A Practice of Ethics for Global Politics Jack L. Amoureux, 2015-10-05 What kind of ethics in world politics is possible if there is no foundation for moral knowledge or global reality is at least complex and contingent Furthermore how can an ethics grapple with difference a persistent and confounding feature for global politics This book responds to the call for a bold and creative approach to ethics that avoids assuming or aspiring to universality and instead prioritizes difference complexity and uncertainty by turning to reflexivity not as method or methodology but as a practice of ethics for politics This practice ethical reflexivity offers individuals organizations and communities tools to recognize interrogate and potentially change the stories they tell about politics about constraints notions of responsibility and visions of desirability The benefits and limits of ethical reflexivity are investigated by the author who engages writing on critique rhetoric affect and relationality and carefully considers dominant and alternative framings of difficult issues in International Relations IR the 1994 genocide in Rwanda and the US policies of enhanced interrogation and drone strikes This path breaking study provokes new possibilities for agency and action and contributes to a growing literature in IR on reflexivity by uniquely elaborating its promise as an ethics for politics and by drawing on thinkers less utilized in discussions of reflexivity such as Hannah Arendt Michel Foucault and Aristotle This book will appeal to scholars and upper level graduates in several sub fields of IR including international global ethics IR theory global governance international organizations non governmental organizations foreign policy analysis and US foreign policy

Holistic Flexibility for Systems Thinking and Practice Rajneesh Chowdhury, 2024-06-14 This book explores how the conceptual lens of Holistic Flexibility presents new advancements in systems thinking Systems thinking is often associated with frameworks and methodologies that often confine the discipline to academic circles in operations research and management science OR MS Holistic Flexibility for Systems Thinking and Practice challenges this status quo and talks about systems thinking as a state of mind giving it a cognitive character The book presents both theoretical deliberations and practitioner cases of Holistic Flexibility The development of systems thinking in OR MS is described leading to the latest debates on the subject and the key pillars of Holistic Flexibility are discussed in detail A range of case studies are presented that offer a firsthand experience of Holistic Flexibility in practice Learnings are drawn to highlight the importance of a spiritual approach in management an understanding which is used to further develop the conceptual lens of Holistic Flexibility since it was first introduced This book presents a range of competencies required for systems practitioners to address and respond to complex situations in an interconnected world A bold attempt to pragmatize systems thinking and systems practice the ideas presented in this book weave a thread between the development of the discipline current debates and what lies ahead It will be highly beneficial for OR MS researchers and graduate students who are interested in systems thinking as well as researchers interested in connecting modern management thinking and Eastern mysticism Using

A History of Scientific Journals Aileen Fyfe, Noah Moxham, Julie McDougall-Waters, Camilla Mørk Røstvik, 2022-10-03 Modern scientific research has changed so much since Isaac Newton's day it is more professional collaborative and international with more complicated equipment and a more diverse community of researchers Yet the use of scientific journals to report share and store results is a thread that runs through the history of science from Newton's day to ours. Scientific journals are now central to academic research and careers. Their editorial and peer review processes act as a check on new claims and findings and researchers build their careers on the list of journal articles they have published. The journal that reported Newton's optical experiments still exists. First published in 1665 and now fully digital, the Philosophical Transactions has carried papers by Charles Darwin, Dorothy Hodgkin and Stephen Hawking. It is now one of eleven journals published by the Royal Society of London. Unrivalled insights from the Royal Society's comprehensive archives have enabled the authors to investigate more than 350 years of scientific journal publishing. The editorial management, business practices and financial difficulties of the Philosophical Transactions and its sibling Proceedings reveal the meaning and purpose of journals in a changing scientific community. At a time when we are surrounded by calls to reform the academic publishing system, it has never been more urgent that we understand its history.
