9 marker:

A trade union is a group of employees whose joint purpose is to maintain and improve their conditions of employment. One of the major objective goals of trade unions is to ensure employees are being paid fairly given the demands of the job and market conditions. Trade unions can take several means to achieve higher pay for its members such as going on strike and leading protests against unfair pay, taking legal action against respective regulatory bodies and taking their case to the media for enhanced publicity.

The actions of the trade union would have the impact shown above in the diagram whereby the wage pushed for by the trade union is above the market equilibrium wage of w^* . In the context of the case study, w^* would be the minimum wage of £8.21 and w_{TU} would be £10.75. The power of trade unions in achieving higher wages must not be underestimated and as mentioned in the case study, since 2014, has organised at more than 20 workplaces and won improved contracts, wage rises and sick for employers including the Daily Mail.

15 marker:

Market failure occurs when the allocation of goods and services by the free market is not efficient, leading to a misallocation of resources.

Capacity Mechanisms in the EU Energy Market Leigh Hancher, Adrien de Hauteclouque, Malgorzata Sadowska, 2015-09-24 Ensuring an adequate long term energy supply is a paramount concern in Europe EU member states now intervene by encouraging investment in generation capacity offering an additional revenue stream for conventional power plants in addition to the existing heavily subsidised investments in renewable energy sources These capacity remuneration mechanisms or simply capacity mechanisms have become a hot topic in the wider European regulatory debate European electricity markets are increasingly interconnected so the introduction of a capacity mechanism in one country not only distorts its national market but may have unforeseeable consequences for neighbouring electricity markets If these mechanisms are adopted by several member states with no supra national coordination and no consideration for their cross border impact they may cause serious market distortions and put the future of the European internal electricity market at risk This book provides readers with an in depth analysis of capacity mechanisms written by an expert team of policy makers economists and legal professionals It will be a first point of reference for regulators and policy makers responsible for designing optimal capacity mechanisms in Europe and will be an invaluable resource for academics and practitioners in the fields of energy regulation and competition Environment, Energy and Applied Technology Wen-Pei Sung, Jimmy C.M. Kao, 2015-01-29 This proceedings volume brings together selected peer reviewed papers presented at the 2014 International Conference on Frontier of Energy and Environment Engineering Topics covered include energy efficiency and energy management energy exploration and exploitation power generation technologies water pollution and protection air pollution and Law and Corporate Behaviour Christopher Hodges, 2015-10-22 This book examines the theories and practice of how to control corporate behaviour through legal techniques The principal theories examined are deterrence economic rational acting responsive regulation and the findings of behavioural psychology Leading examples of the various approaches are given in order to illustrate the models private enforcement of law through litigation in the USA public enforcement of competition law by the European Commission and the recent reform of policies on public enforcement of regulatory law in the United Kingdom Noting that behavioural psychology has as yet had only limited application in legal and regulatory theory the book then analyses various European regulatory structures where behavioural techniques can be seen or could be applied Sectors examined include financial services civil aviation pharmaceuticals and workplace health safety Key findings are that enforcement has to focus on identifying the causes of non compliance so as to be able to support improved performance rather than be based on fear motivating complete compliance Systems in which reporting is essential for safety only function with a no blame culture The book concludes by proposing an holistic model for maximising compliance within large organisations combining public regulatory and criminal controls with internal corporate systems and external influences by stakeholders held together by a unified core of ethical principles Hence the book proposes a new theory of ethical regulation This title is included in Bloomsbury Professional's International Arbitration online service All That Is Solid Danny Dorling, 2014-02-19 Housing was at the heart of the financial collapse and our economy is now precariously reliant on the housing market In this groundbreaking new book Danny Dorling argues that housing is the defining issue of our times Tracing how we got to our current crisis and how housing has come to reflect class and wealth in Britain All That Is Solid radically shows that the solution to our problems rising homelessness a generation priced out of home ownership is not as is widely assumed building more homes Inequality he argues is what we really need to overcome A-CSEAR 2015-Proceedings of the 14th Australasian Centre on Social and Environmental Accounting Research Conference Dr James Hazelton and Dr John Dumay, 2015-11-13 The 14th Australasian Centre on Social and Environmental Accounting Research Conference A CSEAR 2015 is being held on 10 11 December 2015 at Macquarie University Sydney

Land, Assets, and Livelihoods Savath, Vivien, Fletschner, Diana, Peterman, Amber, Santos, Florence, Using data collected from the evaluation of two government land titling interventions in the Indian state of Odisha this paper examines key relationships linking land and livelihood strategies The investigation is one of the first to explicitly use the Gender Agriculture and Assets Project framework to gain additional insights on how gender asset dynamics relate to household livelihood strategies

Agricultural Cooperative Management and Policy Constantin Zopounidis, Nikos Kalogeras, Konstadinos Mattas, Gert van Dijk, George Baourakis, 2014-06-05 This book focuses on the use of farm level micro and macro data of cooperative systems and networks in developing new robust reliable and coherent modeling tools for agricultural and environmental policy analysis The efficacy of public intervention on agriculture is largely determined by the existence of reliable information on the effects of policy options and market developments on farmers production decisions and in particular on key issues such as levels of agricultural and non agricultural output land use and incomes use of natural resources sustainable centric management structural change and the viability of family farms Over the last years several methods and analytical tools have been developed for policy analysis using various sets of data Such methods have been based on integrated approaches in an effort to investigate the above key issues and have thus attempted to offer a powerful environment for decision making particularly in an era of radical change for both agriculture and the wider economy Our Energy Future Don E. Albrecht, 2014-07-25 Rapid changes in energy production and consumption are having major socioeconomic implications for the communities of rural America Technological developments in horizontal drilling hydraulic fracturing fracking nuclear energy biofuels wind and solar energy have significantly increased domestic energy production and the production of energy from renewable sources has encouraged energy efficiency Yet severe concerns persist and policy decisions on energy issues will have profound implications for all Americans and rural communities where consequences are experienced most directly Thus the time is appropriate for a careful exploration of the socioeconomic implications of our energy future The purpose of this book is to present timely and scientifically sound information on energy policy socioeconomic aspects of energy production and consumption with a focus on rural areas The book presents the latest research by top scholars with the goal of clarifying options and providing the basis for informed policy decisions An

"Algorithmic Links with Probabilities" Concordance for Trademarks For Disaggregated Analysis of Trademark and Economic Data World Intellectual Property Organization, Travis J. Lybbert, Nikolas Zolas, Prantik Bhattacharyya, 2014 The authors propose an Algorithmic Links with Probabilities ALP approach to match Trademarks TMs data to economic data and enable these data to speak to each other Specifically they construct a NICE Class Level concordance that maps TM data into trade and industry categories forward and backward This concordance allows researchers to analyze differences in TM usage across both economic and TM sectors In this paper the authors apply this ALP concordance for TMs to characterize patterns in TM applications across countries industries income levels and more They also use the concordance to investigate some of the key determinants of international technology transfer by comparing bilateral TM applications and bilateral patent applications Does Regulation Kill Jobs? Cary Coglianese, Adam M. Finkel, Christopher Carrigan, 2014-01-06 As millions of Americans struggle to find work in the wake of the Great Recession politicians from both parties look to regulation in search of an economic cure Some claim that burdensome regulations undermine private sector competitiveness and job growth while others argue that tough new regulations actually create jobs at the same time that they provide other benefits Does Regulation Kill Jobs reveals the complex reality of regulation that supports neither partisan view Leading legal scholars economists political scientists and policy analysts show that individual regulations can at times induce employment shifts across firms sectors and regions but regulation overall is neither a prime job killer nor a key job creator The challenge for policymakers is to look carefully at individual regulatory proposals to discern any job shifting they may cause and then to make regulatory decisions sensitive to anticipated employment effects Drawing on their analyses contributors recommend methods for obtaining better estimates of job impacts when evaluating regulatory costs and benefits They also assess possible ways of reforming regulatory institutions and processes to take better account of employment effects in policy decision making

Does Regulation Kill Jobs tackles what has become a heated partisan issue with exactly the kind of careful analysis policymakers need in order to make better policy decisions providing insights that will benefit both politicians and citizens who seek economic growth as well as the protection of public health and safety financial security environmental sustainability and other civic goals Contributors Matthew D Adler Joseph E Aldy Christopher Carrigan Cary Coglianese E Donald Elliott Rolf F re Ann Ferris Adam M Finkel Wayne B Gray Shawna Grosskopf Michael A Livermore Brian F Mannix Jonathan S Masur Al McGartland Richard Morgenstern Carl A Pasurka Jr William A Pizer Eric A Posner Lisa A Robinson Jason A Schwartz Ronald J Shadbegian Stuart Shapiro

Imposing Standards Martin Hearson, 2021-06-15 In Imposing Standards Martin Hearson shifts the focus of political rhetoric regarding international tax rules from tax havens and the Global North to the damaging impact of this regime on the Global South Even when not exploited by tax dodgers international tax standards place severe limits on the ability of developing countries to tax businesses denying the Global South access to much needed revenue The international rules that allow tax avoidance by multinational corporations have dominated political debate about international tax in the United States and Europe especially since the global financial crisis of 2007 2008 Hearson asks how developing countries willingly gave up their right to tax foreign companies charting their assimilation into an OECD led regime from the days of early independence to the present day Based on interviews with treaty negotiators policymakers and lobbyists as well as observation at intergovernmental meetings archival research and fieldwork in Africa and Asia Imposing Standards shows that capacity constraints and imperfect negotiation strategies in developing countries were exploited by capital exporting states shielding multinationals from taxation and depriving nations in the Global South of revenue they both need and deserve Thanks to generous funding from the Gates Foundation the ebook editions of this book are available as Open Access volumes from Cornell Open cornellpress.cornell.edu/cornell-open and other repositories
