Teaching and Learning Secondary School Mathematics Ann Kajander, Jennifer Holm, Egan J Chernoff, 2018-10-24 This volume brings together recent research and commentary in secondary school mathematics from a breadth of contemporary Canadian and International researchers and educators It is both representative of mathematics education generally as well as unique to the particular geography and culture of Canada The chapters address topics of broad applicability such as technology in learning mathematics recent interest in social justice contexts in the learning of mathematics as well as Indigenous education The voices of classroom practitioners the group ultimately responsible for implementing this new vision of mathematics teaching and learning are not forgotten Each section includes a chapter written by a classroom teacher making this volume unique in its approach We have much to learn from one another and this volume takes the stance that the development of a united vision supported by both research and professional dialog provides the first step

Course Offerings, Enrollments, and Curriculum Practices in Public Secondary School, 1972-73 Logan Osterndorf, Paul J. Horn, 1976

Teacher Learning and Leadership Ann Lieberman, Carol Campbell, Anna Yashkina, 2016-08-25 Teacher Learning and Leadership asserts that teachers should be put at the center of creating developing organizing implementing and sharing their own ideas for school change rather than being passive recipients of knowledge from the outside It argues that there is tremendous potential for the good of students and the professionalization of teaching when teachers work collaboratively to develop their own and their colleagues professional knowledge and practices and are supported by school and system leaders unions and government The book draws on the groundbreaking work of the Teacher Learning and Leadership Program in Ontario and uses an in depth case study to illustrate its points It demonstrates how professional development built around collaboration teacher leadership curriculum development technology and pedagogy can be organized in a way that redistributes control and responsibility to teachers thereby instilling a genuine sense of pride and accomplishment in their work This book is a sincere outreach from the authors who advocate for the professional development of by and for teachers as individuals and importantly as a collective profession The authors argue that projects like the TLLP a joint initiative between the Ontario Ministry of Education and the Ontario Teachers Federation can radically and positively transform teachers knowledge skills and practices The book provides an important model for school change led by teachers rather than experts in partnership with school and system leaders and is a fascinating read for all those concerned with teaching teacher development and educational change

Transformative Change through Educational Leadership Kenneth H. MacKinnon, 2024-08-02 Transformative Change through Educational Leadership explores educational leadership with an emphasis on social justice This text invites those in positions of leadership to re imagine institutional standards responsibilities and leadership methodology through an equity focused anti oppressive and anti colonial lens Diverse leaders and education experts from across Canada share their lived experiences stories models and wonderings of the challenges that educational leaders face including Indigenous queer and Afrocentric perspectives The chapters delve into the critical question of what it takes to be a successful leader and offer practical strategies on various aspects of the school leader role such as building relationships centring student needs connecting with the community and parents and caregivers and supporting wellness and well being This essential volume is well suited for undergraduate and graduate courses on educational leadership including courses focusing on diversity in leadership leading for social justice principles and processes of educational leadership and education leadership for transformation

Future Alternatives for Educational Leadership Deborah M. Netolicky, 2021-09-01 This book offers provocations for what's now and what's next in educational leadership simultaneously bringing the field both back to its basics of equity democracy humanity and education for all and forward to productive innovative and necessary possibilities Written during the pandemic reality of 2020 this collection shares the global voices and expertise of prominent and emerging leaders scholars and practitioners in education from the UK the United States South America Canada Europe Australia and the Middle East The authors engage with the complexities and uncertainties of leading in education They examine research reflections and real stories from which school leaders education system leaders policymakers and researchers in the field of educational leadership can learn and in which they will find honesty authority and inspiration to guide the future of the field The new perspectives and hopeful alternatives presented in this outstanding book are essential to researchers school leaders and policymakers and are key to advancing education into positive and democratic futures
