Duncan and Richard J Murnane lay out a meticulously researched case showing how in a time of spiraling inequality strategically targeted interventions and supports can help schools significantly improve the life chances of low income children The authors offer a brilliant synthesis of recent research on inequality and its effects on families children and schools They describe the interplay of social and economic factors that has made it increasingly hard for schools to counteract the effects of inequality and that has created a widening wedge between low and high income students Restoring Opportunity provides detailed portraits of proven initiatives that are transforming the lives of low income children from prekindergarten through high school All of these programs are research tested and have demonstrated sustained effectiveness over time and at significant scale Together they offer a powerful vision of what good instruction in effective schools can look like The authors conclude by outlining the elements of a new agenda for education reform Restoring Opportunity is a crowning contribution from these two leading economists in the field of education and a passionate call to action on behalf of the young people on whom our nation's future depends Copublished with the Russell Sage Foundation

Walstad, John Charles Soper, 1991 The Developmental Economic Education Program DEEP was launched in 1964 by the Joint Council on Economic Education as an experimental program in three school districts By 1989 there were 1 836 school districts enrolled in DEEP covering some 39 percent of the precollege student population This book tells the story of DEEP an effort to improve the economics education curriculum by involving teachers administrators universities and businesses in a curriculum change partnership This current look at the DEEP experience is divided into five major parts Part I consists of four chapters that give a rationale for economic education and explain in more detail the features of the DEEP model Part II focuses on the research and evaluation that have been conducted over the 25 year history of DEEP and on related studies of economic understanding among students in secondary and elementary grades The next two parts offer case studies of how DEEP works Part III looks at DEEP operations and issues in four diverse states Part IV shows how the DEEP process works in six different school districts In part V the focus shifts from the present to the future these chapters discuss the future of
