Mars Station Economic Detective:

Life on Mars Stephen Lacey, Ruth McElroy, 2012-03-15 Life on Mars From Manchester to New York is the first full account of this ground breaking television drama and uses textual analysis and cultural and contextual critique to explore the popular and critical success of the original UK series and the US remake The Value of the Moon Paul D.

Spudis, 2016-04-26 While the Moon was once thought to hold the key to space exploration in recent decades the U S has largely turned its sights toward Mars and other celestial bodies instead In The Value of the Moon lunar scientist Paul Spudis argues that the U S can and should return to the moon in order to remain a world leader in space utilization and development and a participant in and beneficiary of a new lunar economy Spudis explores three reasons for returning to the Moon it is close it is interesting and it is useful The proximity of the Moon not only allows for frequent launches but also control of any machinery we place there It is interesting because recorded deep on its surface and in its craters is the preserved history of the moon the sun and indeed the entire galaxy And finally the moon is useful because it is rich with materials and energy The moon Spudis argues is a logical base for further space exploration and even a possible future home for us all Throughout his work Spudis incorporates details about man s fascination with the moon and its place in our shared history He also explores its religious cultural and scientific resonance and assesses its role in the future of spaceflight and our national security and prosperity Programming the Future Sherryl Vint, Jonathan Alexander, 2022-11-01 From 9 11 to COVID 19 the twenty first century looks increasingly dystopian and so do its television shows Long form science fiction narratives take one step further the fears of today liberal democracy in crisis growing economic precarity the threat of terrorism and omnipresent corporate control At the same time many of these shows attempt to visualize alternatives using dystopian extrapolations to spotlight the possibility of building a better world Programming the Future examines how recent speculative television takes on the contradictions of the neoliberal order Sherryl Vint and Jonathan Alexander consider a range of popular SF narratives of the last two decades including Battlestar Galactica Watchmen Colony The Man in the High Castle The Expanse and Mr Robot They argue that science fiction television foregrounds governance as part of explaining the novel institutions and norms of its imagined futures In so doing SF shows allegorize and critique contemporary social political and economic developments helping audiences resist the naturalization of the status quo Vint and Alexander also draw on queer theory to explore the representation of family structures and their relationship to larger social structures Recasting both dystopian and utopian narratives Programming the Future shows how depictions of alternative world political struggles speak to urgent real world issues of identity belonging and social and political change NASA Tech Briefs, 1990 Reclaiming Social Work Iain Ferguson, 2007-12-12 Reclaiming Social Work is a thought provoking and innovative book which examines how social work s commitment to social justice has been deepened and enriched by its contact with wider social movements It explores the tensions between social work values and a market driven agenda and locates new resources of hope for the social work profession in the developing resistance to managerialism The book discusses pertinent social work issues such as inequality and risk the voluntary sector and service user involvement examines values such as democracy solidarity accountability participation justice equality liberty and diversity is written in an accessible style drawing on diverse examples to illustrate theoretical concepts Reclaiming Social Work is an accessible yet challenging book and will be essential reading for all social work students and practitioners wanting to think outside the boundaries of their profession The book will be particularly helpful to students taking courses in anti oppressive practice social work values social work theories and concepts and international social work Iain Ferguson is a Senior Lecturer in Social Work at the University of Stirling Previous publications include Rethinking Welfare A Critical Perspective SAGE 2002 co authored with Michael Lavalette and Gerry Mooney Globalisation Global Justice and Social Work Routledge 2004 co edited with Michael Lavalette and Elizabeth Whitmore and International Social Work and the Radical Tradition Venture Press 2007 co edited with Michael Lavalette
