		Intermittent		Persistent

Risk	Exacerbations requiring oral systemic corticosteroids (consider severity and interval since last exacerbation)	0–1/year (see notes)		≥2 exacerbations in 6 months requiring oral systemic corticosteroids, or ≥4 wheezing episodes/1 year lasting ≥1 day AND risk factors for persistent asthma	≥2x/year (see notes) Relative annual risk may be related to FEV ₁
Recommended Step for Initiating Therapy (See “Stepwise Approach for Managing Asthma” for treatment steps.) The stepwise approach is meant to assist, not replace, the clinical decisionmaking required to meet individual patient needs.		Step 1 (for both age groups)		Step 2 (for both age groups)		Step 3 and consider short course of oral systemic corticosteroids	Step 3: medium-dose ICS option and consider short course of oral systemic corticosteroids	Step 3 and consider short course of oral systemic corticosteroids	Step 3: medium-dose ICS option OR step 4 and consider short course of oral systemic corticosteroids
		In 2–6 weeks, depending on severity, evaluate level of asthma control that is achieved. • Children 0–4 years old: If no clear benefit is observed in 4–6 weeks, stop treatment and consider alternative diagnosis or adjusting therapy. • Children 5–11 years old: Adjust therapy accordingly.

Notes:

- Level of severity is determined by both impairment and risk. Assess impairment domain by caregiver's recall of previous 2–4 wk. Assign severity to the most severe category in which any feature occurs.
- Frequency and severity of exacerbations may fluctuate over time for patients in any severity category. Currently there are inadequate data to correspond frequencies of exacerbations with different levels of asthma severity. In general, more frequent and severe exacerbations (eg, requiring urgent, unscheduled care, hospitalization, or ICU admission) indicate greater underlying disease severity. For treatment purposes, patients with ≥2 exacerbations described may be considered the same as patients who have persistent asthma, even in the absence of impairment levels consistent with persistent asthma.

ICU, intensive care unit; N/A, not applicable.

Expert Panel Report 3: Guidelines for the Diagnosis and Management of Asthma - Full Report 2007 U. S. Department of Health and Human Services, 2014-12-23 The Expert Panel Report 3 EPR 3 Full Report 2007 Guidelines for the Diagnosis and Management of Asthma was developed by an expert panel commissioned by the National Asthma Education and Prevention Program NAEPF Coordinating Committee CC coordinated by the National Heart Lung and Blood Institute NHLBI of the National Institutes of Health Using the 1997 EPR 2 guidelines and the 2002 update on selected topics as the framework the expert panel organized the literature review and updated recommendations for managing asthma long term and for managing exacerbations around four essential components of asthma care namely assessment and monitoring patient education control of factors contributing to asthma severity and pharmacologic treatment Subtopics were developed for each of these four broad categories and Puerto Rican populations The challenge remains to help all people who have asthma particularly those at high risk receive quality asthma care Advances in science have led to an increased understanding of asthma and its mechanisms as well as improved treatment approaches To help health care professionals bridge the gap between current knowledge and practice the NAEPP of the National Heart Lung and Blood Institute NHLBI has previously convened three Expert Panels to prepare guidelines for the diagnosis and management of asthma The NAEPP Coordinating Committee CC under the leadership of Claude Lenfant M D Director of the NHLBI convened the first Expert Panel in 1989 The charge to that Panel was to develop a report that would provide a general approach to diagnosing and managing asthma based on current science Published in 1991 the Expert Panel Report Guidelines for the Diagnosis and Management of Asthma EPR 1991 organized the recommendations for the treatment of asthma around four components of effective asthma management Use of objective measures of lung function to assess the severity of asthma and to monitor the course of therapy Environmental control measures to avoid or eliminate factors that precipitate asthma symptoms or exacerbations Patient education that fosters a partnership among the patient his or her family and clinicians Comprehensive pharmacologic therapy for long term management designed to reverse and prevent the airway inflammation characteristic of asthma as well as pharmacologic therapy to manage asthma exacerbations The NAEPP recognizes that the value of clinical practice guidelines lies in their presentation of the best and most current evidence available This report presents recommendations for the diagnosis and management of asthma that will help clinicians and patients make appropriate decisions about asthma care Expert Panel Report 3 ,1997 Expert Panel Report 3 National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute.
