Identity And Ethnic Relations In Southeast Asia:

Identity and Ethnic Relations in Southeast Asia Chee Kiong Tong, 2010-08-03 Modern nation states do not constitute closed entities This is true especially in Southeast Asia where Chinese migrants have continued to make their new homes over a long period of time resulting in many different ethnic groups co existing in new nation states Focusing on the consequences of migration and cultural contact between the various ethnic groups this book describes and analyses the nature of ethnic identity and state of ethnic relations both historically and in the present day in multi ethnic pluralistic nation states in Southeast Asia Drawing on extensive primary fieldwork in Malaysia Singapore Indonesia Burma Vietnam Thailand and the Philippines the book examines the mediations and transformation of ethnic identity and the social incorporation tensions and conflicts and the construction of new social worlds resulting from cultural contact among different ethnic groups

Ethnic Relations and Nation-Building in Southeast Asia Leo Suryadinata, 2004 Ethnic racial relations have been a perennial theme in Southeast Asian studies Current events have highlighted the tensions among ethnic groups and the need to maintain ethnic racial harmony for national unity This book analyses ethnic race relations in Singapore Malaysia and Indonesia with special reference to the roles of ethnic Chinese in nation building It brings together a group of established Southeast Asian scholars to critically examine some of the important issues such as ethnic politics nation building state policies and conflict resolution These scholars of different ethnic origins present their own ethnic perspectives and hence make the book unique This is the most up to date book on ethnic racial relations with special reference to the ethnic Chinese in three Southeast Asian countries

Contesting Chineseness Chang-Yau Hoon, Ying-kit Chan, 2021-03-15 Combining a historical approach of Chineseness and a contemporary perspective on the social construction of Chineseness this book provides comparative insights to understand the contingent complexities of ethnic and social formations in both China and among the Chinese diaspora in Southeast Asia This book focuses on the experiences and practices of these people who as mobile agents are free to embrace or reject being defined as Chinese by moving across borders and reinterpreting their own histories By historicizing the notion of Chineseness at local regional and global levels the book examines intersections of authenticity authority culture identity media power and international relations that support or undermine different instances of Chineseness and its representations It seeks to rescue the present from the past by presenting case studies of contingent encounters that produce the ideas practices and identities that become the categories nations need to justify their existence The dynamic fluid representations of Chineseness illustrate that it has never been an undifferentiated whole in both space and time Through physical movements and inherited knowledge agents of Chineseness have deployed various interpretive strategies to define and represent themselves vis vis the local regional and global in their respective temporal experiences This book will be relevant to students and scholars in Chinese studies and Asian studies more broadly with a focus on identity politics migration popular culture and international relations The Chinese overseas often saw themselves as caught between a rock and a hard place The collection of essays here highlights the variety of experiences in Southeast Asia and China that suggest that the rock can become a huge boulder with sharp edges and the hard places can have deadly spikes A must read for those who wonder whether Chineseness has ever been what it seems Wang Gungwu University Professor National University of Singapore By including reflections on constructions of Chineseness in both China itself and in various Southeast Asian sites the book shows that being Chinese is by no means necessarily intertwined with China as a geopolitical concept while at the same time highlighting the incongruities and tensions in the escapable relationship with China that diasporic Chinese subjects variously embody expressed in a wide range of social phenomena such as language use popular culture architecture and family relations The book is a very welcome addition to the necessary ongoing conversation on Chineseness in the 21st century Ian Ang Distinguished Professor of Cultural Studies Western Sydney University

The State, Development and Identity in Multi-Ethnic Societies Nicholas Tarling, Edmund Terence Gomez, 2008-03-03 This book examines ethnic communities identity economy society and state and the links between them in a range of countries across Asia challenging the widely held belief that an authoritarian political system is necessary to ensure communal co existence in developing countries where ethnic minorities have a considerable economic presence International Relations in Southeast Asia Donald E. Weatherbee, 2009 This balanced comprehensive guide to Southeast Asian politics offers a sensible but nondogmatic realist approach to the region s international relations In this revised second edition Donald E Weatherbee lucidly explains the dynamics of the Southeast Asian subsystem as a struggle for autonomy in pursuit of national interests He explores three important questions the answers to which will shape the future Southeast Asia Will democratic regimes transform international relations in Southeast Asia Will national leaders succeed in reinventing ASEAN as a more effective collaborative mechanism Finally how will the evolving Chinese position balancing and perhaps displacing the United States as Asia s great power affect Southeast Asia s struggle for autonomy

Ethnic Diversity and the Control of Natural Resources in Southeast Asia A. Rambo, A. Terry Rambo, Kathleen Gillogly, Karl Hutterer, 1988-01-01 The authors consider the ways in which the high degree of ethnic diversity within the region is related to the nature of tropical Asian environments on the one hand and the nature of Southeast Asian political systems and the ways in which they manipulate natural resources on the other Rather than focus on defining the phenomenon of ethnicity this book examines the different social evolutionary contexts in which the phenomenon is manifested Companion volume to Cultural Values and Human Ecology in Southeast Asia Michigan Papers no 27

Ethnic Identity George A. De Vos, Lola Romanucci-Ross, Takeyuki Tsuda, 2006-06-22 In this thought provoking reader of mostly new chapters an international group of scholars link ethnicity to language nationalism localism religion and other issues in various crucial areas around the globe Ethnic identities are examined in countries around the globe in Government Policies and Ethnic Relations in Asia and the Pacific Michael E. Brown, Sumit Ganguly, 1997-10-20 Efforts to contend with tensions inherent in multiethnic societies case studies of India Pakistan Sri Lanka Burma Thailand Malaysia Singapore Indonesia the Philippines China Australia New Zealand Papua New Guinea Fiji Vanuatu and the Federated States of Micronesia Ethnic conflict one of the most serious and widespread problems in the world today can undermine efforts to promote political and economic development as well as political economic and social justice It can also lead to violence and open warfare producing horrifying levels of death and destruction Although government policies on ethnic issues often have profound effects on a country the subject has been neglected by most scholars and analysts This volume analyzes different policies governments have pursued in their efforts to contend with the tensions inherent in multiethnic societies The book focuses on Asia and the Pacific the most populous and economically vibrant part of the world The heart of the book is a set of case studies of government policies in sixteen countries India Pakistan Sri Lanka Burma Thailand Malaysia Singapore Indonesia the Philippines China Australia New Zealand Papua New Guinea Fiji Vanuatu and the Federated States of Micronesia The studies consider a wide range of political economic educational linguistic and cultural policies and how these policies have evolved over time Using a broad comparative perspective to assess the effectiveness of different governmental approaches the authors offer policy recommendations that cut across individual countries and regions

Dynamic of Ethnic Relations in Southeast Asia Mohd Azizuddin Mohd Sani, Shamsuddin L. Taya, 2010-04-16 Dr Mahathir Mohamad former Prime Minister of Malaysia said in the Far Eastern Economic Review 28 October 1996 The threat is from inside So we have to be armed so to speak Not with guns but with the necessary laws to make sure the country remains stable He implied that ethnic conflict and political instability are inevitable in a multi ethnic society unless protected by certain laws Ethnic conflict is like a time bomb The misuse of human rights for political ends and to exploit ethnic sentiments can spark ethnic conflict In theory the modern nation state must achieve pluralism in its project of nation building There are few nations in the world which consist of a single ethnic group Yet multi ethnicity also seems to be a serious challenge to any system of government especially in Southeast Asia as it adds possibly deep running cleavages to societies Some groups are marginalized in the course of nation building as a result of the nature of the relationship between nation and state Arjun Appadurai stated that the nation and the state have become one another's project groups try to capture states and their power while states try to monopolize about the nationhood There is always tension between the centre and the margin The centre often consists of one ethnic group and marginalised minority groups are denied their right to equality Sometimes horrible wars with thousands of victims commence as a consequence of such processes of ethnically framed nation building Therefore a democratic setting should be functionally superior that is in a better position to moderate the escalatory tendencies inherent in a multi ethnic setting thereby achieving less violence prone conflict management and its eventual resolution in Southeast Asia This book is intended for anyone interested in the subject of ethnic relations and conflicts especially politicians policy makers civil society activists academia and students of ethnic race studies and Southeast Asian politics

Ethnicity and Politics in Southeast Asia

Amy H. Liu, Jacob I. Ricks, 2022-05-05 What explains the treatment of ethnic minorities in Southeast Asia This Element conceptually disaggregates ethnicity into multiple constituent markers specifically language religion and phenotype By focusing on the interaction between these three ethnic markers Liu and Ricks explore how overlap between these markers can affect whether a minority integrates within a broader ethnic identity successfully extracts accommodation as unique group or engages in a contentious and potentially violent relationship with the hegemon The argument is tested through six case studies 1 ethnic Lao in Thailand integration 2 ethnic Chinese in Thailand integration 3 ethnic Chinese in Malaysia accommodation 4 ethnic Malays in Singapore accommodation 5 ethnic Malays in Thailand contention and 6 ethnic Chinese in Indonesia contention Culture, Identity and Religion in Southeast Asia Alistair D. B. Cook, 2009-05-27 I have read the draft of this book sent to me by the editor After reading this draft I do think this book is valuable and timely It discusses the contemporary issues that have worried many people in the present world terrorism human rights Islamic radicalism and the problem of identity in the Singaporean capitalism These issues are not discussed in the theoretical abstract way it also doesn't mean that theories are not discussed at all but in the context of various concrete societies The book deals with one of the above issues in Malaysia Singapore and Indonesia Aceh and Sumenep in Madura Each issue is written by a different author that has studied the issue thoroughly So the book is a collection of research done by specialists of these issues Two essays on Southeast Asia one on health and the other on human security give the general picture of this region acting as a broad introduction of the chapters that follow Each chapter has been written professionally and the readers will learn many things from each of them One has to read the chapter in order to really appreciate them Therefore I really recommend that this manuscript to be published as a book in order to get a large audience One shortcoming though this book deals with three countries only Malaysia Singapore and Indonesia albeit these three are the important countries in the region Other important Southeast Asian countries such as Thailand the Philippines and Burma are not discussed individually With the omission of these countries it thus can be argued whether this book can represent the Southeast Asian region Also in dealing with Indonesia the chapters talk on sub national level namely on Aceh province and a peripheral city Sumenep in the island of Madura East Java while Malaysia and Singapore are dealt on the level of nation state To conclude even with these shortcomings this book is still valuable Therefore I would like to recommend it be published Arief Budiman Foundation Professor of Indonesian Asia Institute The University of Melbourne Australia Transnational Aspects of Iu-Mien Refugee Identity Jeffery L. Toward an Embodied Decolonial Pneumatology Toar Banua Hutagalung, 2024-04-17 Everyone wants to be and to feel at home Yet being homely requires a space or place where one can admit feeling familiar with and the surroundings can accept the person What does it mean then to be in a liminal space where one is considered not this or not that In Toward an Embodied Decolonial Pneumatology Dishoming Space Toar Banua Hutagalung tries to analyze this existential question through a postcolonial decolonial approach One thing that is responsible for such liminal spaces is colonialism itself Colonialism through its multiple elements such as biopolitics racism and sexuality became a formation that looks like a home but is a site of oppression Nevertheless the author argues that liminality is not just a site of rejection By addressing a case from the formation of Indonesian nationality as well as taking a closer hermeneutical look at Indonesian literature the author contends that liminality conveys decolonial acts Integrating an interdisciplinary approach from postcolonial decolonial studies theological anthropology and pneumatology the author asserts that the Holy Spirit always dwells and moves continuously in liminal spaces It pulsates within the capillaries of every person to fight against colonial legacies With such a decolonial pulse from the presence of the Spirit one can re member and recreate what home means Discourses, Agency and Identity in Malaysia Zawawi Ibrahim, Gareth Richards, Victor T. King, 2021-10-23 This book seeks to break new ground both empirically and conceptually in examining discourses of identity formation and the agency of critical social practices in Malaysia Taking an inclusive cultural studies perspective it questions the ideological narrative of race and ethnicity that dominates explanations of conflicts and cleavages in the Malaysian context The contributions are organised in three broad themes Identities in Contestation Borders Complexities and Hybridities takes a range of empirical studies literary translation religion gender ethnicity indigeneity and sexual orientation to break down preconceived notions of fixed identities This then opens up an examination of Identities and Movements Agency and Alternative Discourses in which contributors deal with counter hegemonic social movements of anti racism young people environmentalism and independent publishing that explicitly seek to open up greater critical democratic space within the Malaysian polity The third section Identities and Narratives Culture and the Media then provides a close textual reading of some exemplars of new cultural and media practices found in oral testimonies popular music film radio programming and storytelling who have consciously created bodies of work that question the dominant national narrative This book is a valuable interdisciplinary work for advanced students and researchers interested in representations of identity and nationhood in Malaysia and for those with wider interests in the fields of critical cultural studies and discourse analysis Here is a fresh startling book to aid the task of unbinding the straitjackets of Malay Chinese and Indian with which colonialism bound Malaysia s plural inheritance and on which the postcolonial state continues to rely In it a panoply of unlikely identities Bajau liminality Kelabit philosophy Islamic feminism refugee hybridity and more finds expression and offers hope for liberation Rachel Leow University of Cambridge This book shakes the foundations of race thinking in Malaysian studies by expanding the range of cases perspectives and outcomes of identity It offers students of Malaysia an examination of identity and agency that is expansive critical and engaging and its interdisciplinary depth brings Malaysian studies into conversation with scholarship across the world Sumit Mandal University of Nottingham Malaysia This is a much needed work that helps us to take apart the colonial inherited categories of race which informed the notion of the plural society the idea of plurality without multiculturalism It complicates the picture of identity by bringing in religion gender indigeneity and sexual orientation and helps us to imagine what a truly multiculturalist Malaysia might look like Syed Farid Alatas National University of Singapore

Multiculturalism, Migration, and the Politics of Identity in Singapore Kwen Fee Lian, 2015-10-28 This edited volume focuses on how multiculturalism as statecraft has had both intended and unintended consequences on Singapore's various ethnic communities The contributing authors address and update contemporary issues and developments in the practice of multiculturalism in Singapore by interfacing the practice of multiculturalism over two critical periods the colonial and the global The coverage of the first period examines the colonial origins and conception of multiculturalism and the post colonial application of multiculturalism as a project of the nation and its consequences for the Tamil Muslim Ceylon Tamil and Malay communities The content on the second period addresses immigration in the context of globalization with the arrival of new immigrants from South and East Asia who pose a challenge to the concept and practice of multiculturalism in Singapore For both periods the contributors examine how the old migrants have attempted to come to terms with living in a multicultural society that has been constructed in the image of the state and how the new migrants will reshape that society in the course of their ongoing politics of identity
