Schooling by Design Grant Wiggins, Jay McTighe, 2007-07-15 Why despite years of trying have efforts to achieve lasting effective school reform fallen short What curricular and policy elements must be in place to move forward How should the roles of teachers and education leaders be defined to best support the point of school Grant Wiggins and Jay McTighe answer these and other questions in Schooling by Design Mission Action and Achievement Building on the premise of Understanding by Design their acclaimed framework for curriculum instruction and assessment the authors present a compelling argument for using the same approach to reach a grand goal the reform of schooling as a whole In their view reform rests on six pillars A relentless focus on the long term mission of school enabling learners to demonstrate understanding and mature habits of mind A curriculum and assessment framework that honors the mission and ensures that content coverage is no longer the accepted approach to instruction A set of principles of learning that support all decisions about pedagogy and planning Structures policies job descriptions practices and use of resources consistent with mission and learning principles An overall strategy that includes ongoing feedback and adjustment and A set of tactics linked to strategy including a planning process that uses backward design to accomplish the key work of reform Practical insightful and provocative Schooling by Design elaborates on each of these elements and presents educators with both the rationale and the methodology for closing the gap between what we say we want from school and what school actually delivers for turning vision into reality Applied Rasch Measurement: A Book of Exemplars Sivakumar Alagumalai, David D. Curtis, Njora Hungi, 2006-03-30 While the primary purpose of the book is a celebration of John's contributions to the field of measurement a second and related purpose is to provide a useful resource We believe that the combination of the developmental history and theory of the method the examples of its use in practice some possible future directions and software and data files will make this book a valuable resource for teachers and scholars of the Rasch method This book is a tribute to Professor John P Keeves for the advocacy of the Rasch model in Australia Happy 80th birthday John xii There are good introductory texts on Item Response Theory Objective Measurement and the Rasch model However for a beginning researcher keen on utilising the potentials of the Rasch model theoretical discussions of test theory and associated indices do not meet their pragmatic needs Furthermore many researchers in measurement still have little or no knowledge of the features of the Rasch model and its use in a variety of situations and disciplines This book attempts to describe the underlying axioms of test theory and in particular the concepts of objective measurement and the Rasch model and then link theory to practice We have been introduced to the various models of test theory during our graduate days It was time for us to share with those keen in the field of measurement in education psychology and the social sciences the theoretical and practical aspects of objective measurement Resources in Education , 1996-06 Emerging Technologies for the Classroom Chrystalla Mouza, Nancy Lavigne, 2012-11-07 This book provides contemporary examples of the ways in which educators can use digital technologies to create effective learning environments that support improved learning and instruction These examples are guided by multiple conceptual and methodological traditions evolving from the learning sciences and instructional technology communities as well as other communities doing important work on learning technologies In particular the book provides examples of technology innovations and the ways in which educators can use them to foster deep understanding collaboration creativity invention and reflection Additional examples demonstrate the ways in which emerging mobile and networked technologies can help extend student learning beyond the confines of the classroom wall and support student directed learning and new media literacies

Caught in the Act Cyril Julie, Lorna Holtman, Charles R. Smith, 2019-12-11 The research reported in Caught in the Act draws together the insights gained from a continuous professional development initiative for high school mathematics teachers teaching in low socio economic status and socially challenged environments in South Africa The chapters show the possibilities for enhancing achievement in school mathematics if a strength based approach is adopted to develop teaching with teachers and when their concerns are taken seriously The book demonstrates that the ecological relevance fitness for the context in which teachers are teaching of the goods developed and distributed by initiatives should be a major consideration to offer hope for sustainable implementation to improve school mathematics education The book is of interest to mathematics teachers school leaders mathematics curriculum advisors policy makers and researchers

Educational Assessment in a Time of Reform Coert Loock, Vanessa Scherman, 2019-11-20 Educational Assessment in a Time of Reform provides background information on large scale examination systems more generally and the South African examination specifically It traces the reforms in the education system of South Africa since 1994 and provides a description of the advances in modern test theory that could be considered for future standard setting endeavours At the heart of the book is the debate on whether the current standard of education in Africa is good enough If not then how can it be improved The aim of this book is to provide a point of departure for discussions on standard setting quality assurance equating of examinations and assessment approaches From this point of departure recommendations for practices in general and the exit level Grade 12 examination results in particular can be made This book is ideal reading for principals teachers academics and researchers in the fields of educational assessment measurement and evaluation
