Makerere University Postgraduate Admissions 2015 2016:

Postgraduate Research Engagement in Low Resource Settings Atibuni, Dennis Zami, 2019-09-27 The general academic progression and particularly research engagement of postgraduate students is characterized by various problems such as high dropout rates longer completion times low graduation rates and high repetition or retake rates This means that there are far fewer students pursuing postgraduate studies at tertiary institutions and universities than there are at the lower levels of education Yet there is growing demand for postgraduate education given its strong projected association with socioeconomic transformation at national and international levels among developed and developing countries alike Postgraduate Research Engagement in Low Resource Settings sets out to garner strategies for fostering efficiency of research conduct among the students and faculty so as to enhance high quality output for the envisaged personal societal national and international socioeconomic transformation Covering a range of topics such as intellectual property mental health and quality assurance this book is ideal for research supervisors higher education faculty librarians educators administrators researchers academicians and students Supporting Entrepreneurship and Innovation Janet Crum, Samantha Schmehl Hines, 2019-04-29 Libraries have recently begun doing more to support entrepreneurship and innovation within their communities This volume explores how this has come about looking at libraries from across North America Europe and Africa and helps position readers to better understand what is happening and how this can be brought to further institutions Intra-Africa Student Mobility in Higher Education Chika Trevor Sehoole, Jenny J. Lee, 2022-01-01 This book examines student mobility within Africa International student mobility is among the central activities of higher education internationalization As the number of international students increase so do the destinations in both number and geographic diversity Historically international student mobility has followed South North and North North patterns However recent literature show the growth in North South and South South patterns of student mobility There has also been a rise in regional mobility In what is referred to in the book as intra Africa mobility the books explores and analyzes the patterns of intra Africa mobility based on seven African countries South Africa Kenya Uganda Nigeria Ghana Senegal and Egypt The editors and contributors address three central research questions Why did the students choose the country they are studying in Why did they choose the institution they are studying in What are their academic and social experiences in these countries and their respective institutions This book is the first comprehensive exploration of intra Africa student mobility in a field that traditionally centers on the Global North Research Universities in Africa Cloete, Nico, Bunting, Ian, 2018-11-09 From the early 2000s a new discourse emerged in Africa and the international donor community that higher education was important for development in Africa Within this zeitgeist of converging interests a range of agencies agreed that a different collaborative approach to linking higher education to development was necessary This led to the establishment of the Higher Education Research and Advocacy Network in Africa Herana to concentrate on research and advocacy about the possible role and contribution of universities to development in Africa This book is the final publication to emerge from the Herana project The project has also published more than 100 articles chapters reports manuals and datasets and many presentations have been delivered to share insights gained from the work done by Herana Given its prolific dissemination it seems reasonable to ask whether this fourth and final publication will offer the reader anything new This book is certainly different from previous publications in several respects First it is the only book to include an analysis of eight African universities based on the full 15 years of empirical data collected by the project Second previous books and reports were published mid project This book has benefited from an extended gestation period allowing the authors and contributors to reflect on the project without the distractions associated with managing and participating in a large scale project For the first time some of those who have been involved in Herana since its inception have had the opportunity to at least make an attempt to see part of the wood for the trees Different does not necessarily mean new An emphasis on the newness of the data and perspectives presented in this book is important because it shows that it is more than a historical record of a donor funded project Rather each chapter in this book brings to a lesser or greater extent something new to our understanding of universities research and development in Africa

History Education in Africa Gideon Boadu,Charles Adabo Oppong,2024-07-12 This collection brings together African scholars in Africa and the diaspora to contribute to scholarly debates about critical issues in history teaching and learning in African schools The book contributes to filling the gap in knowledge on African history associated pedagogies and practices and its consequent effects on research and the declining popularity of history in African Schools Specifically the volume a examines current trends and practices in history education in African schools b unveils the challenges and subtleties of teaching the next generation of teachers and students and c examines classroom practices and opportunities for engagement with historical concepts in African schools The book adds a much needed African voice to the international history education literature and contribute to strengthening the place of history teaching and learning in Africa North-South Knowledge Networks Towards Equitable Collaboration Between Tor Halvorsen, Jorun Nossun, 2017-02-23 Since the 1990s internationalisation has become key for institutions wishing to secure funding for higher education and research For the academic community this strategic shift has had many consequences Priorities have changed and been influenced by new ways of thinking about universities and of measuring their impact in relation to each other and to their social goals Debates are ongoing and hotly contested In this collection a mix of renowned academics and newer voices reflect on some of the realities of international research partnerships They both question and highlight the agency of academics donors and research institutions in the geopolitics of knowledge and power The contributors offer fresh insights on institutional transformation the setting of research agendas and access to research funding while highlighting the dilemmas researchers face when their institutions are vulnerable to state and donor influence Offering a range of perspectives on why academics should collaborate and what for this book will be useful to anyone interested in how scholars are adapting to the realities of international networking and how research institutions are finding innovative ways to make NorthSouth partnerships and collaborations increasingly fair sustainable and mutually beneficial

Democracy and the Discourse on Relevance Within the Academic Profession at Makerere University Kronstad Felde, Tor Halvorsen, 2021-09-20 Democracy and the Discourse on Relevance Within the Academic Profession at Makerere University is set against the backdrop of the spread of neoliberal ideas and reforms since the 1980s While accepting that these ideas are rooted in a longer history the authors reveal how neoliberalism has transformed the university sector and the academic profession In particular they focus on how understandings of what knowledge is relevant and how this is decided have changed Taken as a whole reforms have sought to reorient universities and academics towards economic development in various ways Shifts in how institutions and academics achieve recognition and status combined with the flow of public funds away from the universities and the increasing privatisation of educational services are steadily downgrading the value of public higher education As research universities adopt user and market oriented operating models and prioritise the demands of the corporate sector in their research agendas the sale of intellectual property is increasingly becoming a primary criterion for determining the relevance of academic knowledge All these changes have largely succeeded in transforming the discourse around the role of the academic profession in society In this context Makerere University in Uganda has been lauded as having successfully achieved transformation However far from highlighting the allegedly positive outcomes of this reform this book provides worrying insights into the dissolution of Ugandas academic culture Drawing on interviews with over ninety academics at Makerere University from deans to doctoral students the authors provide first hand accounts of the pressures and problems the reforms have created Disempowered overworked and under resourced many academics are forced to take on consultancy work to make ends meet The evidence presented here stands in stark contrast to the successes claimed by the university However as the authors also show local resistance to the neoliberal model is rising as academics begin to collaborate to regain control over what knowledge is considered relevant and wrestle with deepening democracy The authors careful expos of how neoliberalism devalues academic knowledge and the urgency of countering this trend makes Democracy and the Discourse on Relevance Within the Academic Profession at Makerere University highly relevant for anyone working in higher education or involved in shaping policy for this sector Voyages in Postcolonial

African Theatre Practice Charles Nwadigwe, Keneth Bamuturaki, 2024-03-25 Voyages in Postcolonial African Theatre Practice goes beyond the predictable academic discursive trips on postcolonial drama and theatre practice In 14 unique but interrelated essays this volume dissects the critical issues that envelop the practice of theatre in postcolonial Africa and the African Diaspora and how practitioners engage with the trends which arise The volume departs from the conventional theoretical constructs of humanistic studies and focuses on concrete realities that interface and interfere with the professional practice of African theatre a creative industry confined by the historical and dialectical motifs of the colonial experience Topics such as secondary adaptations theatre training and pedagogy censorship and performance politics applied theatre cultural policy and tourism scenography festivals and oral tradition dance internationalisation popular music text and the African film reflect the broad coverage and diversity of this volume on African postcolonial theatre practices from text to performance planning to production Handbook of Research on Advocacy, Promotion, and Public Programming for
