South Carolina State University William C Hine, 2018-04-16 The turbulent history of one of South Carolina s historically black colleges and its significant role in the civil rights movement Since its founding in 1896 South Carolina State University has provided vocational undergraduate and graduate education for generations of African Americans Now the state s flagship historically black university it achieved this recognition after decades of struggling against poverty inadequate infrastructure and funding and social and cultural isolation In South Carolina State University A Black Land Grant College in Jim Crow America William C Hine examines South Carolina State s complicated start its slow and long overdue transition to a degree granting university and its significant role in advancing civil rights in the state and country A product of the state s separate but equal legislation South Carolina State University was a hallmark of Jim Crow South Carolina Black and white students were indeed provided separate colleges but the institutions were in no way equal When established South Carolina State emphasized vocational and agricultural subjects as well as teacher training for black students while the University of South Carolina offered white students a broad range of higher level academic and professional course work leading to a bachelor s degree Through the middle decades of the twentieth century South Carolina State was an incubator for much of the civil rights activity in the state The tragic Orangeburg massacre on February 8 1968 occurred on its campus and resulted in the deaths of three students and the wounding of twenty eight others Using the university as a lens Hine examines the state s history of race relations poverty and progress and the politics of higher education for whites and blacks from the Reconstruction era into the twenty first century

Hine's work showcases what the institution has achieved as well as what was required for the school to achieve the parity it was once promised. This fascinating account is replete with revealing anecdotes, more than sixty photographs and illustrations, and a cast of famous figures including Benjamin R. Tillman, Coleman Blease, Benjamin E. Mays, Marian Birnie Wilkinson, Mary McLeod Bethune, Modjeska Simkins, Strom Thurmond, Essie Mae Washington Williams, James F. Byrnes, John Foster Dulles, James E. Clyburn, and Willie Jeffries. Ebony, 1990-05. EBONY is the flagship magazine of Johnson Publishing. Founded in 1945 by John H. Johnson, it still maintains the highest global circulation of any African American focused magazine. Black Greek-Letter Organizations in the 21st Century, Gregory S. Parks, 2008-06-13. A masterpiece of multidisciplinary scholarship that clearly demonstrates the contemporary relevance of black fraternities and sororities. Hasan Kwame Jeffries, author of Bloody Lowndes. During the twentieth century, black Greek letter organizations (BGLOs) united college students dedicated to excellence, fostered kinship, and uplifted African Americans. Members of these organizations include remarkable and influential individuals such as Martin Luther King Jr., Congresswoman Barbara Jordan, novelist Toni Morrison, and Wall Street pioneer Reginald F. Lewis. Despite the profound influence of these groups, many now question the continuing relevance of BGLOs, arguing that their golden age has passed. To foster a greater engagement with the history and contributions of BGLOs, Black Greek Letter Organizations in the Twenty-first Century brings together an impressive group of authors to explore the contributions and continuing possibilities of BGLOs and their members. Editor Gregory S. Parks and the contributing authors provide historical context for the development of BGLOs, exploring their service activities as well as their relationships with other prominent African American institutions. Both internally and externally, BGLOs struggle to forge a relevant identity for the new century. Internally, these groups wrestle with many issues, including hazing, homophobia, petty intergroup competition, and the difficulty of bridging the divide between college and alumni members. Externally, BGLOs face the challenge of rededicating themselves to their communities and leading an aggressive campaign against modern forms of racism, sexism, and other types of fear-driven behavior. By embracing the history of these organizations and exploring their continuing viability and relevance, Black Greek Letter Organizations in the Twenty-first Century demonstrates that BGLOs can create a positive and enduring future and that their most important work lies ahead.

Cases on Strategic Partnerships for Resilient Communities and Schools, Thomas, Ursula, 2020-04-24. As the importance of public education increases both globally and nationally, partnerships between schools and their community become key to each other's success. Examining the intersection of schools with their communities reveals the most effective strategies for supporting school populations that are traditionally marginalized or underserved in both rural and urban areas. Cases on Strategic Partnerships for Resilient Communities and Schools is an essential publication that uncovers the problems and pitfalls of creating strategic partnerships between schools and other members of the community in which the schools are situated, that include for-profit businesses, not-for-profit entities, and private organizations. The book reveals that schools that are thriving effectively do not do so in isolation but as vibrant members and centers of the communities in which they serve students and families Moreover it examines the difficulty in advocating for the schools and the leadership of the schools within these communities so that they can be better served Highlighting a wide range of topics including leadership community based outreach and school advocacy this book is ideally designed for teachers school administrators principals school boards and committees non profit administrators educational advocates leadership faculty community engagement directors community outreach personnel entrepreneurs researchers academicians and students The Journal ,2002
