

Building the JavaScript Library

The first step in building the JavaScript library is to create a new file named `library.js` in the `src` directory. This file will contain the code for the library.

Next, we need to define the `Library` constructor function.

The `Library` constructor function will take a single argument, the `name` of the library.

Inside the `Library` constructor function, we will create a new object and return it.

```
function Library(name) {
  this.name = name;
  this.version = '1.0.0';
  this.description = 'A JavaScript library for building web applications';
  this.author = 'John Doe';
  this.license = 'MIT';
  this.dependencies = {
    'jquery': '1.10.2',
    'bootstrap': '3.3.7'
}
```

Next, we need to define the `init` function.

```
function init() {
  // Initialize the library
  // ...
}
```

The `init` function will be responsible for initializing the library and setting up the necessary components.

Finally, we need to define the `main` function, which will be the entry point for the library.

```
function main() { // Main function
  // ...
}
```

The `main` function will be responsible for executing the library and providing the necessary functionality.
