ABC Ltd. is considering a proposal to acquire an equipment costing Rs. 5,00,000. The expected effective life of the equipment is 5 years. The company has two options-either to acquire it by obtaining a loan of Rs. 5 lakhs at 12% interest p.a. or by lease. The following additional information are available :

- i) the principal amount of loan will be repaid in 5 equal yearly instalments.
- ii) the full cost of the equipment will be written off over a period of 5 years on straight line basis and it is to be assumed that such depreciation charge will be allowed for tax purpose.
- iii) the effective tax rate for the company is 40% and the after tax cost of capital is 10%.
- iv) the interest charge, repayment of principal and the lease rentals are to be paid on the last day of each year.

You are required to work out the amount of lease rental to be paid annually, which will match the loan option. The discount factor at 10% are as follows :

Regulation of Cryptoassets Johnstone, Syren,2021-09-21 This thought provoking book challenges the way we think about regulating cryptoassets Bringing a timely new perspective Syren Johnstone critiques the application of a financial regulation narrative to cryptoassets questioning the assumptions on which it is based and whether regulations developed in the 20th century remain fit to apply to a technology emerging in the 21st EU Law of Economic & Monetary Union Fabian

Antenbrink,Christoph Herrmann,2020-05-21 Presenting a sweeping analysis of the legal foundations institutions and substantive legal issues in EU monetary integration The EU Law of Economic and Monetary Union serves as an authoritative reference on the legal framework of European economic and monetary union The book opens by setting out the broader contexts for the European project historical economic political and regarding the international framework It goes on to examine the constitutional architecture of EMU the main institutions and their legal powers the core legal provisions of monetary and economic union and the relationship of EMU with EU financial market and banking regulation The concluding section analyses the current EMU crisis and the main avenues of future reform

The Battle over Patents Stephen H. Haber, Naomi R. Lamoreaux, 2021-08-06 An examination of how the patent system works imperfections and all to incentivize innovation Do patents facilitate or frustrate innovation Lawyers economists and politicians who have staked out strong positions in this debate often attempt to validate their claims by invoking the historical record but they frequently get the history wrong The Battle over Patents gets it right Bringing together thoroughly researched essays from prominent historians and social scientists this volume traces the long and contentious history of patents and examines how they have worked in practice Editors Stephen H Haber and Naomi R Lamoreaux show that patent systems are the result of contending interests at different points in production chains battling over economic surplus The larger the potential surplus the more extreme are the efforts of contending parties now and in the past to search out generate and exploit any and all sources of friction Patent systems as human creations are therefore necessarily ridden with imperfections This volume explores these shortcomings and explains why despite all the debate historically US style patent systems still dominate all other methods of encouraging inventive activity
