Congress. House. Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries. Subcommittee on Environment and Natural Resources, 1994 Rhino Poaching Janina Naef, 2016 Rhino horn is very popular in Asia as it is a status symbol and used as medicine That is one reason why the number of these animals is decreasing continuously In 2007 13 rhinos were poached in South Africa while in 2015 the number increased to 1175 rhinos

This Matura Paper deals with problems of rhino poaching in South Africa. It poses into the question if it is still possible to see rhinos in the future and examines what should be done to save this species from extinction. Therefore 5 theses has been stated which consist of political financial protection measures and enlightenment of local and Asian people. Thereby an interview has been conducted with a conservationist in addition to research in a volunteering project in South Africa regarding these theses. The results prove the problems already stated. If there are no changes in one of these problems the rhino doubtfully has a future.

Operation Lock and the War on Rhino Poaching John Hanks, 2015. The definitive account of a daring and controversial covert operation to stop the aggressive illegal trade in rhino horn in the 1980s.

Economic Incentives and Poaching of the One-Horned Indian Rhinoceros in Nepal Mahesh Poudyal, 2005. Despite a relatively successful conservation programme for the endangered one horned rhinoceros in the National Parks of the Terai region poaching remains one of the major threats to its survival in Nepal. In recent years there has been an alarming rise in the number of rhinos poached over 100 rhinos were taken in and around the Royal Chitwan National Park RCNP between 1998 and 2003. Although rhino poaching levels are influenced by the price of rhino horn on the international black market amongst a host of other socio economic factors there have not been any attempts to study the reasons behind poaching in Nepal using econometric models developed and applied elsewhere. This study uses econometric models to explain changes in the level of poaching in the RCNP over a 30 year period. Factors that are thought to influence the number of rhinos poached in the RCNP include i rhino population ii effectiveness of anti poaching measures iii penalties for poaching iv availability of alternative economic opportunities i.e opportunity costs of poaching and v the price of rhino horn. The results indicate that anti poaching units APUs in their original organisational and operational form were highly successful in controlling the level of poaching in the RCNP. Furthermore the availability of local economic opportunities seemed to reduce the level of poaching significantly. However the penalties imposed on the convicted poachers were found to have little or no effect on the level of rhino poaching in the RCNP. The results also indicate a sharp rise in the number of rhinos poached during the years of the Maoist insurgency in the country compared to the years before. Although the analysis is still very simplistic it provides valuable insights into the factors that have affected the level of poaching in the RCNP over the years. It is hoped that these insights will be helpful in formulating effective policies to tackle rhino poaching especially in and around the RCNP where Nepal's largest population of one horned rhinoceros is found.
