Harcourt Science: Life science, [grade] 4, units A and B, teacher's ed, 2000 Harcourt Science: Physical science [grade] 6, units E and F, teacher's ed, 2000 Outrageous Animal Adaptations Michael J. Rosen, 2018-01-01 A fish that walks on land a frog that makes its own sunscreen and an insect that can become invisible Whether to avoid predators to stalk prey or to withstand extreme temperatures Earth's creatures have evolved some outrageous features and tricks to ensure survival For example did you know that the geoduck nope it's not a duck it's a clam can live as long as 160 years And that the aye aye a nocturnal primate uses echolocation and a long spindly finger to find and dig up food Or that in its deep ocean habitat the vampire squid uses bioluminescence to startle predators These are among the many animals that show evolution and adaptation at work Harcourt Science: Life science, units A and B, 2002 Adaptation and Human Behavior Napoleon Chagnon, 2017-09-08 This volume presents state of the art empirical studies working in a paradigm that has become known as human behavioral ecology The emergence of this approach in anthropology was marked by publication by Aldine in 1979 of an earlier collection of studies edited by Chagnon and Irons entitled Evolutionary Biology and Human Social Behavior An Anthropological Perspective During the two decades that have passed since then this innovative approach has matured and expanded into new areas that are explored here The book opens with an introductory chapter by Chagnon and Irons tracing the origins of human behavioral ecology and its subsequent development Subsequent chapters written by both younger scholars and established researchers cover a wide range of societies and topics organized into six sections The first section includes two chapters that provide historical background on the development of human behavioral ecology and compare it to two complementary approaches in the study of evolution and human behavior evolutionary psychology and dual inheritance theory The second section includes five studies of mating efforts in a variety of societies from South America and Africa The third section covers parenting with five studies on societies from Africa Asia and North America The fourth section breaks somewhat with the tradition in human behavioral ecology by focusing on one particularly problematic issue the demographic transition using data from Europe North America and Asia The fifth section includes studies of cooperation and helping behaviors using data from societies in Micronesia and South America The sixth and final section consists of a single chapter that places the volume in a broader critical and comparative context The contributions to this volume demonstrate with a high degree of theoretical and methodological sophistication the maturity and freshness of this new paradigm in the study of human behavior The volume will be of interest to anthropologists and other professions working on the study of cross cultural human behavior *Catalog of Copyright Entries.
