

ACOG Screening Guidelines for At-Risk Women

Breast MRI screening is not recommended for women with an average risk for breast cancer.

Women with an estimated 20% or greater lifetime risk of breast cancer based on risk models, but who are either untested or test negative for BRCA gene mutations, may undergo “enhanced screening.”

Enhanced screening is recommended for women positive for BRCA1 and BRCA2 mutations; discuss risk reduction methods.

The Black Woman's Breast Cancer Survival Guide Cheryl D. Holloway, 2017-07-14 Breast cancer is reaching epidemic levels especially among black women. This survival guide provides tools that women, black women in particular, can use to identify and combat this all too common threat. This what you need to know guide is unique in its common sense laywoman's approach and particular relevance to women of color. Its premise is simple: ignorance and lack of education about breast cancer signs and symptoms are still all too prevalent among black women. Many women are not informed about resources available for early detection screening and are not referred for mammography screening. They may also receive significantly delayed treatment especially black women. For those reasons and more, black women with or at risk for breast cancer need an advocate who speaks for them and tells them the truth. They have that advocate in Cheryl Holloway PhD and in this book. A breast cancer survivor and cancer researcher, Dr. Holloway draws on her personal experience and research to offer something far different than the usual medical oncological works. Her book provides support, current information, and practical advice for confronting and beating the disease. The book is divided into four parts. Dealing with the Basics explains how breast cancer hits black women harder and discusses the types of breast cancer they may develop with an emphasis on the most dangerous. The second section offers practical information such as how screenings work and the meaning of various breast cancer tests. Part three describes treatments including surgery, radiation therapy, chemotherapy, hormone therapy, combined therapy, and other options. The final section describes how to stay vigilant after the cancer is gone and also discusses other forms of cancer for which black women are at risk, such as lung cancer, colon cancer, and cervical cancer.
