God Revised Galen Guengerich, 2013-05-28 Over the past few decades the ever expanding scientific knowledge of the universe and the human condition combined with the evolution from religion based to personal morality has led to a mass crisis of faith Leaders of most Protestant and Catholic religious traditions which include nearly 80 percent of Americans have watched their memberships stagnate or dwindle Over the years philosophers and scientists have argued that science has in fact killed God and that if we believe the facts science has presented we must also accept that God is fiction Others holding fast to their long standing doctrines attempt to justify their beliefs by using God to explain gaps in scientific knowledge Having left an upbringing in a family of Mennonite preachers to discover his own experience of God Galen Guengerich understands the modern American struggle to combine modern world views with outdated religious dogma Drawing upon his own experiences he proposes that just as humanity has had to evolve its conception of the universe to coincide with new scientific discoveries we are long overdue in evolving our concept of God Gone are the days of the magical supernatural deity in the sky who visits wrath upon those who have not followed his word Especially in a scientific age we need an experience of a God we can believe in an experience that grounds our morality unites us in community and engages us with a world that still holds more mystery than answers

René Girard and Creative Reconciliation Vern Neufeld Redekop, Thomas Ryba, 2014-01-09 The contribution of this book to the field of reconciliation is both theoretical and practical recognizing that good theory guides effective practice and practice is the ground for compelling theory Using a Girardian hermeneutic as a starting point a new conceptual Gestalt emerges in these essays one not fully integrated in a formal way but showing a clear understanding of some of the challenges and possibilities for dealing with the deep divisions enmity hatred and other effects of violence By situating discourse about reconciliation within the context of Girardian thought it becomes clear that like Peter who vowed he would never deny Jesus but ended up doing it three times any of us is susceptible to the siren call of angry resentment and retaliation It is with a profound awareness of the power of violence that the emergence of mimetic discourse around reconciliation takes on particular urgency

The Walther League Messenger ,1926 Opening a chestnut burr Edward Payson Roe,1896 Knowledge and Christian Belief Alvin Plantinga,2015-04-13 In his widely praised Warranted Christian Belief Oxford 2000 Alvin Plantinga discussed in great depth the question of the rationality or sensibility of Christian belief In this book Plantinga presents the same ideas in a briefer much more accessible fashion Recognized worldwide as a leading Christian philosopher Plantinga probes what exactly is meant by the claim that religious and specifically Christian belief is irrational and cannot sensibly be held He argues that the criticisms of such well known atheists as Richard Dawkins Daniel Dennett Sam Harris and Christopher Hitchens are completely wrong Finally Plantinga addresses several potential defeaters to Christian belief pluralism science evil and suffering and shows how they fail to successfully defeat rational Christian belief

Christian Standard ,1906 English Poetry from Chaucer to Milton Sanjay Kumar,2025-02-17 The book is structured to guide students through each poem with a detailed approach that covers essential aspects of poetry analysis Every chapter is organized to facilitate deeper insights into the poem by addressing the following core elements Title and Poet Theme and Subject Matter Structure and Form Rhyme and Meter Language and Diction Literary Devices Tone and Mood Symbolism and Allegory Personal Response Contextual

Analysis and Overall Impact This comprehensive methodology ensures that students not only grasp the technical features of the poem but also appreciate its broader literary and historical significance. The journey begins with Geoffrey Chaucer's The Canterbury Tales, an unparalleled work of medieval literature that provides a vivid snapshot of 14th-century English society. Through Chaucer's General Prologue and the character-driven narratives like the Wife of Bath's Tale, students will explore complex themes such as class, gender, and morality. Chaucer's use of vivid characterization, irony, and humor offers a unique window into the medieval mindset and will challenge students to engage critically with its social implications. Next, the book delves into Edmund Spenser's The Faerie Queene, Book I, a Renaissance epic that combines chivalric romance with profound allegorical meaning. Spenser's exploration of virtue, justice, and the moral conflicts faced by his characters invites readers to reflect on the complex interplay between personal duty and national identity while offering a rich canvas for analysis of meter, rhyme, and symbolic imagery. The collection of poems in this book further includes a variety of works from the Metaphysical poets, such as John Donne's The Good Morrow and The Canonization, whose intellectual and emotional depth will prompt students to consider the relationship between love, spirituality, and philosophy. Donne's bold use of conceits, paradoxes, and metaphysical wit challenges conventional poetic forms and provides a fascinating entry point for the study of early modern verse. As the book progresses, works by poets such as Andrew Marvell's To His Coy Mistress and George Herbert's The Collar will engage with themes of love, time, mortality, and the tension between earthly and divine pursuits. The lyrical beauty of these poems, coupled with their intellectual vigor, invites students to reflect on the inner conflicts and human desires expressed within.
