Corporate Finance Law Louise Gullifer, Jennifer Payne, 2015-10-22 The second edition of this acclaimed book continues to provide a discussion of key theoretical and policy issues in corporate finance law Fully updated it reflects developments in the law and the markets in the continuing aftermath of the Global Financial Crisis One of its distinctive features is that it gives equal coverage to both the equity and debt sides of corporate finance law and seeks where possible to compare the two This book covers a broad range of topics regarding the debt and equity raising choices of companies of all sizes from SMEs to the largest publicly traded enterprises and the mechanisms by which those providing capital are protected Each chapter analyses the present law critically so as to enable the reader to understand the difficulties risks and tensions in this area of law and the attempts made by the legislature and the courts as well as the parties involved to deal with them This book will be of interest to practitioners academics and students engaged in the practice and study of corporate finance law South African Schooling: The Enigma of Inequality Nic Spaull, Jonathan D. Jansen, 2019-11-05 This volume brings together many of South Africa's leading scholars of education and covers the full range of South African schooling from financing and policy reform to in depth discussions of literacy numeracy teacher development and curriculum change The book moves beyond a historical analysis and provides an inside view of the questions South African scholars are now grappling with Are there different and preferential equilibria we have not yet thought of or explored and if so what are they In practical terms how does one get to a more equitable distribution of teachers resources and learning outcomes While decidedly local these questions resonate throughout the developing world South Africa today is the most unequal country in the world The richest 10% of South Africans lay claim to 65% of national income and 90% of national wealth This is the largest 90/10 gap in the world and one that is reflected in the schooling system Two decades after apartheid it is still the case that the life chances of most South African children are determined not by their ability or the result of hard work and determination but instead by the colour of their skin the province of their birth and the wealth of their parents Looking back on almost three decades of democracy in South Africa it is this stubbornness of inequality and its patterns of persistence that demands explanation justification and analysis This is a landmark book on basic education in South Africa an essential volume for those interested in learning outcomes and their inequality in South Africa The various chapters present conceptually and empirically sophisticated analyses of learning outcomes across divisions of race class and place The book brings together the wealth of decades of research output from top quality researchers to explore what has improved what has not and why Prof Lant Pritchett Harvard University There is much wisdom in this collection from many of the best education analysts in South Africa No surprise that they conclude that without a large and sustained expansion in well trained teachers early childhood education and adequate school resources South Africa will continue to sacrifice its people's future to maintaining the privileges of the few Prof Martin Carnoy Stanford University Altogether one can derive from this very valuable volume if not an exact blueprint for the future then certainly at least a crucial and evidence based itinerary for the next few steps Dr Luis Crouch RTI

Crisis, Austerity, and Transformation Isabel David, 2018-01-22 Discussions of the recent austerity measures in Southern Europe as a response to the sovereign debt crisis have been usually framed in terms of their economic impact However the general impoverishment of these countries has induced other massive social and political changes a fact which is ignored in the literature This volume seeks to fill this gap and break ground by analyzing these trends in the Portuguese context Portugal has been portrayed as the Troika s good pupil by obediently adopting all prescribed austerity measures In the process the nation s fragile social fabric has been destroyed Massive emigration particularly by young people massive increases in poverty and a foundering economy have triggered a collective framing of the crisis and austerity as unjust and punitive of a collectivity that at the beginning naively believed in the neoliberal narrative of the benign effects of the cuts This reframing unleashed an unprecedented wave of social and political mobilization in an otherwise traditionally apathetic society This resistance needs to be addressed as a direct effect of austerity policies and properly analyzed for what it really represents a process of repoliticization and re democratization sweeping Europe These mobilizations include direct democracy experiments the growing influence of social movements the massive March 2011 demonstrations were a direct inspiration for the creation of the Indignado movement in Spain attesting the contagion effect solidarity economy and the major political change in the country s 42 years of democratic rule an alliance of the left parties unthinkable before the crisis and which is reframing relations with the European Union This volume offers a first approach to the massive political social and cultural transformations taking place in the country that make Portugal in certain aspects a lab for innovative practices e g participatory budgets and the alliance of the left parties
