Dynamic Strategic Analysis Sebastian Raisch, 2012-12-06 Today many business environments are characterized by frequent changes that result in a higher market dynamism and complexity. Global media industries are an up to date example of this development: a fast growth period was followed by a rapid downturn. Media companies wrote off a colossal US 120 billion from their balance sheets in 2002, mostly as a result of growth strategies failure. It seems that despite popular belief, growth or market share by itself is less than ever before a guarantor of success. Sebastian Raisch decided to analyze various strategies in order to gain a better understanding of the determinants of successful firm performance. When he decided to go on a research journey into the elements and dynamics of strategic thinking and firm performance, he brought along all the ingredients necessary for such a challenging project: he had experience gained through exhaustive consulting work, excellent knowledge of management theories, and as a result of his studies and activities as a research assistant, specific knowledge of strategic management. His research objectives were furthermore clearly defined and thanks to a meticulously planned and well organized project as well as his enthusiasm for the topic, he had ready access to an empirical field.

Limitations of contract farming as a pro-poor strategy: The case of maize outgrower schemes in upper West Ghana Ragasa, Catherine, Lambrecht, Isabel, Kufoalor, Doreen S., 2017-03-30 The focus in this paper is on two relatively large maize based contract farming (CF) schemes with fixed input packages Masara and Akate and a number of smaller and more flexible CF schemes in a remote region in Ghana Upper West. Results show that these schemes led to improved technology adoption and yield increases. In addition, a subset of maize farmers with high yield improvements due to CF participation had high gross margins. However, on average, yields were not high enough to compensate for higher input requirements and cost of capital On average households harvest 29 30 bags 100 kg each or 2 9 3 0 metric tons of maize per hectare and the required repayment for fertilizer seed herbicide and materials provided under the average CF scheme is 21 25 bags 50 kg each per acre or 2 6 3 0 tons per hectare which leaves almost none for home consumption or for sale Despite higher yields the costs to produce 1 ton of maize under CF schemes remain high on average higher than on maize farms without CF schemes more than twice that of several countries in Africa and more than seven times higher than that of major maize exporting countries the United States Brazil and Argentina Sustainability of these CF schemes will depend on from the firms perspective minimizing the costs to run and monitor them and from the farmers perspective developing and promoting much improved varieties and technologies that may lead to a jump in yields and gross margins to compensate for the high cost of credit Hitotsubashi Journal of Economics ,2010 The Journal of Economic Perspectives ,2003 This journal attempts to fill a gap between the general interest press and other academic economics journals Its articles relate to active lines of economics research economic analysis of public policy issues state of the art economic thinking and directions for future research It also aims to provide material for classroom use and to address issues relating to the economics profession
