ICES Zooplankton Methodology Manual Roger Harris, Peter Wiebe, Jurgen Lenz, Hein-Rune Skjoldal, Mark Huntley, 2000-02-14 The term zooplankton describes the community of floating often microscopic animals that inhabit aquatic environments. Being near the base of the food chain they serve as food for larger animals such as fish. The ICES International Council for the Exploration of the Sea Zooplankton Methodology Manual provides comprehensive coverage of modern techniques in zooplankton ecology written by a group of international experts. Chapters include sampling acoustic and optical methods, estimation of feeding, growth, reproduction and metabolism, and up to date treatment of population genetics and modeling. This book will be a key reference work for marine scientists throughout the world. Sampling and experimental design. Collecting zooplankton. Techniques for assessing biomass and abundance. Protozooplankton enumeration and biomass estimation. New optical and acoustic techniques for estimating zooplankton biomass and abundance. Methods for measuring zooplankton feeding, growth, reproduction and metabolism. Population genetic analysis of zooplankton. Modelling zooplankton dynamics. This unique and comprehensive reference work will be essential reading for marine and freshwater research scientists and graduates entering the field. Proceedings of the First Technical Seminar on Marine Fishery Resources Survey in the South China Sea, Area I: Gulf of Thailand and Peninsular Malaysia, 24-26 November 1997, Bangkok, Thailand, 1999. This was the first effort to standardize methods for inland fish sampling across North America and as such was a joint effort contributed to by a large group of talented and dedicated individuals in addition to the authors and coeditors. While these sampling methods were primarily developed for North America, most could be used with little or no modification in other areas of the world. Those involved with standard sampling efforts in North America would welcome the opportunity to collaborate with scientists from other regions to develop methods to share data worldwide.
