Adesina, 2024-06-01 This book focuses on human machine interaction and user interfaces for teaching and research in Africa The importance of digital humanities DH is recognized by focusing on the theoretical and historical development of DH in the context of LIS education and how infrastructure influences DH programs initiatives in respective LIS schools These findings and recommendations provide valuable knowledge for developing the domain and establishing potential areas of collaboration in DH research and curriculum The book explores and explicates what the Diffusion of Innovations theory is about as well as the characteristics of innovators The Diffusion of Innovations theory is relevant to the LIS field which has widely adopted numerous innovations to automate a wide range of administrative and technical processes build databases and networks and provide better services to library users The diffusion and adoption of technology have become imperative for the efficient management of modern libraries and LIS as a field in general Existing literature that is related to the adoption use and challenges facing the development of clinical informatics in teaching hospitals in developing countries is reviewed It is also revealed that hospitals in developing countries should embrace the use of tools for effective healthcare delivery and that nursing informatics is very significant in nursing practice In addition the role of academic institutions and the use of information and communication technologies ICTs by librarians for information and knowledge IKM in such institutions in the Fourth Industrial Revolution 4IR is addressed The book acknowledges the marginalization of indigenous knowledge and that there is a need for Africa to develop and accelerate strategies for enhancing indigenous knowledge for future generation and ICT is poised to play a crucial role The Structure of Language Emma L. Pavey, 2010-08-19 Most of the time we communicate using language without considering the complex activity we are undertaking forming words and sentences in a split second This book introduces the analysis of language structure combining both description and theory within a single practical text It begins by examining words and parts of words and then looks at how words work together to form sentences that communicate meaning Sentence patterns across languages are also studied looking at the similarities and the differences we find in how languages communicate meaning The book also discusses how context can affect how we structure our sentences the context of a particular language and its structures the context of old and new information for us and our addressees and the context of our culture Islands of History Marshall Sahlins, 2013-03-06 Marshall Sahlins centers these essays on islands Hawaii Fiji New Zealand whose histories have intersected with European history But he is also concerned with the insular thinking in Western scholarship that creates false dichotomies between past and present between structure and event between the individual and society Sahlins's provocative reflections form a powerful critique of Western history and anthropology

Dong Zhongshu, a 'Confucian' Heritage and the Chunqiu Fanlu Michael Loewe, 2011-04-11 The assumption that a system described as Confucianism formulated by Dong Zhongshu became accepted as the norm during the Western Han dynasty 202 BCE - 9 CE is challenged and his supposed authorship of the Chunqiu fanlu examined

Famous Assassinations in World History Michael Newton, 2014-04-17 Representing a unique reference tool for readers interested in history criminology or terrorism this book provides the most complete and up to date coverage of assassinations of key figures throughout history and around the world Effecting the death of a political figure a leader of a nation or a public figure usually captures people's attention But how often is assassination effective to achieve the larger objective beyond the death of the targeted individual Famous Assassinations in World History An Encyclopedia offers more than 200 entries on assassinations of all kinds that will allow readers to grasp the often complex motivating factors behind each event and better understand historical and contemporary social unrest Each entry identifies the assassination target and summarizes that person's significance discusses the person's assassination including the factors that led up to it and its political and cultural contexts and explains the powerful effects of the assassination in world history The encyclopedia also includes various sidebars that spotlight relevant individuals groups and movements and present intriguing factoids such as the final disposition of notorious assassins weapons and various films and novels that were inspired by famous assassinations In addition 23 primary source documents provide accounts of assassinations throughout world history

On the Road of the Winds Patrick Vinton Kirch, 2017-11-07 The Pacific Ocean covers one third of the earth's surface and encompasses many thousands of islands that are home to numerous human societies and cultures Among these indigenous Oceanic cultures are the intrepid Polynesian double hulled canoe navigators the atoll dwellers of Micronesia the statue carvers of remote Easter Island and the famed traders of Melanesia Decades of archaeological excavations combined with allied research in historical linguistics biological anthropology and comparative ethnography have revealed much new information about the long term history of these societies and cultures On the Road of the Winds synthesizes the grand sweep of human history in the Pacific Islands beginning with the movement of early people out from Asia more than 40 000 years ago and tracing the development of myriad indigenous cultures up to the time of European contact in the sixteenth to eighteenth centuries This updated edition enhanced with many new illustrations and an extensive bibliography synthesizes the latest archaeological linguistic and biological discoveries that reveal the vastness of ancient history in the Pacific Islands

The Wet and the Dry Patrick Vinton Kirch, 1994 Scholars and researchers have long believed that the ability to irrigate is crucial to the development of civilizations In this book archaeologist Patrick Kirch challenges this hydraulic hypothesis and provides a more accurate and detailed account of the role of wet and dry cultivation systems in the development of complex sociopolitical structures Examining research on cultural adaptation and ecology in Western Polynesia and utilizing extensive data from a variety of important South Pacific sites Kirch not only reveals how particular systems of production developed within the constraints imposed by environmental conditions but also explores the tension that arises between contrasting productive systems with differential abilities to produce surplus He shows that the near total neglect of short fallow dryland cultivation as well as arboriculture or tree cropping has seriously distorted the picture that archaeologists and anthropologists have of agricultural intensification and its relation to complex social structure This work likely to become a classic will be central to all future discussions of the ecology and politics of agricultural intensification

A Review of Biodiversity and Socio-economics Research in Relation to Fisheries in Lake Victoria J. B. Okeyo-Owuor, 1999 Progressive Traditions

Helen Parker, 2021-10-01 This monograph with an accompanying CD ROM explores through plot repetition the relationships between three genres of traditional Japanese theatre n kabuki and ningy j ruri with a focus on plays depicting the final fugitive years of Minamoto no Yoshitsune First the theoretical background to the concept of plot repetition is discussed and the theme of Yoshitsune s downfall is introduced The next and main section analyses the treatment of the Funa Benkei and Ataka Kanjinch plots in the three genres with reference to their historical development and contemporary performance The CD ROM contains video clips photographs and nishiki e prints from productions in each genre to illustrate how the plots are presented on stage ??? Confucius, E. Bruce Brooks, A. Taeko Brooks, 1998 Bruce and Taeko Brooks have returned this wide ranging text to its full historical and intellectual setting organizing the sayings in their original chronological sequence and permitting the Analects to be read for maximum understanding not as a closed system of thought but as a richly revealing record of the interaction of life and thought as it evolved over almost the entire Warring States period

Hawaiki, Ancestral Polynesia Patrick Vinton Kirch, Roger C. Green, 2001-03-15 The power of an anthropological approach to long term history lies in its unique ability to combine diverse evidence from archaeological artifacts to ethnographic texts and comparative word lists In this innovative book Kirch and Green explicitly develop the theoretical underpinnings as well as the particular methods for such a historical anthropology Drawing upon and integrating the approaches of archaeology comparative ethnography and historical linguistics they advance a phylogenetic model for cultural diversification and apply a triangulation method for historical reconstruction They illustrate their approach through meticulous application to the history of the Polynesian cultures and for the first time reconstruct in extensive detail the Ancestral Polynesian culture that flourished in the Polynesian homeland Hawaiki some 2 500 years ago Of great significance for Oceanic studies Kirch and Green s book will be essential reading for any anthropologist prehistorian linguist or cultural historian concerned with the theory and method of long term history A Decision Framework for Interventions to Increase the Persistence and Resilience of Coral Reefs National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, Division on Earth and Life Studies, Board on Life Sciences, Ocean Studies Board, Committee on Interventions to Increase the Resilience of Coral Reefs, 2019-09-29 Coral reefs are critical to ocean and human life because they provide food living area storm protection tourism income and more However human induced stressors such as overfishing sediment pollution and habitat destruction have threatened ocean ecosystems globally for decades In the face of climate change these ecosystems now face an array of unfamiliar challenges due to destructive rises in ocean temperature acidity and sea level These factors lead to an increased frequency of bleaching events hindered growth and a decreasing rate of calcification Research on interventions to combat these relatively new stressors and a reevaluation of longstanding interventions is necessary to understand and protect coral reefs in this changing climate Previous research on these methods prompts

further questions regarding the decision making process for site specific interventions A Decision Framework for Interventions to Increase the Persistence and Resilience of Coral Reefs builds upon a previous report that reviews the state of research on methods that have been used tested or proposed to increase the resilience of coral reefs This new report aims to help coral managers evaluate the specific needs of their site and navigate the 23 different interventions described in the previous report A case study of the Caribbean a region with low coral population plagued by disease serves as an example for coral intervention decision making This report provides complex coral management decision making tools identifies gaps in coral biology and conservation research and provides examples to help individuals and communities tailor a decision strategy to a local area
