Brand Command Alex Marland, 2016-03-15 The pursuit of political power is strategic as never before Ministers MPs and candidates parrot the same catchphrases The public service has become politicized And decision making is increasingly centralized in the Prime Minister's Office What is happening to our democracy In this persuasive book Alex argues that political parties and government are beholden to the same marketing principles used by the world's largest corporations Called branding the strategy demands repetition of spoken written and visual messages predetermined by the leader's inner circle Marland warns that public sector branding is an unstoppable force that will persist no matter who is in power It also creates serious problems for parliamentary democracy that must be confronted This book will fascinate anyone who is interested in how Ottawa works and where Canadian politics is headed
