Handbook On Building Cultures For Peace:

Handbook on Building Cultures of Peace Joseph de Rivera, 2008-11-28 Mediation and negotiation personal transformation non violent struggle in the community and the world these behaviors and their underlying values underpin the United Nations definition of a culture of peace and are crucial to the creation of such a culture The Handbook on Building Cultures of Peace addresses this complex and daunting task by presenting an accessible blueprint for this development Its perspectives are international and interdisciplinary involving the developing as well as the developed world with illustrations of states and citizens using peace based values to create progress on the individual community national and global levels The result is both realistic and visionary a prescription for a secure future

Handbook on Building Cultures of Peace Joseph De Rivera, 2011-03-21 Forming a Culture of Peace K. Korostelina, 2012-05-07 This book challenges the discourses narrative frames and systems of beliefs that support and promote violence and conflict it defines new comprehensive approaches to human security as preventative and empowering to individuals and it provides conceptual frameworks and methodological tools for enhancing the processes of communicating peace Building Cultures of Peace Randall Amster, Elavie Ndura-Ouédraogo, 2020-07-13 From violence and abuse within family units to communities and regions torn apart by inter group conflict and wars among nations the human condition is rife with turmoil The consequences of this seemingly perpetual strife weigh heavily on humanity often creating feelings of powerlessness and hopelessness that only serve to breed more conflict and violence In the face of these monumental challenges initiatives for peace struggle to take root Seeking effective ways to encourage these efforts the United Nations adopted three declarations on the eve of the 21st century including the Declaration on a Culture of Peace that broadly defines what the vision looks like and the actions necessary to build cultures of peace Taking up this central challenge of our time this volume of collected essays presents multiple perspectives on the critical issues of peace and conflict resolution that pervade the globe addressing the UN s charge to develop values attitudes modes of behavior and ways of life conducive to the promotion of peace among individuals groups and nations Bringing together scholars and practitioners from fields including education sociology criminology political science and peace studies this work constructively engages the task of creating peace and fostering hope in a conflict ridden world

The Oxford Handbook of Intergroup Conflict Linda Tropp, 2012-07-26 With insightful chapters from key social psychologists and peace scholars this handbook offers an integrative and extensive overview of critical questions issues processes and strategies relevant to understanding and addressing intergroup conflict Why Humans Fight Siniša Malešević, 2022-10-06 Malešević offers a novel sociological answer to the age old question Why do humans fight Instead of focusing on the motivations of solitary individuals he emphasises the centrality of the social and historical contexts that make fighting possible He argues that fighting is not an individual attribute but a social phenomenon shaped by one s relationships with other people Drawing on recent scholarship across a variety of academic disciplines as well as his own interviews with the former combatants Male evi shows that one's willingness to fight is a contextual phenomenon shaped by specific ideological and organisational logic This book explores the role biology psychology economics ideology and coercion play in one's experience of fighting emphasising the cultural and historical variability of combativeness By drawing from numerous historical and contemporary examples from all over the world Male evi demonstrates how social pugnacity is a relational and contextual phenomenon that possesses autonomous features The Ashgate Research Companion to Non-State Actors Bob Reinalda,2016-03-23 How do non state actors matter in international relations This volume recognizes three types of non state actor non governmental organizations NGOs intergovernmental organizations IGOs and transnational corporations It illustrates how they play roles alongside nation states and are interrelated in matters of international regulation and coordination After an introductory part on current qualitative and quantitative sources this comprehensive collection of state of the art essays is comprised of four main thematic parts Part II examines actors other than governments such as transnational religious actors business representatives and experts and also parliamentarians and agencies set up by IGOs Part III studies the perceptions and understandings in political philosophy international law and international relations theory It questions concepts used civil society NGO governance and covers the limitations to be kept in mind Part IV analyses the nature and impact of non state actors Chapters discuss processes within international bureaucracies diplomacy dynamism bureaucratic power contribution to democracy and the quintessence of deliberation and decision making within NGOs and IGOs and of implementation accountability and dispute settlement Part V studies specific worlds of non state actors humanitarian aid human rights security the North South divide health trade and environment Accessible and articulately written The Ashgate Research Companion to Non State Actors is aimed at a wide readership of scholars and practitioners in international relations Intergroup Conflicts and Their Resolution Daniel Bar-Tal,2011-01-26 This book provides a framework that sheds an illuminating light into the psyche of people involved in macro level destructive intergroup conflicts involving societies and ethnic groups that take place continuously in various parts of the globe It focuses on the socio psychological repertoire that evolves in these societies or groups and which plays a determinative role in its dynamics Specifically this repertoire influences the nature of social reality about the conflict that society members construct the involvement with and mobilization of society members for the conflict the sense of solidarity and unity they experience the conformity expected from society members the pressure exerted on leaders and the direction of action taken by the leadership In addition the book describes the changes in the socio psychological repertoire that are necessary to ignite the peace process Finally it elaborates on the nature and the processes of peace building including conflict resolution and reconciliation The proposed conception assumes that although each conflict has its unique context and characteristics the socio psychological foundations and dynamics are similar It offers a holistic and comprehensive outlook on the dynamics that characterize each stage and aspect of intractable conflicts Each chapter systematically elucidates a particular part of the cycle describing the theoretical frameworks and concepts as well as presenting empirical data that was accumulated. The volume is an important contribution for all those who study intergroup conflicts and want to understand their dynamics. In addition, the book will interest the many people attempting to settle conflicts peacefully and who need knowledge about the socio-psychological vectors that influence their course and resolution.

Methodologies in Peace Psychology Diane Bretherton, Siew Fang Law, 2015-09-03. This volume looks at research methods through the lens of peace studies and peace values. Apart from reviewing established methods from peace psychology, it presents some innovative ideas for conducting research in the area of peace psychology. Many of these methods are drawn from the field from activities used by active peace practitioners. A critical component of this volume is its core argument that peace research should be conducted by peaceful means and should model peaceful processes. Organized thematically, the volume begins with a review of the established best practices in peace psychology research methodology, including methods for qualitative research, quantitative research, and participative action networks. In doing so, it also points to some of the limitations of working for peace within the tradition of a single discipline and to the need to expand psychology methodology to other methodologies. Therefore, the second half of the volume proceeds to explore the realm of innovative, relatively unorthodox research methods such as participatory and workshop methods, the creative arts, and sports for research purposes. The use of new advances in information technology to conduct peaceful research are also discussed. The concluding chapters synthesize key issues from the previous chapters and link peace psychology with ideas and implementation of research designs and practices. Finally, it discusses the nature of academic knowledge and more specifically academic knowledge in peace psychology and where that fits into the mission to build a more peaceful world. Overall, this book aims to provide peace psychologists with an array of possibilities and best practices for approaching their research. Many researchers find the experience of doing research a somewhat lonely, if not isolating, experience. Methodologies in Peace Psychology aims to alleviate this feeling as the use of these more innovative methods leads to a closer engagement with the community and a much more social experience of research. This volume is a useful tool for both new and experienced researchers because it provides leads for idealistic young researchers who want their work to make a difference, in addition to encouraging more reflection and analysis for experienced peace psychologists.

Reconciliation in Conflict-Affected Communities Bert Jenkins, D. B. Subedi, Kathy Jenkins, 2017-10-29. This book focuses on the formal and informal reconciliation processes during conflict and post-conflict periods in various locations in the Asia Pacific and includes case studies based on primary research conducted in countries such as Cambodia, Timor-Leste, Nepal, Sri Lanka, Pakistan, India, South Thailand, Bougainville, and the Solomon Islands. It offers insights to further our understanding of the social and political processes of reconciliation in a region that has witnessed numerous armed conflicts, many of them perpetuating over generations. The book also draws lessons from the richness arising from diversity in terms of religious and cultural practices, social life, and forms of government and governance and through the exploration of theories and practices of reconciliation in conflict and post conflict contexts in the region It provides useful reference material for researchers academics policy makers and students working in the areas of peacebuilding conflict transformation reconciliation social cohesion development transitional justice and human rights in the Asia and Pacific region      Collective Consciousness and Gender Alexandra Walker,2018-08-22

This book explores collective consciousness and how it is applied to the pursuit of gender justice in international law It discusses how the collective mode of behaviour and identity can lead to unconscious role playing based on the social norms expectations or archetypes of a group Alexandra Walker contends that throughout history men have been constructed as archetypal dominators and women as victims In casting women in this way we have downplayed their pre existing innate capacities for strength leadership and power In casting men as archetypal dominators we have downplayed their capacities for nurturing care and empathy The author investigates the widespread implications of this unconscious role playing arguing that even in countries in which women have many of the same legal rights as men gender justice and equality have been too simplistically framed as feminism and women s rights and that giving women the rights of men has not created gender balance This book highlights the masculine and feminine traits belonging to all individuals and calls on international law to reflect this gender continuum      Conflict Management and Intercultural Communication Xiaodong Dai,Guo-Ming

Chen,2022-11-15 Conflict management and harmony building are two key issues of intercultural communication research and merit particular attention in the globally interconnected world In the expanded second edition the book explores the effective ways to manage intercultural conflict and develop intercultural harmony and takes an interdisciplinary approach to address the two issues The book begins with the theoretical perspectives on conflict management and harmony building It examines intercultural communication ethics diversity and inclusion conflict resolution conflict face negotiation and intercultural competence It presents both Western and non Western perspectives The book then addresses in its second section conflict management and harmony building in specific contexts These include communication in intergenerational relationships multinational corporations and virtual spaces and covers a range of national cultures including the USA Japan Germany and China Drawing on the current research findings this book covers the major theoretical perspectives and provides for a wide range of discussions on intercultural conflict management It is a crucial reference for teachers students researchers and practitioners alike      Local Ownership in Asian Peacebuilding SungYong Lee,2018-09-02 This book examines how local agencies in Cambodia and Mindanao the Philippines have developed their own models of peacebuilding under the strong influence and advocacy of external intervention It identifies four distinct patterns in the development of local peacebuilders ownership ownership inheritance from external advocates management of external reliance friction avoiding approaches and utilisation of religious traditional leadership This book then analyses each pattern focusing on its operational features its significance and limitations as a local peacebuilding model This study makes theoretical contributions to the academic debates on the local turn local ownership hybrid peace and everyday peace Particularly it engages in and further develops four specific lines of discussion norm diffusions into local communities patterns of local external interaction concepts of ownership dual structure of power and multiplicity in the identities of local

SDG18 Communication for All, Volume 1 Jan Servaes, Muhammad Jameel Yusha'u, 2023-03-25 The 2030 agenda for development or what is known as the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs is the most ambitious agenda collectively agreed upon by 193 countries in human history In 2015 the UN Member States adopted the 17 SDGs as a framework that would help address the challenges being faced by humanity From eradicating poverty ending hunger providing universal access to healthcare and education and addressing climate change to the partnering of individuals communities and nation states to achieve global goals Yet the framers of the 2030 agenda forgot to dedicate one goal focused on the role of communication in achieving the SDGs It is nearly impossible to achieve the SDGs without the articulation and embrace of the role of communication in development Today development has become a communication issue and communication is a development issue How could such a vital pillar of life be missing in the UN's Sustainable Development Goals Volume 1 provides an overview of what the contributors have termed as the missing link between existing SDGs

Communication for All Teaching the Whole Student David Schoem, Christine Modey, Edward P. Sharing Territories Cara Nine, 2022-03-24 In Sharing Territories Cara Nine defends a river model of territorial rights On a river model groups are assumed to be interdependent and overlapping If we imagine human settlements and territorial rights as established in river catchment areas not on lands with walls and borders the primary features of group life are not independence and distinctness Drawing on natural law philosophy Nine s theory argues for the establishment of foundational territories around geographical areas like rivers Usually lower scale political entities foundational territories overlap with and serve as the grounding blocks of larger territorial units Examples of foundational territories include not only river catchment areas but also urban areas drawn around individuals who hold obligations to collectively manage their surroundings Foundational territorial authorities manage spatially integrated areas where agents are interconnected by dense and scaffolded physical circumstances In these areas individuals cannot fulfil their natural obligations to each other without the help of collective rules As foundational territories overlap the territories of other political units Nine frames a theory of nested and shared territorial rights and argues for insightful changes to the allocation of resource rights between political groups and individuals

Forming a Global Community Joseph de Rivera,2022-10-18 To address global problems such as pandemics warming economic inequality mass migration and widespread terrorism Joseph de Rivera argues that we must form a global community A community of eight billion humans is difficult to conceive However it can be imagined and created if we transform our understanding of who humans are and what community entails We can understand who persons are how they are motivated and how a community can be conceived in a way that offers an alternative to individualism and collectivism The mutualism that is proposed provides a moral compass for navigating the challenges that confront us and encourages specific governing structures political economies and rituals that will further the formation of a global community Based on the philosophical analysis of John Macmurray the author s argument relies on an extensive review of the current literature on self personhood emotional motivation social identity forms of community and religious and secular rituals Interdisciplinary in nature it aims to direct philosophy and the social sciences to the challenges of globalism and the creation of a global community
