 150 new or updated references

Students' Accuracy in Written English Under the Impression of the new "G8" System - a Case Study Johanna Schroeder,2014-04-11 Inhaltsangabe Introduction In Germany education matters lie within the scope of each of the 16 German federal states Consequently there is no unique educational system which is valid for the entire Federal Republic of Germany but 16 individual ones However a German wide basic framework including regulations about the compulsory school attendance for instance does exist The duration of compulsory schooling until passing the Abitur at the Gymnasium however is not regulated by this framework but belongs to the power of decision of each federal state For instance in Thuringia and Saxony the duration of compulsory schooling at the Gymnasium has been limited to eight years as it was already the case before the reunification of Germany in 1990 In the other federal states like North Rhine Westphalia for example the duration of compulsory schooling at the Gymnasium included an additional ninth year resulting in the fact that the students attended the Gymnasium from grade 5 until grade 13 Nevertheless in 2001 the ministry of education of the federal state Saarland decided for a reduction of the duration of compulsory schooling at the Gymnasium by one year By now all the other federal states have followed and therefore also made the decision for a reduced duration of only eight years at the Gymnasium After many heated discussions also the North Rhine Westphalian ministry of education decided for a reduction of the duration of compulsory schooling at the Gymnasium As a consequence of this decision students of two grades G8 and G9 students entered the upper secondary level at all North Rhine Westphalian Gymnasien on August 31st 2010 Ministerium f r Schule und Weiterbildung des Landes Nordrhein Westfalen n d a The students of this so called Doppeljahrgang will all graduate in 2013 and therefore all of them will have to pass the same Abitur exams Hence it must be guaranteed that G8 students have the same preconditions as G9 students despite having one year less of general schooling before graduating Since no students have entered the upper secondary level after only five years at the Gymnasium in North Rhine Westphalia before 2010 empirical research in this area is hardly available by now Nevertheless this Doppeljahrgang offers the unique chance of directly comparing G8 and G9 students in order to find out in how far the new G8 system was implemented successfully or not Especially in the context of learning
