Managerial Economics William F. Samuelson, Stephen G. Marks, Jay L. Zagorsky, 2025-01-09 The new edition of the best selling managerial economics textbook extensively updated to reflect current examples, data and research. Now in its tenth edition, Managerial Economics introduces the complex decision problems facing today's managers, equipping undergraduates, MBAs and executives with the economic knowledge and analytical skills required to solve these problems. Going beyond the traditional academic approach to teaching economic analysis, this comprehensive textbook favors practical examples and skills rather than theoretical treatments, illustrating how managers use various economic methods in the modern business environment. Designed to strengthen critical thinking skills, each chapter opens with a central managerial problem that challenges readers to consider and evaluate possible choices and concludes with a detailed review and analysis of the decision using the concepts introduced in the chapter. Numerous decision making examples, mini cases, end of chapter problems and real world applications reinforce students' quantitative understanding without overwhelming them with an excessive amount of mathematics. New to this Edition: New coverage of responses to the medical and economic risks posed by the Covid 19 pandemic; advances in Artificial Intelligence, AI and the disruptive impact on the PGA tour caused by the rival LIV golf tour funded by Saudi Arabia; New section on how a nationwide seller can optimally site an e-commerce distribution center; New discussion of current topics such as how Taylor Swift changed the negotiation playing field in creating and distributing the movie of her 2023 Eras Tour; New examples of actual managerial behavior and practice based on the latest economics and decision analysis research; New and updated end of chapter problems, references, discussion questions and internet links. Wiley Advantage Presents an applications based approach to managerial decision making with emphasis on real world practice. Covers a wide range of core topics including optimal decisions and pricing, demand and cost analysis, decision making under uncertainty, strategic analysis using game theory, bargaining and negotiation and international trade. Limitations of contract farming as a pro-poor strategy: The case of maize outgrower schemes in upper West Ghana Ragasa, Catherine, Lambrecht, Isabel, Kufoalor, Doreen S., 2017-03-30 The focus in this paper is on two relatively large maize based contract farming CF schemes with fixed input packages Masara and Akate and a number of smaller and more flexible CF schemes in a remote region in Ghana Upper West Results show that these schemes led to improved technology adoption and yield increases In addition a subset of maize farmers with high yield improvements due to CF participation had high gross margins However on average yields were not high enough to compensate for higher input requirements and cost of capital On average households harvest 29 30 bags 100 kg each or 2 9 3 0 metric tons of maize per hectare and the required repayment for fertilizer seed herbicide and materials provided under the average CF scheme is 21 25 bags 50 kg each per acre or 2 6 3 0 tons per hectare which leaves almost none for home consumption or for sale Despite higher yields the costs to produce 1 ton of maize under CF schemes remain high on average higher than on maize farms without CF schemes more than twice that of several countries in Africa and more than seven times higher than that of major maize exporting countries the United States Brazil and Argentina Sustainability of these CF schemes will depend on from the firms perspective minimizing the costs to run and monitor them and from the farmers perspective developing and promoting much improved varieties and technologies that
