The Oulipo and Modern Thought Dennis Duncan, 2019-07-08 The impact of the Oulipo Ouvroir de Littérature Potentielle one of the most important groups of experimental writers of the late twentieth century is still being felt in contemporary literature criticism and theory both in Europe and the US Founded in 1960 and still active today this Parisian literary workshop has featured among its members such notable writers as Italo Calvino Georges Perec and Raymond Queneau all sharing in its light-hearted slightly boozy bonhomie the convivial antithesis of the fractious volatile coterie of the early twentieth century avant-garde For the last fifty years the Oulipo has undertaken the same simple goal to investigate the potential of constraints in the production of literature that is formal procedures such as anagrams acrostics lipograms texts which exclude a certain letter and other strange and complex devices Yet far from being mere parlour games these methods have been frequently used as part of a passionate though sometimes satirical involvement with the major intellectual currents of the mid twentieth century Structuralism psychoanalysis Surrealism analytic philosophy all come under discussion in the group's meetings and all find their way in the group's exercises in ways that while often ironic are also highly informed Using meeting minutes correspondence and other material from the Oulipo archive at the Bibliothèque nationale de France The Oulipo and Modern Thought shows how the group have used constrained writing as means of puckish engagement with the debates of their peers and how as the broader intellectual landscape altered so too would the group's conception of what constrained writing can achieve

(Multi) Media Translation Yves Gambier, Henrik Gottlieb, 2001-09-06 The globalisation of communication networks has increased the domains of translation and is challenging ever more the translator's role This volume is a collection of contributions from two different conferences Misano 1997 and Berlin 1998 Multi Media translation especially screen translation TV cinema video has made more explicit the complexities of any communication and has led us to take a fresh look at the translator's strategies and behaviours Several papers ponder the concepts of media and multimedia the necessity of interdisciplinarity the polysemiotic dimension of audiovisual media Quite a few discuss the current transformations in audiovisual media policy A great many deal with practices mainly in subtitling but also in interpreting for TV and surtitling what are the quality parameters and the conditions to meet audience's expectations Finally some show the cultural and linguistic implications of screen translation Digitalisation is changing production and broadcasting and speeding up convergence between media telecommunications and information and communication technology Is multi media translation a new field of study or an umbrella framework for scholars from various disciplines Is it a trick to overcome the absence of prestige in Translation Studies Or is it just a buzz word which gives rise to confusion These questions remain open the 26 contributions are partial answers

Prehistoric Iberia Antonio Arnaiz-Villena, 2012-12-06 The symposium Prehistoric Iberia genetics anthropology and linguistics was held in the Circulo de Bellas Artes Madrid on 16th 17th November 1998 The idea was bringing together specialists who could address not clearly resolved historic and prehistoric issues regarding ancient Iberian and Mediterranean populations following a multidisciplinary approach This was necessary in the light of the new bulk of genetic archeological and linguistic data obtained with the new DNA technology and the recent discoveries in the other fields Genes may now be easily studied in populations particularly HLA genes and markers of the mitochondrial DNA and the Y chromosome Basques Iberians North Africans Berbers Imazighen and Mediterraneans have presently been widely studied The genetic emerging picture is that Mediterraneans are closely related from West Basque Iberians Berbers to East Jews Lebanese Cretans however Greeks are outliers in all the analyses done by using HLA genes Anthropologists and archeologists showed how there was no people substitution during the revolutionary Mesolithic Neolithic transition in addition cultural relationships were found between Iberia and predinastic Egypt EI Badari culture Basque language translation into Spanish has been the key for relating most Mediterranean extinct languages The Usko Mediterranean languages were once spoken in a wide African and European area which also included parts of Asia This was the old language that was slowly substituted by Eurasian languages starting approximately after the Bronze Age or 2 000 years BC

The Postcolonial Arabic Novel Muhsin Al-Musawi, 2003-04-09 This is the first study of its kind to tackle the postcolonial in Arabic fiction In ten chapters a lengthy preface and an extensive bibliography the author discusses and questions a large number of novels that demonstrate cultural diversity and richness in the Arab World Using current methodologies and discourse analysis the author highlights engagements with postcolonial issues that relate to identity formation the modern nation state individualism nationalism gender and class demarcations and micro politics With this intention the book locates Arabic narrative in the mainstream of world literature and establishes the modern Arabic novel in the contemporary literary critical world of postcolonial studies The author's lucid style and thorough knowledge of the field should recommend the book to students and scholars alike as it comes in time to meet the needs of the academy for solid writing on Islam and the Arabs
