policymakers researchers scholars practitioners instructors and students      Doctoral Training in Engineering Wilson R. Nyemba, Keith F. Carter, 2024-03-07 The book provides a comprehensive analysis of Engineering Education in industrialising countries with Southern Africa as the case study benchmarked on institutions from the industrialised world with UK institutions as the reference This was motivated by the perennial shortage of engineers and engineering skills to drive industry in Southern Africa compounded by the mismatch of skills between those produced by tertiary institutions and those required by industry This book focuses on the insufficiencies in training through addressing the gap where the majority of engineering academics qualifications at MSc MEng level fall short of the internationally acceptable PhD DEng DTech In order to address such insufficiencies the book proposes and advocates for reskilling and doctoral training of engineering academics through the proposed and established DTCs within the region The book is targeted at graduate students engineering academics researchers university administrators foreign aid agencies captains of industry and policy makers in governments To all these readers the book offers      Reshaping Entrepreneurial Education Within an Industry 4.0 Context Naidoo, Vannie, Verma, Rahul, 2024-01-17 Higher education is constantly changing and advancing and the integration of technology and its transformative potential remains elusive for many universities globally While other industries have surged forward with digitization higher education has been slow to completely embrace technology driven outcomes Reshaping Entrepreneurial Education Within an Industry 4.0 Context sheds light on the barriers preventing widespread technological adoption and the profound changes that Industry 4.0 brings to education As the fourth industrial revolution Industry 4.0 continues to unfold this book delves into how this phenomenon is reshaping the field of education This book presents a comprehensive analysis of how digital technology and capabilities are becoming integral to building more flexible and adaptive tertiary education systems in regions like Latin America and the Caribbean It also highlights the challenges faced by online learning and the urgent need for a fundamental rethinking of higher education to ensure equal access to quality education This publication addresses a diverse audience making it an essential resource for students academicians and higher education administrators seeking an in depth understanding of Reshaping Entrepreneurial Education Within an Industry 4.0 Context For practitioners it provides valuable insights to enrich their work in the realm of higher education The book covers a broad spectrum of key themes including the impact of the 4th industrial revolution on entrepreneurial education the transformative power of online learning in global universities and the hurdles faced in adopting digital education Additionally the experts behind this research delve into how information and communication technologies ICTs are influencing educational policies and teaching methods worldwide as well as the role of metaverse technologies in designing curricula for entrepreneurial education      ICT in Agriculture (Updated Edition) World Bank, 2017-06-27 Information and communication technology ICT has always mattered in agriculture Ever since people have grown crops raised livestock and caught fish they have sought information from one another Today ICT represents a tremendous opportunity for rural populations to improve productivity to enhance food and nutrition security to access markets and to find employment opportunities in a revitalized sector ICT has unleashed incredible potential to improve agriculture and it has found a foothold even in poor smallholder farms ICT in Agriculture Updated Edition is the revised version of the popular ICT in Agriculture e Sourcebook first launched in 2011 and designed to support practitioners decision makers and development partners who work at the intersection of ICT and agriculture Our hope is that this updated Sourcebook will be a practical guide to understanding current trends implementing appropriate interventions and evaluating the impact of ICT interventions in agricultural programs

Housing and Technology Abraham R. Matamanda, Innocent Chirisa, Siphokazi Rammile, Mario Marais, 2022-10-31 The housing and human settlement sector is fast changing and technology is making it more complex than ever before With reference to Zimbabwe a developing country in Southern Africa the essence of this book is to bring out housing as an issue within the technology debate and practice The following themes emerge from the 6 chapters in the book The characterisation and conceptualisation of housing and technology and the nexus of both The complexity of housing challenges and the problems governments face in providing adequate housing especially for the poor Diverse practices in housing construction through the application of different typologies of technology Assessment of the feasibility of technologies in housing development in Zimbabwe by mirroring them against global experiences Discussion of alternative policy approaches that may guide technology integration in housing development This book will excite scholars and practitioners in urban and development studies construction project management urban sociology geography real estate together with policymakers and government officials

Aspects of Real Estate Theory and Practice in Zimbabwe Chirisa, Innocent, Juru, Mike Eric, 2019-08-23 The subject of real estate is increasingly becoming important especially in the countries of the developing world States and governments realise that real estate is a corner stone of socio economic development Real estate development contributes immensely to the gross physical capital formation Its formation construction and ancillary sectors contribute to the employment infrastructure development and gross domestic product The main challenges about real estate is about where to develop it how to develop it how to manage and compute valuations about it Such are the issues discussed in this volume The book draws on Zimbabwe as a case study to demonstrate the critical aspects that define theory and real estate practice in various contexts national regional and international

The Geometry of Urban Layouts Mahbub Rashid, 2016-06-16 This book presents a compendium of the urban layout maps of 2 mile square downtown areas of more than one hundred cities in developed and developing countries all drawn at the same scale using high resolution satellite images of Google Maps The book also presents analytic studies using metric geometrical topological or network and fractal measures of these maps These analytic studies identify ordinaries extremes similarities and differences in these maps investigate the scaling properties of these maps and develop precise descriptive categories types and indicators for multidimensional comparative studies of these maps The findings of these studies indicate that many geometric relations of the urban layouts of downtown areas follow regular patterns that despite social economic and cultural differences among cities the geometric measures of downtown areas in cities of developed and developing countries do not show significant differences and that the geometric possibilities of urban layouts are vastly greater than those that have been realized so far in our cities      Community Resilience under the Impact of Urbanisation and Climate Change Innocent Chirisa, Christopher Mabeza, 2019-01-07 As the world today faces messy problems what in some circles has been called global weirding the term resilience has taken centre stage This is crunch time as we grapple with the negative effects of both climate change and urbanisation Some commentators have compared the huge problems we face today to Oom Schalks proverbial leopard waiting for us in the withaaks shade Do we endlessly count Oom Schalks proverbial leopards spots This is the question posed by a stellar cast of academics researchers and experts whose contributions in this text is a rallying cry for action to build resilience to the challenging impact of urbanisation and climate change To that end this volume gives hope about the potential for human agency Our challenge however is to re examine our values to change our conservation conversation and return to a more wise and holistic understanding of ourselves and our place in the Universe Perhaps then only can the obituaries on our demise stay locked in the drawer      Food and Potential Industrial Applications of Bambara

Groundnut Samson A. Oyeyinka, Beatrice I. O. Ade-Omowaye, 2021-10-06 Bambara groundnut Vigna subterranea is a crop native to the Bambara tribe of Mali and is grown as a subsistence crop in Africa Recent advances in research however have brought the crop to the forefront of the sustainable agriculture movement The Bambara plant is highly drought tolerant and rich in protein and carbohydrates including starch These macromolecules have enormous industrial potentials For example the starch in Bambara grain has been found to exhibit higher double viscosity than conventional corn starch Modified Bambara groundnut starch has been used to produce edible bioplastics that could be upgraded industrially to suit the fourth industrial revolution shift Bambara plants are also a natural source of soluble fiber which is gluten lactose and cholesterol free with potential as a stabiliser thickener and gelling agent as well as a cryoprotectant in frozen products The health benefits include lowering of cholesterol levels levelling of blood glucose and as a detoxing aid Furthermore several researchers have explored the grain either alone or as composite with cereal and tubers for the development of value added products Food and Potential Industrial Applications of Bambara Groundnut presents in a clear coherent way the research findings on Bambara grain and its status as a promising food and industrial crop      Bridging the Academia Industry Divide Wilson R. Nyemba, Charles Mbohwa, Keith F. Carter, 2021-05-12 This book is the result of years of research following a realization of the mismatch of engineering skills produced by universities and those that industry required based on the situation in Sub Saharan Africa equally applicable to other regions in Africa and indeed worldwide The book is meant to assist engineering academics and engineers in industry to build capacity and cope with the dynamic trends in technology brought on by the 4th Industrial Revolution and to prepare for the 5th Industrial Revolution an era predicted to be dominated by critical and system thinkers with creative and innovative skills as basic necessities The book is also useful for policy making researchers in academia industrial and public sector researchers and implementers in governments that provide required funding for the development of human resources and skills The book primarily consists of the novel research and innovation approaches of modelling and building systems thinking sub models which were ultimately integrated into the Universal Systems Thinking UST model aimed at improving the quality of engineers and engineering practice The initiatives in this book include strategies for bridging the gap between industry and academia through systems thinking research The book provides information on how to model simulate adjust and implement integrated systems thinking approaches to engineering education and training for capacity building and sustainability The book also covers approaches to address research gaps and mismatch of skills while capitalizing on the successes of several projects carried out and supported by the Royal Academy of Engineering over the years

Patrolling Epistemic Borders in a World of Borderless Pandemics Artwell Nhemachena, Rewai Makamani, 2021-11-19 The global epistemological gendarmerie do not only police epistemologies but they also infect the world with infectious epidemics of laughter targeted at those people whose epistemologies are offhandedly condemned as sterile and useless in controlling and containing pandemics Patrolling epistemic borders in ways that demobilise indigenous epistemologies the global epistemological policemen have ironically managed to prevent transgressive epistemologies from crossing borders but they have fatally failed to prevent the transgressive COVID 19 from recurrently crossing borders be they bodily national or continental Brandishing fetishised degree and diploma certificates African comprador academics who are more interested in fetishised ranks and titles than in creativity and innovation have also fatally failed to help African communities by producing vaccines for Africans by Africans Arguing that Eurocentric epistemologies have become sterile fetishes the book contends that such epistemologies have disabled African scholars from actively producing vaccines on a continent where there are paradoxically more epidemics of mimetic laughter than there are efforts at creativity and innovation The book is useful for scholars in sociology anthropology development studies languages and communication natural sciences historical studies and social work
