When Loss Gets Personal Michelle M. Falter,Steven T. Bickmore,2018-11-23 When Loss Gets Personal

considers how secondary English language arts teachers and teacher educators can sensitively and thoughtfully teach pieces of literature in their classrooms in which death is a significant if not central aspect of the texts. Death is something that affects all people young and old yet it is rarely discussed openly in classrooms despite its prevalence in texts read in ELA classrooms. Whether it is canonical or contemporary literature, middle grades or young adult literature, fiction, nonfiction, or graphic novels, literature provides a vehicle to have difficult but needed conversations about personal deaths such as cancer, accidents, suicide, etc. Each chapter in this book focuses on 1-2 texts and provides practical activities that ask students to engage with the loss through writing assignments, projects, activities, and discussion prompts in order to build empathy, understanding, and develop critically minded and engaged students. When Loss Gets Personal will be of interest to English language arts teachers, teacher educators, librarians, and scholars who wish to explore with their students the complex emotions that revolve around discussing deaths that occur in literature.

Teaching Young Adult Literature Today Judith A. Hayn, Jeffrey S. Kaplan, Karina R. Clemmons, 2016-11-02. This book introduces the reader to what is current and relevant in the plethora of good books available for adolescents. More importantly, literary experts illustrate how teachers everywhere can help their students become lifelong readers by simply introducing them to great reads, smart, insightful, and engaging books that are specifically written for adolescents. Hayn, Kaplan, and their contributors address a wide range of topics: how to avoid common obstacles to using YAL, selecting quality YAL for classrooms while balancing these with curriculum requirements, engaging disenfranchised readers, pairing YAL with technology as an innovative way to teach curriculum standards across all content areas. Contributors also discuss more theoretical subjects such as the absence of lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, and questioning LGBTQ young adult literature in secondary classrooms and contemporary YAL that responds to the changing expectations of digital generation readers who want to blur the boundaries between page and screen. This book has been updated to reflect the wealth of new YA literature that has been published since the first edition appeared in March 2012 and to reflect new trends in technology that influences how adolescents are reading and responding to literature.

A Year in the Life of a Third Space Urban Teacher Residency Monica Taylor, Emily J. Klein, 2015-12-01. This book weaves together voices of faculty residents, mentors, administrators, community organizers, and students who have lived together in a third space urban teacher residency program in Newark as they reinvent math and science teaching and teacher education through the lens of inquiry. Each chapter includes narratives from multiple perspectives as well as tools we have used within the program to support and build change, providing readers with both real cases of how an urban teacher residency can impact school systems and concrete tools and examples to help the reader understand and replicate aspects of the process. Capturing both the successes but also the tensions and challenges, we offer a kaleidoscopic view of the rich, complex, and multi-layered ways in which multiple stakeholders work together to make enduring educational change in urban schools. Our third space NMUTR has been a fragile utopian enterprise one that has relied on a shared commitment of all involved and a deep sense of hope that working collaboratively has the potential even if not perfect to make a difference Teaching Tough Topics Larry Swartz, 2020-01-15 Teaching Tough Topics shows teachers how to lead students to become caring citizens as they read and respond to quality children's literature. It focuses on topics that can be challenging or sensitive yet are significant in order to build understanding of social justice, diversity, and equity. Racism, Homophobia, Bullying, Religious Intolerance, Poverty, and Physical and Mental Challenges are just some of the themes explored. The book is rooted in the belief that by using picture books, novels, poetry, and nonfiction, teachers can enrich learning with compassion and empathy as students make connections to texts, to others, and to the world.

Curious Minds Perry Zurn, Dani S. Bassett, 2023-09-05 An exhilarating genre-bending exploration of curiosity's powerful capacity to connect ideas and people. Curious about something? Google it. Look at it. Ask a question. But is curiosity simply information seeking? According to this exhilarating genre-bending book, what's left out of the conventional understanding of curiosity are the wandering tracks, the weaving concepts, the knitting of ideas, and the thatching of knowledge systems, the networks, the relations between ideas and between people. Curiosity, say Perry Zurn and Dani Bassett, is a practice of connection; it connects ideas into networks of knowledge and it connects knowers themselves both to the knowledge they seek and to each other. Zurn and Bassett, identical twins who write that their book represents the thought of one mind and two bodies, harness their respective expertise in the humanities and the sciences to get irrepressibly curious about curiosity. Traipsing across literatures of antiquity and medieval science, Victorian poetry, and nature essays, as well as work by writers from a variety of marginalized communities, they trace a multitudinous curiosity. They identify three styles of curiosity: the busybody who collects stories, creating loose knowledge networks; the hunter who hunts down secrets or discoveries, creating tight networks; and the dancer who takes leaps of creative imagination, creating loopy ones. Investigating what happens in a curious brain, they offer an accessible account of the network neuroscience of curiosity. And they sketch out a new kind of curiosity centric and inclusive education that embraces everyone s curiosity The book performs the very curiosity that it describes inviting readers to participate to be curious with the book and not simply about it

Turcan,John E. Reilly,2020-11-21 Against a background of increasing inequality and a rising tide of nationalism and populism this book raises concerns that curriculum is being shaped by powerful non academic non accountable forces and that populism and its manifestations represent a grave challenge to learning It explores the extent to which curriculum and learning methods in higher education should respond to this challenge Using problem based learning as a case study it draws on crossdisciplinary studies to examine how regional national and organizational perspectives emphasize different aspects of PBL It questions whether PBL provides an effective response to external influences and a populist highereducation agenda In conclusion the book poses an uncomfortable question whether graduates reflect the external forces shaping curriculum and hence may be as vulnerable to populist rhetoric as non graduates precisely because the curriculum and learning methods do not engage with the challenges This book will appeal to scholars of problem based learning as well as populism and therole of
