Mask Of Death:

Mask of Death William J Connell,2024-11-26 It s not the story you think you know Do you like stories So do I If you have time I have an interesting one to tell Our story begins somewhere in Turin northwestern Italy Specifically Sacra di San Michele a fortress like abbey located at the pinnacle of Mount Pirchiriano The time is the mid 14th century The black plague or the great mortality as it is sometimes called is in full bloom across Western Europe In Sacra di San Michele we find the three main players Prince Prospero Malatesta the acting ruler of this land Elizabeth Malatesta his wife Finally Clarinda Like many rulers of his time the Prince is a man of vanity Elizabeth is a normal human as much as you though unfortunately neither her marriage nor her body is healthy And Clarinda is a survivor Circumstances shall soon force Elizabeth out of the abbey and to near or absolute death Yet even in death she finds there is the life of a fleshier Elizabeth may have died but she has not forgotten Prince Prospero sealed in his castle with so many of his friends Elizabeth seeks revenge And among the fleshers she has followers You may think you have heard this story but there is much much more than has been told In these pages you will find the origins of the Masks of Death A Black Death Tale

Napoleon's Death-mask George Leo de St. M. Watson, 1915 The Masks of Keats Thomas McFarland, 2000 This book surveys the poetic endeavour of John Keats and urges that his true poetry is uniquely constituted by being uttered through three artificial masks rather than through the natural voice of his quotidian self The first mask is formed by the attitudes and reality that ensue from a conscious commitment to the identity of poet as such The second called here the Mask of Camelot takes shape from Keats's acceptance and compelling use of the vogue for medieval imaginings that was sweeping across Europe in his time The third the Mask of Hellas eventuated from Keats's enthusiastic immersion in the rising tide of Romantic Hellenism Keats's great achievement the book argues can only be ascertained by means of a resuscitation of the defunct critical category of genius as that informs his use of the masks To validate this category the volume is concerned throughout with the necessity of discriminating the truly poetic from the meretricious in Keats's endeavour The Masks of Keats thus constitutes a criticism of and a rebuke to the deconstructive approach which must treat all texts as equal and must entirely forego the conception of quality The Hungry Blade Lawrence Dudley, 2020-01-21 The new fast paced WWII era spy thriller from the author of New York Station Forty modern masterpieces are found concealed on a neutral ship in international waters sixteen months before the bombing of Pearl Harbor Their provenance is sketchy and their final destination unknown The Royal Navy suspects the works are degenerate art seized by the Nazis and shipped across the Atlantic to create cash for their covert operations But how to prove it There's only one man for the job Roy Hawkins The British Secret Intelligence Service has put their half American star agent in tough spots before and he's always come out on top But this time Hawkins is headed to Mexico where the vibrant art scene and tight knit German expatriate community obscure the paintings ultimate purpose As he tracks the art from Veracruz to Mexico City Hawkins struggles to see the Nazis endgame For the first time he doesn't speak the language and he doesn't know the players but he does know how to fight Fascists Problem is in the get along and go along culture of wartime profiteering distinguishing between the true believers and the opportunists is no easy task Can Hawkins untangle the false leads and double crosses before the Nazis realize their sinister plan The Death Mask Murders Laraine Stephens, 2021-06 It is February 1918 Somewhere in the bayside suburbs of Melbourne the Death Mask Murderer is lurking engaged in a ritualistic killing spree The Corpse Christine Quigley, 2005-10-27 Throughout the centuries different cultures have established a variety of procedures for handling and disposing of corpses Often the methods are directly associated with the deceased's position in life such as a pharaoh's mummification in Egypt or the cremation of a Buddhist Treatment by the living of the dead over time and across cultures is the focus of this study Burial arrangements and preparations are detailed including embalming the funeral service storage and transport of the body and forms of burial Autopsies and the investigative process of causes of deliberate death are fully covered Preservation techniques such as cryonic suspension and mummification are discussed as well as a look at the recycling of the corpse through organ donation donation to medicine animal scavengers cannibalism and of course natural
