Hsc Economics Suggestion 2015:

Quality of Life Improvement: Smart Approaches for the Working and Aging Populations Sabina Baraković, Zahid Akhtar, Jasmina Barakovic Husic, 2024-03-19 Quality of life QoL is a broad concept that has many definitions and meanings depending on the context under consideration. It can be perceived as the overall enjoyment of life and a multidimensional concept which emphasizes the self-perceptions of an individual's current state of mind which is affected in a complex way by the person's physical health, psychological state, personal beliefs, social relationships, and their relationship to salient features of their environment. On the other hand, demographic data suggests an increased need for workers worldwide and a rapid aging trend in the active workforce as well as in general. This trend of workforce deficit and population aging will be even more prominent in the future. Therefore, in order to have and sustain a healthy, motivated, and productive workforce but also healthy, independent, and active elderly adults, one must improve their QoL, and vice versa. Improving QoL will improve general public health and in turn create communities who can contribute in diverse and positive ways to both promote and sustain health for future generations. The EU's External Governance of Migration Michela Ceccorulli, Enrico Fassi, 2021-11-14

This book examines migration as a key element of the European Union's EU's foreign policy and thus a critical domain for understanding and evaluating EU external action. It documents, explains, and assesses the implementation of EU migration policies, especially after the crisis of 2015, providing a much-needed overall evaluation and comparison in different geographic contexts. Applying a composite approach to global political justice, it affords a normative assessment of EU's action and shows the tensions between the justice claims of the many actors involved in the EU migration system of governance. This book will be of key interest to scholars, students, and policymakers in European Union external foreign policy, migration, and refugee studies, global justice, ethics, and more broadly to European studies, politics, and international relations.

Food Futures in Education and Society Gurbinder Singh Lalli, Angela Turner, Marion Rutland, 2023-07-11 This book brings together a unique collection of chapters to facilitate a broad discussion on food education that will stimulate readers to think about key policies, recent research, curriculum positions, and how to engage with key stakeholders about the future of food. Food education has gained much attention because the challenges that influence food availability and eating in schools also extend beyond the school gate. Accordingly, this book establishes evidence-based arguments that recognise the many facets of food education and reveal how learning through a future's lens and joined-up thinking is critical for shaping intergenerational fairness concerning food futures in education and society. This book is distinctive through its multidisciplinary collection of chapters on food education with a particular focus on the Global North, with case studies from England, Australia, the Republic of Ireland, the United States of America, Canada, and Germany. With a focus on three key themes and a rigorous food futures framework, the book is structured into three sections: i) food education pedagogy and curriculum; ii) knowledge and skill diversity associated with food and health learning; and iii) food education inclusivity culture.

and agency Overall this volume extends and challenges current research and theory in the area of food education and food pedagogy and offers insight and tangible benefits for the future development of food education policies and curricula This book will be of great interest to students scholars policymakers and education leaders working on food education and pedagogy food policy health and diet and the sociology of food The Laws of Scientific Change Hakob

Barseghyan,2015-08-17 This book systematically creates a general descriptive theory of scientific change that explains the mechanics of changes in both scientific theories and the methods of their assessment It was once believed that while scientific theories change through time their change itself is governed by a fixed method of science Nowadays we know that there is no such thing as an unchangeable method of science the criteria employed by scientists in theory evaluation also change through time But if that is so how and why do theories and methods change Are there any general laws that govern this process or is the choice of theories and methods completely arbitrary and random Contrary to the widespread opinion the book argues that scientific change is indeed a law governed process and that there can be a general descriptive theory of scientific change It does so by first presenting meta theoretical issues divided into chapters on the scope possibility and assessment of theory of scientific change It then builds a theory about the general laws that govern the process of scientific change and goes into detail about the axioms and theorems of the theory
