

This is another factor that affects the comfort that the mattress delivers. The mattress ILD is anywhere between 6 to 40. The common ILD is 10 to 16. The best mattresses should have several layers with differing mmHg. This is vital to ensuring the comfort of the mattress as its layers graft together.

Country of Manufacturing

This is one of the most critical aspects of the mattress. The country where it is made is important to guarantee that its claims are true. High quality mattresses are made in Canada or in the US. Beware of the companies that claim to be made in these countries when in fact these are only assembled in these locations.

Components imported from countries such as China do not undergo the same tests and processes in Canada and USA are that ensure the quality and safety of the materials. This means that you cannot ensure the safety of using such mattresses, as they are made of harsh chemicals that can be dangerous to the health.

To prevent this from happening, ensure that the company and the manufacturer of the mattresses have undergone proper regulatory testing and procedures to guarantee quality and safety.

Evaluating the quality of the mattress you are interested in is not easy but it does not have to be complicated either. Knowing the qualities that you should be looking for is important to ensure that you will end up with a high quality mattress.
