Grade1home Lagage Setswana:

Glimpses into Primary School Teacher Education in South Africa Sarah Gravett, Elizabeth Henning, 2020-11-05

This book explores the current landscape of Initial Teacher Education ITE in primary schools in South Africa. Considering recent policy directives and initiatives, it highlights the dilemmas of ITE for the primary school and gives a thorough account of innovations and initiatives to improve ITE. The book presents what works best for quality preparation of teachers in the Global South where many children rely on their teachers and school life to break the cycle of poverty. Chapters draw on evidence from workplace learning, pre-service study, and primary school teacher education policy to highlight examples of promising change in teacher education in South Africa, addressing the clichés of theory versus practice. This book successfully brings out the challenging aspects of teacher education for childhood learning, which has otherwise been regarded as the softer option for a career in education. This book will be of great interest for academics, researchers, and post-graduate students in the fields of teacher education, African education, educational policy, international education, and comparative education.

Assessment of Reading in International Studies Jenny Lenkeit, Knut Schwippert, 2020-05-21. This book brings together contributions from different scholarly contexts that address a diverse range of focused topics, as well as empirical and conceptual perspectives on research with international studies. Some chapters focus on technical aspects, exploring opportunities for drawing causal inferences from the data and investigating biases originating in distributional scale properties. Others are of a more conceptual nature, addressing changes in the relevance of socio-economic indicators across time and countries, examining the exposure of mother tongue and English instruction on performance, and investigating the effects of test construction on gender difference. The discussion takes a much-needed meta-perspective on the usefulness of international large-scale assessments for educational research and allows reflection upon possibilities and opportunities for their improvement. This book was originally published as a special issue of Assessment in Education.

The Languages of Africa and the Diaspora Jo Anne Kleifgen, George C. Bond, 2009. This book takes a fresh look at subordinated vernacular languages in the context of African, Caribbean, and US educational landscapes, highlighting the social cost of linguistic exceptionalism for speakers of these languages. Chapters describe contravening movements toward various forms of linguistic diversity and offer a comprehensive approach to language awareness in educative settings.

The Cambridge Handbook of Childhood Multilingualism Anat Stavans, Ulrike Jessner, 2022-08-25. Childhood multilingualism has become a norm rather than an exception. This is the first handbook to survey state-of-the-art research on the uniqueness of early multilingual development in children growing up with more than two languages in contact. It provides in-depth accounts of the complexity and dynamics of early multilingualism by internationally renowned scholars who have researched typologically different languages in different continents. Chapters are divided into six thematic areas following the trajectory, environment, and conditions underlying the incipient and early stages of multilingual children's language development. The many facets of childhood multilingualism are approached from a range of perspectives showcasing not only the challenges of multilingual education and child rearing but also the richness in linguistic and cognitive development of these children from infancy to early schooling It is essential reading for anyone interested in deepening their understanding of the multiple aspects of multilingualism seen through the unique prism of children

Indigenous Peoples' Rights in Southern Africa Robert K. Hitchcock, Diana Vinding, 2004 This book is concerned with the first peoples those people who are considered indigenous by themselves and others of southern Africa such as the San the Nama and the Khoi and their rights Although living in democratic countries like Namibia South Africa Zimbabwe and Botswana and in principle sharing the same rights and responsibilities as the rest of the population practice shows that these peoples more often than not are at the margins of the societies in which they live they often face extreme poverty and they frequently are subjected to discriminatory treatment and exposed to all kinds of human rights abuses Robert K Hitchcock is professor of anthropology and geography at the University of Nebraska Lincoln USA He has done extensive research and development work in southern Africa in general and among San peoples in particular Diana Vinding is an anthropologist working with the International Work Group for Indigenous Affairs IWGIA in Copenhagen

School Statistics, 1994 Literacy and Power Hilary Janks, 2009-10-16 Hilary Janks addresses key questions about literacy and power in this landmark text that is both engaging and accessible Her central argument is that competing orientations to critical literacy education domination power access diversity design foreground one over the other but are crucially interdependent and need to work together to create possibilities for redesign and social action that serve a social justice agenda She examines the theory underpinning each orientation and develops new theory in the argument for interdependence and integration Sitting at the interface between theory and practice constantly moving from one to the other the text is rich with examples of how to use these orientations in real teaching contexts and how to use them to counterbalance one another In the groundbreaking final chapter Janks considers how the rationalist underpinning of critical literacy tends to exclude the non rational shows ways of working beyond reason pleasure and play desire and the unconscious and makes the case that these need to be taken seriously given their power to cut across the work of critical literacy educators working from any orientation
